State Official Praises Efficient And Economical Government In Cleveland.

Speaking in Rutherford counsy recently to the county club, Chas. M. Johnson, executive secretary of the state county government advisory commission had the following praise for the economical and efficient government in Cleveland

"In many counties the highway commission and board of educaion both have bookkeepers. In addition, the county accountant keeps identical records which he is required by law to do, in order that he may be in a position to know a all times the standings of the funds All the bookkeeping would be centralized in the office of the county accountant. The first principle of good government is sound fiscal control. When every detail in the collection, custody and expenditure of public funds can be easily observed, irregularities will cease, but there cannot be complete publicity and popular compliance unless budget streams of revenue and budget streams of expenditure convege in one office and are reflected in one set of accounts. Sound fiscal con trol. This has been worked out b me by agreement of the severa boards in several counties and in results have been very satisfactor This consolidation has been pt. into effect by the adjoining count of Cleveland which, by the way, i one of the best governed countl in the state, with every satisfacto. results. Over there, the chairma of the boad is a full time offic-He also acts as county accountar and has supervision of all the ac counting records of the county. The

ANNOUNCEMENT

A BUSINESS SCHOOL FOR SHELBY

The Georgia-Carolina School of Commerce, with general offices and permanent school in Brunswick, Ga., also permanent schools in Rocky Mount, N. C., Goldsboro, N. C., and Danville, Va., will open another term of school in Shelby just as soon as a sufficient number can be enrolled for a standard Stenographic, Commercial or Secretarial course either in the day or night school.

Standard courses of study will be offered in the Shelby school both day and night. The school will be taught by a certified Instructor from the home office. Traveling supervisors make regular visits to all schools. Under this plan of offering business courses in your home town by an old and reliable educational institution you save several hundred dollars, to say nothing of the convenience of being at home. You will complete a course much quicker because the small number in attendance make individual instruction possible.

Instead of holding all of our equipment and faculty at one point and asking you to come to us, we divide both, and place in your town such of each as is sufficient to meet the local requirements.

The following courses will be offered both day and night:

STENOGRAPHIC COURSE
