"GUS AND GUSSIE" — He Doesn't Feel Flattered.

THIS IS GOT TO BE KEPT AS QUIET AS POSSIBLE... IF THE AIR BOOBIC EVER GETS WIND THAT LUDY LANE IS DISAPPEARED, BIG CONTRACTS WILL BE BUSTED, THE PAPERS'LL PRINT BIG NOTORIETY...

FOR THE GOOD OF THE GRAND OLD ETHER RACKET, THIS SCANDAL MUST BE KEPT UNDER COVER... A SECRET...

AS LONG AS YOU DO SUCH A SWELL IMITATION OF HIM, THAT CAN BE PUT OVER...

IT AIN' HARD TO DO HIS ACT... THE ONLY TROUBLE IS, IF I KEEP ON IMPERSONATIN' LANE VERY LONG, AFTER HE COMES BACK, THEY'LL SAY HE'S SLIPPED...

YOU DON'T HATE YOURSELF, DO YOU?

SOMETIMES... WHEN I'M LUDY LANE, THEN I HATE MYSELF...

Another Disappearance.

WELL, I HAVE TO GO ON NOW AN' DO MY IMPERSONATING OF LUDY LANE = I WISH THAT BLOND HEADACHE WOULD SHOW UP

YOU WISH HE WOULD? CAN YOU IMAGINE HOW I FEEL?

NOW YOU WILL HEAR YOUR GOLDEN-DOMED IDOL, LUDY LANE = HE'S STANDIN' RIGHT HERE, READY TO PERFUME THE AIR FOR YOU... OKAY, LUDY OL' SWEET 'TATO... TAKE THE OZONE...

MY DEAR, DEAR FRIENDS... AS YOU KNOW, I HAVE RECENTLY HAD A SEVERE COLD, AND IF MY VOICE TONIGHT...

I THANK YOU... ONE AND ALL... AND IF YOU'LL EXCUSE ME NOW, I'LL DISAPPEAR...

Roosevelt Seen As New Democrat Head

Smith To Pass Out of Picture With Governor Roosevelt Taking Charge.

Washington.—National Democratic leaders today are looking to Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York for national political leadership, rather than to Alfred E. Smith, titular leader of the Democratic party, because of his recent presidential candidacy.

The New York World News Service learned this from unquestionable sources after Mr. Smith's visit to Washington, during which he was given a tumultuous ovation by hundreds of government employees, was seemingly somewhat shunned by the Democratic leaders here, and, himself, shunned the subject of politics.

Mr. Smith came here to consult with Secretary of the Navy Adams about the feasibility of erecting a mooring mast for dirigibles on top of the new Empire State building, which will rear itself 75 stories above the site of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel in New York.

Does Not See Hoover.

The man who lost for the presidency in the 1928 elections, passed within 30 feet of the White House office where the man who won—President Hoover—was at work, but Mr. Smith did not go in, and no invitation was forthcoming from the White House.

"I have been through that sort of thing," Mr. Smith said, explaining his failure to call on the president, invitation or no invitation. "I know what it means to have interruptions. The president is a busy man. I don't want to disrupt his schedule."

Later it was learned that Mr. Smith was waiting to receive a bid to drop in on his recent political rival, while the president was expecting Mr. Smith to call on him. In the mix-up they did not meet.

Wears Crown Derby.

There were a number of amusing incidents connected with Al Smith's brown derby, famous in the campaign days. Another was the averting of a near accident when the Smith party, riding in a navy automobile, almost ran down Senator Borah, President Hoover's staunchest supporter in the pre-election days.

The Mr. Smith, accompanied by his millionaire contractor friend, William F. Keeney, was deposited by a taxi driver in the wrong place and was forced to walk along the sidewalks and middle paths of Washington to the secretary of the navy's office, thus holding up a meeting of the president's cabinet.

Morrow Not Recognized.

Just before government employees put on the demonstration for Al Smith, Dwight W. Morrow, ambassador to Mexico, American delegate to the London disarmament conference, father-in-law of Colonel Lindbergh, senator-designate from New Jersey, passed through the same crowd without being recognized.

On the political situation, Mr. Smith had nothing to say.

"I get up early in the morning, go to the bank, (the County Trust company) attend to my building (the Empire State) and at night devote myself to literary pursuits," he said, in the office of Senator Wagner of New York, his close personal friend. The traditional Smith cigar was held at the traditional Smith angle.

Mooring Mast.

The problem of the mooring mast for the Empire State building was gone into. Rear Admiral William H. Moffett, chief of the bureau of aeronautics, was called in. Secretary Adams had to rush away to attend the Hoover cabinet meeting, for which he was late. He and Admiral Moffett, however, promised Mr. Smith full co-operation in his proposal.

"The admiral pointed out to me," Mr. Smith said, "that a dirigible heaves overboard considerable water ballast in landing. 'Now,' he added with a broad smile, 'I don't want to shower the people along Fifth avenue everytime an airship might nose up to our building.'"

The matter was left for Mr. Smith's engineers to discuss at the naval air station, Lakehurst, with the dirigible officers.

EMULATION O. HENRY TRAMP GOT RESULTS IN LESS TIME

Kansas City, Mo.—Joe Vrabel, a tramp, has no particular grievance against stock brokers and it is not of record that he has read O. Henry's books. But he was cold and hungry, so he hurled two bricks through the plate glass window in the office of Lamson Brothers & Co., brokers.

Joe's success was considerably more immediate than that of his counterpart in the O. Henry story, who tried several devices before he succeeded in being arrested. In fact, it was only a matter of minutes before Joe was locked up. He complimented the police on their promptness. In his pocket was an I. W. W. card, indicating that his dues were paid up.

"Yes, replied the man from New York; 'but in my state it is a common thing to find three full grown policemen asleep on one beat.'"

Dudley, will take notice that an action entitled as above has been commenced in the superior court of Cleveland county, North Carolina, by the plaintiff to obtain a divorce absolute from the bonds of matrimony upon statutory grounds, and the said defendant will further take notice that she is required to appear at the office of the clerk of the superior court of said county in the court house in Shelby, North Carolina, within 30 days from the date of the first publication of this notice, or within the time provided by law, and answer or demur to the complaint of the plaintiff in said action or the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in said complaint.

This the 3rd day of December, 1929.

A. M. HAMRICK, Clerk of Superior Court. J. C. Whisnant, Atty. for plaintiff.

Invitation To Northern Assembly. (From Charity and Children.)

The Presbyterian Standard of December 4 contains an article by Dr. Thornton Whaling inviting the northern general assembly to meet at Montreat in 1931. Montreat is described as "unique and unparalleled anywhere on the globe. No Presbyterian church in the world owns so wonderful assembly grounds and plant as does the southern church at Montreat." Doctor Whaling also suggests the meeting of the Southern assembly at the same time and place. Such an assembly meeting, says The Standard, "could lead to mutual acquaintance of the two churches." There is ample facilities for the entertainment of both bodies having three splendid hotels and numerous boarding houses.

KINGS MOUNTAIN WOMAN
PRAISES PEARSON'S HERB TONIC AND SYSTEM CLEANSER.

Mrs. Lillie E. Reynolds writes as follows: "For a long time I suffered dreadful with stomach trouble, and I had indigestion and I was so nervous I could hardly stand my children around me. I would have dreadful swimmy headed spells and I was in an awful run down condition and bothered lots with constipation, and I began taking PEARSON'S HERB TONIC AND SYSTEM CLEANSER, taking several bottles, and now I am doing all my work and I feel like a new woman. I heartily recommend PEARSON'S HERB TONIC to any one suffering as I did."
