Officers Chase Fleeing Car To Edge Of County

Car Threw Smoke Screen Out

South Carolina Officers Chase Speding Car, Thought From This Section, To Grover.

York, April 7.—An automobile dashing through Main street at a speed of about 65 miles an hour and emitting a smoke screen when overtaken in the heart of the business block here by Chester county officers in a pursuing car, was the sight that startled York people late Wednesday afternoon.

After giving out a dense cloud of smoke which brought the Chester car to a stop, the fleeing car dashed on and the Chester car after slowly getting out of the smoke again took up the chase.

The 68 mile race between the two cars, the fleeing one presumably containing whiskey, began at Blackstock near the Fairfield county line and ended near Grover, N. C.; when the supposed liquor car was lost sight of. The chase led through the towns of York, Chester and to the Kings Mountain battleground.

Officers Pursue Rural Policemen Fuy and Caldwell were the officers in pursuit. They stated that they had overtaken the car repeatedly but that every time the dense smoke screen emitted by the supposed liquor car compelled them to stop for the sake of safety to themselves and others on the road. hat the flying car passed through York's streets without colliding with another machine was almost miraculous. Several times the fugitive car dashed between machines on the street so close as almost to brush them. That it was piloted by a skilful and iron nerved driver was evident.

The smoke screen it gave out on Main street here that persons in the midst of it could hardly see their hands before their faces. It is under stood that the car was from North Carolina, probably from the section about Shelby, but it is not known here if the Chester officers secured its license number.

City Baseball League Is Talked For Summer; Independent Team

Collegians Defeat Shelby High Team

Every indication now is that Shelby will have baseball of one brand or another this summer. Major baseball talk so far centers about the reviving of a four-club city league similar to the county league circuit of last year. There is some talk, however, of building up an independent town team, composed entirely of local players, to play a schedule with Newton, Gastonia, Hickory, Statesville and other towns of the section. So far baseball interest has not materialized enough to tell just what will develop.

Shelby Man Is District Head For Republicans

Jonas Is Nominated Once More

H. Clay Cox District Congressional Chairman, Quinn Nominates Jonas.

At the Ninth district Republican convention held at Newland last week Chas. A. Jonas, of Lincolnton, was renominated for Congress, and Cleveland county Republicans took a major role in the convention proceedings.

For years Cleveland county Democrats have taken prominent roles in affairs of their party in the state and now with the Republicans of North Carolina centering their strength on the Ninth district it appears as if Cleveland Republicans are booked to play as important a part in their party as do their Democratic brethren in theirs.

Two of the big district offices went to Cleveland Republicans and a third presented the Jonas nomination.

New Party Leader For Democrats

Mr. H. Clay Cox, of Shelby, county Republican chairman, not only acted as temporary chairman at the convention but he was also elected chairman of the district congressional committee to handle Mr. Jonas' campaign for Congress this fall, while S. Anthony Chairman Of Cleveland Democrats

Succeeds Falls As Party Leader

Democratic Executive Committee Endorses Candidacy Of Falls For Judge. At their meeting here Saturday the members of the executive committee of the Democratic party in Cleveland county broke a precedent of years and named a chairman who is not a member of the legal profession.

The new chairman who succeeds Judge B. T. Falls is Mr. Oliver S. Anthony, for years a leading party worker. The called meeting of the Democratic committee was held for the purpose of accepting the resignation of Judge Falls and to name a new successor. Judge Falls tendered his resignation so that he might devote his time to his candidacy for superior court judge in this district.

In naming their new leaders and transacting other business the executive committee took time to pay several deserving tributes to the retiring chairman. But the tributes to Mr. Falls did not end with mere praise of his record as party leader as the committee presented and unanimously adopted a resolution endorsing the candidacy of Falls for superior court judge, declaring therein his ability to hold the office with credit to his party.
