Liquor Buyer Gets Asheville Sentence

Asheville.—While the supreme court of the United States has never decided the question of whether the buyer is as guilty as the seller of illicit liquor, Judge Nettles of the Asheville police court indicated that he is of the opinion that the man who buys bootleg whiskey is as much to blame as the man that sells it.

He found John Fryer guilty of buying liquor from Homer Shipman and W. A. Webb and sentenced him to serve 60 days in jail. Then on Fryer's testimony he found shipman and Webb guilty of carrying, transporting and delivering, and sentenced each of them to serve sixty days in jail. Strange, Fryer was only one of the three who decided to serve his sentence without appealing the case. Webb and Shipman took appeals.

Plan Now For Hens That Lay In Fall

Chix Hatches At This Season Are Usually Healthy. Laying Hens Pay Well.

A hen in the laying house is worth a dozen in the barnyard in September and October when egg prices start to soar. Farmers seeking to obtain the utmost profit from their poultry flocks should make an effort to have their pullets ready to lay by the middle of December, thereby getting the full advantage of fall and winter egg prices, market experts point out.

Early-hatched chicks offer the simplest solution to the problem. Chicks hatched before May 1 should be ready to start laying during September, if the stock is good, and proper care is given the growing pullets.

Many farmers, seeking to effect economies in the first cost of chicks often put off purchasing until late in the season. This is merely a case of false economy, since late-hatched chicks are late in coming into production, and are not laying during the period when eggs are at their highest. The early hatched chick returns many times the net profit of the late-hatched chick, in the normal course of events.

In response to this tendency to obtain chicks early in the year, hatcheries usually are ready to deliver by March 1, and some even earlier. Chicks hatched at this period of the year are husky and strong, and capable of quick growth, provided proper treatment is given them. Leading hatcheries of the country, who operate under the slogan "Hatchery Chicks for Greater Profits" to provide good quality chicks, are advising their customers to obtain early chicks in order to reap the advantage of the high egg market.

Pullets ready for the laying house in early September more than pay for their original cost in the first few weeks. Figures compiled by agricultural experimental stations indicate that the profits from hatched chicks are from three to five times as great as from late-hatched chicks, under normal circumstances.

Bringing The Moon Closer. (From The Wall St. Journal.) If an elephant on the planet Mars showed up the size of a toothpick through the present largest telescope in the world, the 100-inch instrument on the summit of Mount Wilson, California, its size through the 200-inch instrument now under construction would be increased to size of a two-foot rule. While elephants may not inhabit Mars, the comparison indicates the added visibility that will be attained with the telescope being built for the California Institute of Technology and the Carnegie Institution of Washington.

"Crippled Up With Rheumatic Pains"

"Sargon did more for me in a few weeks time than everything else combined did in 25 years and gave me a nine pound gain in weight besides."

MRS. ELIZABETH MILLER.

"For years I was crippled up with rheumatic pains in my arms and legs. I was very nervous and had awful headaches. I'd suffer with gascolic and smothering spells after meals, and the glands in my throat and neck would swell to the size of apples. I was so weak and rundown and lost so much flesh nobody thought I'd live. I've taken 4 bottles of Sargon, my rheumatic pains are almost gone, the swelling in my glands is hardly noticeable, my nerves are strengthened and I haven't had a headache since the second bottle. Sargon Pills relieved me entirely of a chronic case of constipation."—Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, 129 Hillside St., Asheville.
