At The Theaters

The Lyric is putting a fast combination vaudeville-pictures bill again this week. The stage attraction tonight is Jimmie Hill's "Broadway Follies" with twelve in the cast. It's a lively act and then some. On the screen appears a special sound production "The Wrecker," plus a one reel musical act.

The Webb is playing a picture "Untamed" starring the brightest star in Hollywood, today and tomorrow. The stellar personality is none other than Joan Crawford, who is ably supported by a fine cast including Ernest Torrence, John Miljan and Holmes Herbert. It is a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer act. It is a "Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer" act. It is a "Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer" act. It is a "Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer" act.

"Seven Keys to Baldpate," a play made famous and well known immortal by George M. Cohan, is the Monday and Tuesday bill at the Carolina, to be followed Wednesday and Thursday by "Big Time," a back stage Hollywood drama. "Seven Keys to Baldpate" stars Richard Dix, an all dialogue comedy, directed by Reginald Barker. The feature of this play is the working out of the plot, which is to say the least novel. It is one of the big pictures of the day, and everyone should see it.

Farm Agent's Column

The Live-At-Home Week

(By R. W. Shoffner, County Agent)
From the conversations that I have had with the people of Cleveland county they have freely adopted the live-at-home program for their county.

The meaning of this live-at-home program is that we encourage all of us to grow for ourselves and to supply ourselves with all the food and feedstuffs and livestock products necessary for our family and farm consumption the year round.

The idea expressed by the citizens of the county is that we adopt the program to live-at-home and to live up to what we see the need for. We must put into practice this program and really make it a success in the county, unless we do this we have not done anything to help the situation. I would like to ask for your sake, my sake and others sake to take this matter to heart. Just try and plant enough garden crops to fill our needs and can the surplus for winter use.

We had in 1928 a population of 38,600 in this county. Approximately 20 per cent of this population is living on the farms, therefore we have approximately 80 per cent of the population depending mostly on the farms for their food.

I would like to suggest a plan that might help you in growing your garden; I think if you will take your time and sit down and figure as near as possible how much food stuff your family will use in a year and then plant as near as possible to fill the requirements, figure the number of hens you should have to furnish you eggs and poultry, how many cows to furnish milk and butter, how many hogs to furnish you pork, and now many vegetables to plant. The first of each month you will find in this paper suggestions that I will furnish you for a guide as near as possible as to the kinds of vegetables and garden crops might be planted that month, and other things to do that month.

For the month of February you will find the following suggestions as to crops to plant and other things to do. 1. Turn under green manure crops or clean off weeds and prepare the ground for early planting. Be certain to prepare the soil as thoroughly, as careful preparation makes later tillage much easier.

2. If you haven't made your coldframe, make it. Coldframes are invaluable for starting certain types of plants and for hardening off plants started in hotbeds. Extra early vegetables can often be produced in the frames.

3. Hotbeds, tomatoes, peppers, eggplant.

4. Coldframe, cabbage, cauliflower, kohlrabi.

5. In open or garden, asparagus, roots, carrots, kale, parsley, horseradish, smooth peas, Irish potatoes, lettuce, onions, mustard, rape, radish, spinach, spring turnips.

6. Transplant, tomato seedlings 2 inches apart in hotbed.
