

Around Our TOWN Shelby SIDELIGHTS

By RENN DRUM.

NOTHER LETTER comes in from an old timer who recalls incidents about Shelby in the early days. In several ways it contains the most interesting "remember whens" yet published, but the writer of the letter prefers that his name not be used—"because some of these things are too old-timey for a widower to be knowing much about.

"Yes," he writes, "I remember the eagle on the court square 40 years ago, I once saw it very near tear the pants off a drunk.

"I also remember the whipping post; I remember seeing it the day R—B— was hanged. I suppose my grandfather saw the prostitute whipped, for I remember him telling of the judge ordering the sheriff to "whip her on the outside of her clothing." While she was being whipped she bewailed the disgrace to her poor children. And when the sheriff released her, she jumped about two feet high, popped her fists and said she would whip any d—d man in the crowd.

"Remember when J. W. Lineberger, sr., had a shop near where the jail is now?

"Remember when A. R. Homesby lived where D. Osborne now lives? The folks who liked a dram called him "Santa."

"Remember Shelby's first fire-fighting apparatus? I caught a $7 watch chain on a lever, broke it in seven places and haven't had a watch chain since.

"Remember when the First National bank building was five or six steps above the ground, and the whole upstairs, about 20 rooms, had only one occupant—Jack Nance?"

"Remember when Hill Durham lived just north of the Hotel Charles? And when Jesse Jenkins lived near where Paul Webb's drug store is now?"

"Remember when the First Baptist church and Central Methodist church which stood east of the Masonic temple, looked like small country chapels? The only difference in the small buildings was the water supply.

"Remember the F. M. Jordan meeting? When the congregation made a move to go out the floor fell in.

"Remember who said 'the Baptists and dog fennel are going to take Shelby'?"

"Remember who it was said at President Cleveland's election that 'everything has gone Democratic except h— and Bolling Springs'?"

"Remember the day when Vance and Settle made a joint campaign speech in Shelby? When Settle got up to speak what woman yelled out 'Veneration!?' Very few people knew whether she meant it for praise or derision. Burt Blanton was arrested that day, but it took five of the strongest and bravest men in town to handle him.

"Remember when J. B. Fortune carried the mail to Rutherfordton in a two-horse vehicle and carried passengers at $2 each? His 'ad' was 'Ho, For the West!'

"Remember the road engine Bryson tried to perfect so that Fortune could dispense with his horses? It remained for a long time where the Southern railway is now. What would Bryson have said if one of the big modern buses had driven up by the side of his machine?"

"Remember when Jim Alexander and others would buy beef from some farmer and early in the morning would begin blowing a five-foot bugle to let the townspeople know they had fresh beef for sale?"

"Remember when all the cotton was hauled to Shelby in sheets and the farmer would take a sample and walk around to the stores and have the merchants of the town to bid on it? In some cases the merchant would say 'Don't close out until you see me again,' then he would send one of his clerks to see how many chairs were sticking up around the edge of the wagon. If there were five or six chairs he would bid up on the cotton as he felt he would get to sell a big lot of calico, etc."

SQUIRE SYLVANUS Gardner, known once and anon as the marrying magistrate, was taking it easy on a bench in front of the City hall one afternoon last week when a colored fellow strolled up and informed him that a colored couple wanted to see him at court house, Squire knew, of course, that it was a marriage.

"Have they the proper license and everything?" he asked the colored messenger.

"Yassa," answered the dapper friend of the couple about to plunge in the sea of matrimony. "They has I think, but if they hasn't, they is ready to make elevation for them."

As it turned out they did not as yet have the license but soon appeared in the office of Register Newton and made "elevation" for them.

OVER AT Pendleton's music store they tell one on a colored woman who got her words topsy-turvy last week. She came in and asked if "Yo'all has that new record 'Sunny Upside Down'?"

The clerk informed her that they did not have that record, but did have "Sunnyside Up."

THE NAME of that victrola record recalls a show put on by a local theatre last week. It was advertised as "hot stuff" and, according to theater-goers at the first performance, it was hot and then some. The word spread that it was warm enough to make a fellow with one foot in Sunset feel cut-up and the result was that the "SRO" sign had to be hung out for the remaining performance.

If this colyum were operating a show house we would create an imaginary board of censors and about every week or two have the censors make a fuss about barring a certain talkie because it was too "hot" and too risqué. And then we'd hire a dozen special officers to keep 'em in line as they piled in.

Net So Absent-Minded After All. And then there was the absent-minded college professor who dropped a nickel in his pants pockets and put his hand in the beggar's hat, dismissed his class and went to his very inefficient stenographer, and came home and kissed the maid and said good afternoon to his wife. But maybe he wasn't very absent-minded.

A boatman grabbed Miss Eleanor Forbes of New Orleans by her hair and saved her life as she was sinking in the Mississippi.

MR. WILLIAM WILSON.

"I got evidence out of a few doses," stated Mr. Wilson. "It was plain enough to me that I had the right medicine before I had finished my first bottle of your Herb Medicine. Months ago I heard of your herbal remedy, bought a bottle and took it home and started using it. So you see I got the evidence right at home, and to make it doubly sure, I used several bottles to see just what it would do. I really needed a good medicine, for I was badly constipated, my entire system seemed to be full of poison and everything I ate would hurt me. Due to poor elimination and irregular bowel action my system became contaminated with poisonous waste matter and then I was in misery a plenty. Every day was dreaded. I didn't feel like working at my trade and what work I forced myself to do, didn't serve the purpose well enough to call it satisfactory service. With this kind of work I didn't feel like putting out to my customers. But since taking several bottles of Miller's Herb Extract I am once more prepared to do expert work for I am now in fine condition generally, feel full of pep and energy and my work is a pleasure to all concerned. I believe that the few bottles of this medicine which I have used is worth hundreds of dollars to me and I will never let an opportunity pass without telling some poor sufferer about it. Every sufferer of constipation and indigestion ought to know of this good medicine, because it makes better health possible. I really believe that it is the greatest laxative and system cleaner on the market today." Sold and recommended by Paul Webb and Son, Shelby, N. C., and leading druggist everywhere.

LAWDALE EVENTS PERSONAL MENTION

Shoffner and Mann Deliver Talks. Falls Family Has Flu. Guy Warlick Has Son.

(Special to The Star.)

Lawndale, Feb. 22.—Mr. and Mrs. William Hord and baby of Shelby spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Anderson Hord.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Bridges and children were Morganton visitors last Sunday.

Mrs. Belle Beam, Misses Mary Lou Yelton and Kathleen Beatty and Mr. Theodore Smalley visited Miss Irene Smalley at the Rutherford hospital where she is in training.

Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Edwards were Sunday visitors at the home of their sister, Mrs. John Williamson of Latweek-end with the RY etaoin sh sh timentor.

Byard Edwards spent the week-end with his grand-father, Mr. Alfred Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Warlick had as their guests last week their sister Mrs. Grady Davis and Miss Velma Hartness trained nurse of Gastonia.

Rev. J. W. Fitzgerald held an interesting and instructive mission study class at Lawndale a short time ago.

Messrs. Cyrus Rawls and Elbert Eskridge, former Piedmont students but now of Chapel Hill, were welcome visitors at the school.

Mr. R. W. Shoffner made a most interesting talk in the school assembly hall during "live-at-home" week.

Mr. M. G. Mann, assistant general manager of the N. C. Cotton co-ops spoke to the student body Thursday afternoon.

Miss Belle Elliott entertained the faculty of Piedmont High school at six o'clock dinner at the home of her sister, Mrs. R. L. Weathers.

The G. A.'s and R. A.'s with other guests were given a lovely social at Miss Ruth Sperling's hospitable home.

The February meeting of the Woman's club was held in the home economics room at the school building. The ladies hope to have the school yard sown in grass soon.

Miss Fussell and her first year home economics girls served an elaborate five-course dinner in honor of the senior class. Professor Burns and Miss Mary Burns, class sponsor. The table was attractively decorated, carrying out the Valentine motif.

In the near future the senior class will present the play "Forget-me-nots."

The many friends of Mrs. Frank Lattimore will be glad to know that she is improving.

Jack Warlick is a recent arrival at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Warlick. The Woman's club gave a shower in honor of this young man recently. Instead of the usual gifts for his layette which was most dainty and complete each member gave him some money for a savings account.

Walter Lackey Leford is another recent arrival at the home of Mrs. Columbus Leford.

Mrs. H. R. Sherrill has been quite sick for some days. Mrs. Buren Wilson has been supplying in her school room.

Miss Evelyn Jolley of Mooresboro has returned to her home after a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ves Falls.

Several members of Mr. John Fall's family have been ill with flu.

Mrs. Will Lee has entered the Shelby hospital. We hope that she will soon be restored to health.

Mr. Carme Elam is able to be out again.

Mrs. John Schenck is still a patient at the Shelby hospital.

Among those attending the "Womanless Wedding" at Fallston were Mrs. Cordie Rollins, Mrs. Belle Beam and guests, Miss Leo Ragan of Boone, Misses Sloan and Mary Lou Yelton and Mr. Brantley Devenney.

Fallston talent will present the "Womanless Wedding" in the auditorium of Piedmont high school on Saturday March 1. There will be an oyster supper at the same time. This is an excellent opportunity to laugh and grow fat.

Wages.

Mooresville Enterprise.

In cities where the head of a family of two or more girls is the bread winner, the small earning $6 to $15 each week contributes largely to the family budget for life's necessities. There are two sides to the situation, and at this critical time in business circles throughout the country, the man or woman with a job even though wages are not so much as desired, are fortunate indeed to have one. The world is full of poor folks and always has been and always will be. Some people are just more fortunate than others and the ones who get on in the world are those who realize that they are financially unable to keep pace with a more fortunate neighbor.

Stumping The Boss.

The Boss: Call yourself a typist, and you can't even put a ribbon in the machine?

The Girl: Could Paderewski tune a piano?

Tax On Sugar To Boost Booze Price

York Bootlegger Says Customers Will Pay Extra Tax. Liquid Headaches.

York, S. C.—"See where this fool South Carolina general assembly is planning to slap a tax on sugar," said a York county bootlegger, between mouthfuls of steak and onions in a local feed joint.

"Yeah," a reporter on the next stool exclaimed.

"Understand they want to put a cent a pound on it, and that it looks like it'll get by."

"Yeah."

"And, why?"

"Don't know whether you know it or not, but most of the liquor distilled in York and Richland, and Hell Hole Swamp and the rest of South Carolina is made out of sugar. That's why it packs such a wallop and such a headache."

"Of course, it doesn't take a hundred pounds of sugar to make a gallon of liquor. Still, if the general assembly puts a cent a pound on sugar, we'll be able to go up a dollar a gallon on liquor. We're getting $5 and $6 now, paying around $2.50 for it in big lots. The big boys say they'll have to charge us more and you can bet your sweet tooth we're going to ditto to the customers."

"Let 'em tax sugar. We're the best sugar customers around here, and you may be certain that we won't squawk."

His Turn.

Two Scotchmen had not encountered each other for 20 years.

"Well, well, well," said one "this is an historic occasion. We'll have to wet it."

"Aye," agreed the other, "so we will. But ye'll have to forgive me for remindin' ye that I paid last time."

Boston Elevated Railroad.

Boston Herald.

We have put $30,000,000 into new plants since 1922, and in the same period our paying passengers have fallen away by some 30,000,000. On the other hand we have invested about $2,500,000 in buses and thus have gained 30,000,000 passengers.

Consolation Anyhow.

He—"Deares, will you marry me?"

She—"No, I cannot marry you. Jack, but I shall always respect you good taste."

Man And Wife May "Neck" In Public

Chicago Judge Rules That Married Couple May Neck In Movie House.

Chicago.—The right of a man and his wife to be demonstratively affectionate in the gloom of a movie theatre has been given triumphant vindication by a Chicago jury.

Peter and Ruby Dogert, man and wife, had gone to the Crawford theatre and while there did engage in what has come to be known, even in courts of law as necking. There is a certain group of citizenry which frowns on such things, and the first thing Dogerts knew the management had passed the word along that the Dogerts must never darken the door of the theatre again.

But they did darken it and demanded apology when a doorman gently but firmly prevented their entrance. There was no apology, the jury was told, and the Dogerts' money was returned to them, according to some of the testimony.

Mrs. Dogert sued the theatre and got a judgment of $800 which was set aside. She sued again and the jury awarded her $1,250.

The management professed itself unaware that Peter and Ruby were man and wife; but as far as that was concerned Peter and Ruby have even yet no definite information that the lovers of the screen who neck in a big way for all to see, are married. Their attorney said as much.

Upper Cleveland Farmers Are Busy

Taylor Wall Kicked By a Mule. Mr. Whisnant Out After Attack Of Pneumonia.

(Special to The Star.)

Lawndale, R-1, Feb. 22.—Farmers are very much delighted with the fine weather. If it continues a few days many will sow spring oats as most of the fall sowing was killed.

Mr. J. M. Whisnant lost a good milk cow. He is repairing a ten-acre house.

Many young friends gave Miss Marie Hunt a surprise party Monday night. A large crowd attended and all reported a good time.

Miss Leola Price of near Hollis spent Sunday afternoon with Lucille Self.

Miss Winnie Whisnant had as her dinner guest Sunday Miss Daphne Hunt.

Miss Pauline Whisnant spent Friday night with Miss Mary D. Price near Hollis.

Miss Winnie Whisnant is very sick with a severe cold at this writing.

Mr. Preston Mull of Chase City, Va., is visiting his grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. Zero Mull.

Mr. Taylor Wall is confined to his room from a severe wound having been kicked by his mule. Mr. Wall

"Things I Ate Hurt Me"

"I HAD a severe case of indigestion," says Mrs. Bell Buckheister, 7 River St., Piedmont, S. C. "So many things that I ate hurt me, I almost quit eating."

"I would burn in my chest. I had severe headache, and such a tight, smothering feeling. I would be obliged to eat a little, then it would hurt me."

"A friend said to me: 'Why don't you take Black-Draught?'"

"I was just too weak then to do my work. I began taking small doses after meals, and in just a few weeks I could eat anything I wanted to, then take my small dose of Black-Draught and feel fine. I soon regained my health and strength."

Costs only 1 cent a dose.
