Cloudy Thursday. Today's North Carolina Weather Report: Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday. Not much change in temperature.

Battle Over Parker. Washington, April 29.—With doubtful votes admittedly holding the balance of power, the senate mixed in exhaustive debate today over the nomination of Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina to the supreme court. Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, conducted a one-handed attack upon the nominee. He asked rejection of the nomination because of a decision which he contended upheld the labor contract whereby employers bind employees not to join unions.

Blanton-Newton Speakers For Piedmont Finals

Rev. Sankey Blanton To Deliver Sermon Sunday and D. Z. Newton Literary Address. Lawndale, April 29.—It is rather unusual that the most important speakers at commencement exercises are former pupils and that the same man who taught both is still head of the school.

Mr. Blanton, a native of Rutherford county, a World War veteran, a Piedmont pupil, winner of the Hoey medal in a county wide contest, winner of the Trinity college medal in a state-wide contest, winner of the Wake Forest college medal in a state-wide contest all in the same year, a graduate of Wake Forest college and of the Baptist theological seminary of Louisville, Kentucky, has been offered recently a scholarship in Harvard university.

On Friday night at 8 p. m. the grade pupils will open the commencement exercises with a pageant. This should be good. Some time used and much work has been done in getting it up.

Beth-Ware School Finals This Week

Beth-Ware school finals in No. 4 township begins Thursday of this week with a program by the grammar grades at 8 p. m. and a play entitled "Our Awful Aunt." On Friday May 2, at 10:30 o'clock, the eighth grade recitation contest, followed by the literary address at 11 o'clock by Hon. David P. Dellinger, of Cherryville. At 1:30 p. m. on Friday there will be an opera by the primary and grammar grades with class day exercises Friday evening and a three-act play entitled "A Poor Married Man."

Doctors Return From Medical Gathering

Shelby and Cleveland county physicians who have been attending the meeting of the North Carolina Medical society at Pinehurst are expected to return home tonight or early tomorrow. Among those attending from the county were Drs. D. F. Moore, Dwight Bridges, N. A. Lackey, Ben Gold, and J. W. Harbison.

Shelby Votes Dry In Literary Digest Poll

Dry Votes Outnumber Modification And Repeal Votes By 54. Total For 20 W. N. C. Towns Slightly Wet.

Shelby is dry according to the poll made of the Cleveland county seat by the Literary Digest. Figures showing how 20 Western North Carolina towns and cities voted in the Literary Digest were furnished the Asheville Times this week by the magazine. In Shelby the dry votes outnumbered the modification and repeal votes by 54, a total of 210 people voting for modification and repeal while 264 voted for enforcement.

Table with 4 columns: Enforcement, Modification, Repeal, Total. Lists 20 towns and their respective vote counts.

Holding Man Here. On Bigamy Charge

Alleged To Have Married Shelby Girl When He Had Another Wife. Tom Huntsinger, young white man, was brought to Shelby from Greer, S. C. this week by Deputy Bob Kendrick to be given a preliminary hearing in county court Thursday or Friday on a bigamy charge.

The charge was preferred here by W. E. Page who alleges that in January Huntsinger married his daughter, Annie Page, while he had another wife living at Forest City. Huntsinger and Annie Page according to the warrant were married in January at Gaffney, South Carolina. They returned to Shelby some time in February, it is alleged, and lived here together for a time as man and wife. A month or two back Huntsinger left for Greer, where Deputy Kendrick says he was going by the name of Henry Huntsinger.

His Other Wife. The first wife, from whom it is said Huntsinger has no divorce, is Zeta Holbert Huntsinger who lives at Forest City. Huntsinger has made no public statement regarding his matrimonial difficulties. He appears to be about 22 or 23 years of age.

Mrs. Thad McSwain and son, Thad, jr., visited their great grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth McSwain at Earl last week.

Miss Louise Ledford had her tonsils removed at the Shelby hospital this week, and will be able to come home today.

Highs Win First Championship Game; Play Here Again Friday

Locals Defeat Belwood 12 To 2. Take On Mt. Holly For Group Title.

The Shelby highs opened their formal march for another state baseball championship by defeating the heavy-hitting Belwood team here yesterday 12 to 2, thus winning their first game of the 1930 title series.

Friday of this week Casey Morris' 1929 champions will take on Mt. Holly here for the championship of this group.

The game yesterday was just another repetition of the 1929 pace set by the Shelby outfit, with Sherrill Hamrick adding another title series scalp to his belt. The Belwood boys pummeled a baseball to all corners of the lot and they slugged Hamrick's fast ones murderously on occasions, but the lanky hurler always managed to

Hollis Finals Speakers

Hon. J. W. Bailey (above), of Raleigh, former editor of the Baptist Biblical Recorder and one of North Carolina's best known orators and attorneys, will be the commencement orator at the Hollis high school, just across the Cleveland line in Rutherford, on Friday, May 2, speaking at 2:30 o'clock. At 8 o'clock Friday night he will speak at Effingham. At Hollis Mr. Bailey will be introduced by Hon. Clyde R. Hoey, of Shelby, provided Mr. Hoey is not called to Richmond this week to appear in a court hearing there.

School Parade Here Thursday To Be Colorful

Order Of March And Program In May Day Parade And Pageant Given

The big May Day parade and pageant to be staged tomorrow, Thursday, afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock by the 2,500 children in the Shelby school system is expected to be one of the most colorful in the Shelby school events to be staged in Shelby in years.

Line Of March. Supt. E. L. Smith today made public the line of march and the general program. The pageant-parade will leave the Central high school building, march to North Morgan street, one block up that street to Sumter street, then South on Lafayette street to the court square, turning east on Marion street to Washington street and assembling in pageant form east of the court square on Washington street.

How They March. Dr. J. S. Dorton, head of the Shelby Riding club, and other club members will lead the parade with Jack Palmer as group starter. The championship high school band will lead the main body of the school parade followed by a float depicting the Shelby school child amid the affections of the city. Then comes the Parent-Teacher delegation, and the various schools as follows: Graham, Jefferson, LaFayette, Marion, Morgan (including teacher training department), Washington, special grades, Boy and Girl Scouts, music groups, the various high school departments—English, French, Mathematics, Science, History, Home Economics Commercial, and Athletics, including baseball, football and track representatives. The end of the parade will demonstrate Shelby school needs.

Charlotte Manager To Speak to Kiwanis

R. W. Riggsby, city manager of Charlotte, will address the Kiwanis club at their regular weekly luncheon at the Hotel Charles Thursday night. Mr. Riggsby will talk on some phase of municipal government. He comes upon the invitation of W. E. Jordan who has charge of the program.

Lady Dolores, Dare Devil Driver Coming To Shelby On May 2

Lady Dolores, who is staging an exhibition in Charlotte and vicinity, in an auto endurance contest, will appear in Shelby at Pendleton's music store and the Crawford Chevrolet garage. Friday, May 2, between 5:15 and 5:45 p. m. in the Chevrolet car which she is driving constantly for 100 hours. Miss Dolores is handcuffed to the steering wheel of the car. Thirty minutes preceding her arrival in Shelby where hundreds are expected to see her in her daring feat, will be another car equipped with a public address system, which will park in front of Pendleton's and Crawford's for the short visit Miss Dolores will be here.

Mrs. Thad McSwain and little son, Thad, jr., are spending this week with her mother, Mrs. E. P. West on the Fallston road. Miss Susie Mitten of Greenville, S. C. will arrive in Shelby at noon to spend a week with Miss Eunice Lamb of Eastside.

Judge Kennedy Candidate For Representative

Shelby Man Out For Assembly

Present County Recorder Announces Today For Legislature. Makes Statement.

County Recorder Horace Kennedy today announced his candidacy to represent Cleveland county in the next session of legislature, his candidacy going before the voters in the Democratic primary in June.

Attorney Henry B. Edwards, of Shelby, has already announced his candidacy for the general assembly. Judge Kennedy, who is serving his first term as judge of the county court, is one of the county's most prominent young lawyers and has become a county-wide figure and more due to his success on the bench. Some months back he definitely announced that he would not be a candidate for recorder again.

Favors No Group. In announcing Mr. Kennedy says that there has been some demand for a farmer or business man for legislature, admits that he is neither but assures that if elected he will serve business and farm interests of the county just as he will other interests, and adds that he is a candidate free from the favor of any group and is obligated to no factions or interests. His statement reads as follows:

"There has been considerable talk of some leading business man or farmer running for the legislature this time, and I feel sure that the voters of Cleveland county would have been glad to support such a man, but it now seems that no such man will run and after careful consideration I have decided to become a candidate. I am not a business man and do not know much about farming, but I am familiar with the laws governing both and believe that I can be of some benefit in the next session of the legislature. If elected, I will go to the legislature free from any obligation to any man or group of men, but will welcome suggestions from any one when made for the benefit of the people."

Eastside To Have Good Baseball Team

Outfit Organized Last Night With W. E. Gantt As Manager. Many Prominent Players.

The Eastside mill will this year have one of the strongest independent baseball teams in this section judging by the preliminary line-up given out after the baseball organization was perfected last night.

W. E. Gantt will manage the team, is open for games with any semi-pro or independent teams in the section. His hoped-for lineup will have Snag Ormand and Sherrill Hamrick as pitchers with Hal Farris, the high school captain and star, as catcher. The infield will be made up of Tommy Harrill, first base; Red Costner, second base; Red Ormand, shortstop; and "Preacher" Farris, third base. In the outfield will be Lefty Friday, Dock Weaver and Lefty Hughes.

Talking A League. Talk of a fast semi-pro league for this section is still in the air. Spartanburg this year does not have a team in the South Atlantic league and that city is now endeavoring to form a semi-pro circuit with Shelby, Rutherfordton-Spindale, Forest City Alexander and some other club. The circuit if completed will play about two or three games per week. The majority of the local stars are now, however, lined up with either the Eastside team or the Cleveland Cloth mill outfit.

Tax Rush On Here Before Final Days

Four Per Cent Penalty After Thursday. Begin Preparing Advertising List.

Belated Cleveland county taxpayers are today making a rush on the sheriff's office here to avoid the four percent penalty which goes on all unpaid county taxes after Thursday, May 1, and also to keep their names off the tax advertising list.

It was stated today that on Friday morning, May 2, work would begin on transferring the names of delinquent taxpayers from the tax books to the list which will be published advertising property for sale on the first Monday in June for unpaid taxes.

Love Fashions a Fatal Triangle

Edward Keller and Mrs. Henry Keller, of Newark, N. J., wife of his brother, who committed suicide after he learned that his wife and brother were in love with each other and were arranging a divorce so that they could be married. The husband killed himself by inhaling gas and left a written message in which he described his hatred for both his wife and brother.

Talking Gardner For Presidential Nominee

City Gain Little Over 200 Percent

Shelby's population gain from 1920 to 1930 was a fraction above 200 percent instead of 191 percent as shown in the last issue of The Star. The error developed from the use of the wrong population figures in 1920. In 1920 the Shelby population was 3,909. In 1930 it was 10,867, a gain of 7,258 people—the gain being a little more than twice the total population of 1920.

Cupid Getting Busy Again; Seven County Pairs Wed at Gaffney

Matrimonial Activities Pick Up At Gaffney With Spring Weather.

What with "Hoover prosperity," dull business months and somewhat so-so early spring weather, Dan Cupid has not been so active of recent weeks in this section. But with old-time spring weather here, business is picking up with the youthful match-maker.

For several weeks only one or two Cleveland county couples were married at the Gaffney Green of this section—Gaffney—but last week marriage licenses were issued to seven Cleveland couples by Probate Judge Lake W. Stroup. They were:

Cohen Gold Horton and Vira D. Crowder, of Lawndale; Clay Carpenter and Evelyn Stowe, of Shelby; Tom Stringfellow and Mary Stewart, of Kings Mountain; Alvin Remon and Linner Milling, of Shelby; Sam Royster McKinney and Iva Queen Watterson, of Shelby; Ernest Garland, of Vale, and Ellen Ridley, of Earl; Irvin Hudson, of Grover route one, and Clara James.

Yount, Of Hickory, Not Fighting Falls Because Of His Home Here

Says Fact Falls Lives In Cleveland County Should Not Determine Race.

Hickory, April 29.—Declaring that he is receiving encouraging reports from all parts of the district Attorney M. H. Yount told The Record that he is extremely optimistic concerning his chances for winning the Democratic nomination for superior judge.

Mr. Yount made it clear, however, that in his contest he is waging no battle against the candidate from Cleveland county, simply because that county has had a large number of the political honors of this section. In his statement, Mr. Yount said: "I have no fight to make on Mr. Falls because he is from Cleveland county. Cleveland is a great county and the men they have elevated to public office have all been an honor to the state. Judge James L. Webb could have been renominated without opposition because no man is more beloved by the people of this district and the state at large than he. Then there is Governor Gardner, the idol of the people, O. M. Mull, chairman of the executive committee, ex-Congressman Clyde Hoey and Federal Judge E. Y. Webb, all of whom the state is proud and all of whom are recognized leaders in moulding the political destiny of the state. A county whose political soil has produced such men as these has just cause to be proud of her contribution to the political history of the state. While we of Catawba would like to have the candidate, and naturally think we are entitled to it, yet locally it is not the only determining factor. I recognize that Mr. Falls, though from Cleveland, has just as much right to run for judge of this district as any of the rest of us, and while I hope to defeat him I am not making war on Cleveland county to do so. From every part of the district I am receiving most favorable reports. The people are becoming more interested as the day for the primary approaches and are making their own investigations and I am deeply gratified at the report of the results."

Republicans To Pick Candidates Following June

Wait For Democrats To Name Theirs

Hope To Take Advantage Of Possible Dissension In Democratic Ranks During Primary.

Cleveland county Republicans are playing a new game this year. Instead of nominating their county candidates at their convention held in Shelby some weeks ago they decided to leave it up to the county executive committee to do the picking. And the executive committee is in no hurry about naming the Republicans who will oppose the Democratic nominees for office this fall.

Have Definite Plan. Inside information has it that the Republican executive committee will not pick or name a single Republican candidate until after the June primary.

This procedure has its purposes and shrewdness. Something might happen to cause trouble in the Democratic ranks before or during the June primary. If such should be the case the Republicans hope to see an opening whereby they may offer candidates from certain sections to take advantage of possible breaks and perhaps win votes from a disgruntled Democratic faction. Of course that is only a hope for ordinarily Cleveland county Democrats patch up their differences over party candidates after a primary fight and unite for battle in November. Still, figure it either way, the Republicans have nothing to lose, so they say, and possibilities of gain by holding back the names of their county nominees until the smoke of the June barrage clears away.

"In a baseball game," one Republican expresses it, "a shrewd manager does not name his starting pitcher, when he has a left-hander and a right-hander, until he sees the other team take hitting practice and finds out whether the left-hander or the right-hander would be more effective with the opposition. We're going to wait until we see the Democratic line-up, and then we'll know better just what men to start against them."

Looking Ahead. This plan centers on the hope, presumably, that a Democratic candidate from some certain section of the county is defeated in the primary another Democrat and then the Republicans will endeavor to bring out a Republican candidate from that section with the ambition of pulling a certain amount of sectional Democratic votes into their column.

Even though the local Republicans are following a new procedure they do not seem any more optimistic.

Require No License For County Fishing

Game Warden Reviews Fishing Laws. Want Fee For County Quail.

Any citizen of Cleveland county may fish in the county, with pole or rod and reel, without a fishing license. It was stated today by Mr. H. C. Long, county game warden, who says that he is frequently asked if license are required for county fishing.

It is unlawful to fish with set, trot-line, set-hook, or by gassing or grubbing in this or any other county, he adds. The fishing season for bass closed on April 20, and until next year it is unlawful to catch any but coarse fish—carp, suckers, and cats.

Survey Game Here. Medford W. Haynes, of Tarboro, will visit Cleveland county soon, Warden Long says, to make a survey of game in this county. Thirty-one counties of the State are to be surveyed by Mr. Haynes and Cleveland will be among the first. When he arrives here the game warden urges that all farmers and sportsmen cooperate with him as much as possible. He will attempt to get the number of quail in the county, and the acreage suitable for quail and other game, and also the amount of natural feed for quail and general game. In view of the fact that the supply of quail in this county is diminishing the county game warden and the State conservation department urge all county farmers and sportsmen to aid in building up the quail supply by devoting a small acreage in outlying corners of their farm to cane. Farmers who do not hunt quail on their lands and for natural feeding nothing is better for quail than cane. Quail will migrate two miles to feed on cane, and it is argued that a small cane patch scattered here and there over the county will do much to build up the quail in Cleveland county.
