

Main Street Star in Love Suit

Mayor Luke Higgins, of 'Main Street Sketches,' and all of Titusville were scandalized to learn that the Mayor's irreproachable nephew, Wilbur, has all this time been a girl named Emily McCormack, who is accused by Mrs. Mary D. Tate Smith, New York social registerite, of going places with her husband, Albert Tate Smith. Above is pictured

Medal Winner And Graduates At Lattimore High School

Sara Harris Wins Scholarship Medal, Virgil Weathers Best Athlete, Stevens Speaks.

(Special to the Star.) Lattimore, April 28.—The commencement exercises of the Lattimore school closed Saturday night. The first program was Friday night April 18, when the music department gave a recital under the direction of Prof. Karl Jordon and Miss Wiloree Calton. Both instrumental and vocal numbers were rendered. They were of a high order which showed the excellent training they had received.

On Tuesday night April 22 class day exercises were held with the following program:

Welcome address—Virgil Weathers. Class history by Walter Davis. Essay by Sara Hamrick. Prophecy by Annie Davis. Declamation by Yulan Washburn. Poem by Lyman Martin. Gifforian by Ernest Bailey. Last will and testament by Beatrice Gold. Song, "Swiss Lullaby" by Prof. Karl Jordon.

Friday evening at 8 o'clock the grades gave an interesting program to a large and appreciative audience.

Dr. Stevens Talks. On Saturday morning at 11 o'clock Dr. B. A. Stevens from the University, delivered the commencement address. His subject being, "Education, the Purpose of Life," which showed us that our duty as citizens, first of all, is to see to the welfare of our children. His address was very instructive and the most beneficial that our community has heard in a long time.

Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock graduation exercises were held. Virgil Weathers president of the class gave the declaration "My Mother, My Country, My God." Sara Harris valedictorian of the class gave the valedictory. She was not only the honor student, but had been present every day during the four years. Following is a list of the graduates:

RURAL PEOPLE MOVE TO CITIES

Rural Population in Dixie Shrinks As People Leave Farm For Town.

Atlanta, Ga.—Industry in the south is drawing heavily upon rural population, a study of census reports from nine states reveals.

Populations of towns and cities in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas show surprising increase due largely to industrial expansion in those states, authorities on the question said.

However, while the centers of population grew rapidly from 1920 to 1930, the rural sections either lost population or barely held their own.

The situation is very much the same in all Southern states except Florida which had a general increase. Its urban centers almost doubled their population in many cases while its rural sections showed a steady growth. Lakeland, for example which is one of the few cities of more than 10,000 to report, has a population of 18,544, an increase of 168 per cent during the ten years.

Growth of the citrus industry and popularity of Florida's cities as resorts are directly responsible for the great increase, census supervisors said.

In other southern states, however, the lack of growth of rural sections and the amazing increase of cities' population are the early features of census returns.

Southern cities have enjoyed excellent natural growth and have received a good share of foreign capital. Immigration programs in many cities also contributed. Many negroes, who left southern farms several years ago to go north and take jobs immigrants filled until barred by government restriction, returned to the south and warm weather. But instead of going back to the farm, they went to the cities to do public work.

Just Went From One Pill to Another

"I spent thousands of dollars in the past ten years trying to overcome chronic stomach trouble. My nights were misery on account of sleeplessness, and as far as constipation goes, my life the past few years has been 'just one pill after another.' I wouldn't take $1,000 for the good Sargon did me. I haven't the least stomach trouble of any kind now. "Sargon Soft Mass Pills put an end to my constipation."—J. S. Sadler, 1127 Ross St., St. Paul, Minn. Sargon's aim is not mere temporary relief, but new and abundant health. Don't experiment—profit by the experience of others. Cleveland Drug Co., agents.
