Lattimore Has County Honors In Basketball Capt. Weathers Leads Title Winners

Shelby High Unable To Stop Brilliant Cager In Final Championship Game.

Led by the dazzling floorwork and shooting of their brilliant captain, "Crickie" Weathers, the Lattimore high school cagers won the Cleveland county championship and the Rotary club here Saturday night by defeating the Shelby high cagers 29 to 14 in the final game of the county-wide tournament. In the semi-finals Friday night Lattimore defeated Polkville and Shelby defeated Belwood to send the two quintets against each other for the county crown. It was the second time the two quintets have faced each other in the championship game and it was the third contest the two fives, each having won one game. Shelby's fight Saturday night was to win the Rotary cup for the third straight time, having two championships in a row to date, but the fast play of a quint that is as good if not better than any basketball outfit Lattimore has ever produced was too much for the orange jerseys.

First Half Flashy. The first half of the contest was one of those nip and tuck scrambles which keep fans on their toes, the half ending with the score deadlocked at 12-12. But it was in the second half that the Hood basketweavers revealed a court game the superiority of which could not be questioned. An airtight defense which kept the Shelby cagers completely bottled up was inaugurated with the whistle starting the final half. The result was that Shelby scored only one field goal in the last half and failed to

Clyde Hoey To Make Address In New York City On St Patrick's Day Event There On March 17

Shelby Orator Honored By Old Irish Organization Of Metropolis. Will Accept

Clyde R. Hoey, Shelby orator former congressman and one of the South's best known lawyers and churchmen, has been tendered an outstanding honor by being invited to be one of the two chief speakers at the annual St. Patrick's Day event in New York city on March 17. The invitation to Mr. Hoey comes from the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, an Irish organization which is 147 years of age.

Addresses Notables. Mr. Hoey will speak at an annual dinner of the organization attended by several hundred outstanding New Yorkers and Americans of Irish descent. His topic will be "Our Country". Each year an outstanding orator is picked by the Irish for their big event of the year in New York, but this is the first time in many years, and perhaps the first time ever, that a man of this section of the South has been so honored. The address last year was made by Claude Bowers, New York World writer who also made the keynote speech at the Houston Democratic convention. The previous year Senator Barkley of Kentucky was the orator, and in years gone by some of America's outstanding men have been the speakers, the late President Roosevelt being among the number. The invitation, Mr. Hoey says, will be accepted.

Shelby Man Once Tried To Invent An Automobile? Did you know that one of the first attempts to perfect an automobile, or a horseless carriage, was made by a man named Bryson who lived in Shelby many years ago? He thought the old stage-coach method of travel between Shelby and the West, was too slow. In that day Shelby merchants based their business outlook on the number of chairs in a wagon when a farm family came to town. Did you know that? In buying cotton from a farmer the merchant would base his bid on the number of chairs in the wagon. Each chair meant a prospective customer for calico, shoes, snuff, and whatnot. But let "Old Times" tell you about those days in his list of "remember whens" published in "Around Our Town" today.

Shoffner Fears Fertilizer 'Cut On Cotton Crop Says Farmers Should Avoid Such Cut

Acresage Should Be Reduced Proportionately With Fertilizer, Farm Agent Says.

R. W. Shoffner, Cleveland farm agent, is of the opinion that Cleveland county farmers this year will put about the same acresage in cotton as they did last year in producing their record cotton crop, but his worry is that farmers will attempt to economize by using less fertilizer and thereby have a lower yield at higher cost than if acresage was reduced. Cutting the county fertilizer bill without cutting the cotton acresage in proportion is the wrong thing to do in the opinion of the county agent, and his view is held by many leading farmers of the county. Will Not Pay. "If we put the same number of acres in cotton as we did last year but reduce our fertilizer our yield will be cut down," Shoffner says, "and despite the fact that we will have to work just as many acres we will not make as much and will lose money in the long run. The farmer who does not buy as much fertilizer this year as he did last year should cut his cotton acresage in proportion and use just as much fertilizer to the acre as he did last year. After visiting various sections of the county the farm agent hardly believes that the total acresage devoted to cotton this year will be reduced very much over last year. The attitude taken by many farmers, he finds, is that of putting just as many acres in cotton but with the idea of not using as much fertilizer as was used last year. It is this proposal which he argues against because he does not believe it to be a sound and paying idea.
