MAY—
 Hark! the sea-faring wild fowl loud proclaim
 My coming, and the swarming of the bees,
 These are my heralds, and behold my name
 Is written in the blossoms on the hawthorn trees.
 I tell the mariner when to sail the seas;
 I waft o'er all the land from far away
 The breath and bloom of Hesperides
 My birth place, I am Laia, I am May.
 —Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

SOCIAL—
Mrs. Charles Hoy
Hostess To Bridge Club.
 Mrs. Charles Hoy entertained the members of the Tuesday afternoon bridge club on Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the charming Hoy home. Many lovely garden flowers were used for the rooms and tables, making a pretty setting. Three tables were played, Contract, being the game. Rubbers were played and at the conclusion of the afternoon scores were added, and Mrs. Aaron Quinn scored high and was given a most attractive and useful linen cover. When the cards were laid aside, the hostess, assisted by Miss Isobel Hoy, served a tempting salad and ice course.

McKinney-Watterson Marriage.
 Miss Iva Watterson and Sam McKinney surprised their many friends on Saturday evening, when they were quietly married in Gaffney, S. C., at 7 o'clock. Immediately following the ceremony they returned to Shelby, where they are living with Mrs. McKinney's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Grigg on Suttle St.

Mrs. McKinney is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Watterson of Kings Mountain, but has made her home with her grandparents for a number of years. She is a popular member of the young society set of the city and is an active worker in the young people's department of the First Baptist church. Mr. McKinney is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawson McKinney of Forest City, and holds a position at the Cleveland cloth mill. Mrs. McKinney wore a becoming blue georgette ensemble with small spring hat and accessories to match.

Mrs. J. P. Cunningham Gives Pretty Party
 Honoring her brother and niece, Mr. Harry Speck and Miss Speck of Bethlehem, Pa., who are enroute home from a winter in Florida, Mrs. J. P. Cunningham who is a guest at the Hotel Charles, gave a beautiful party at the Coffee shop at Lake Lure on Monday. The guests motored up at 11 o'clock had a delicious five course luncheon served them at one, and from two to four auction bridge was played at three tables, in the lovely little inn. The tables were charmingly arranged with bud vases and pretty flowers, the most attractive place and score cards were used, and elegant prizes were given.

At the conclusion of the games when the scores were added Mrs. Ceph Blanton scored high and she was presented with a handsome bottle of toilet water. Mrs. W. B. Nix scored second and she was given a beautiful bottle of perfume. Mrs. Jap Suttle scored low and she was presented with pretty colorful wash cloths. The honorees were presented with most attractive gifts being perfume and cigarette holder. With the Lake-Lure getting which is beyond description, congenial company and tempting viands, the day was most happily spent by Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham, Mr. Speck, Miss Speck, Mrs. Ceph Blanton, Mrs. W. B. Nix, Mrs. Everett Lattimore, Miss Rosa Mae Shuford, Mrs. Ward Arrey, Miss Lula Agnes Arrey, Mrs. Clyde Short, Mrs. Draper Wood, Mrs. Jap Suttle and Miss Mary Reeves Forney.

Mrs. T. W. Hamrick Hostess To Twentieth Century Club.
 One of the loveliest club meetings of the season was on Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. T. W. Hamrick was the gracious hostess to the members of the Twentieth Century club. This charming home was most artistically and beautifully decorated with a wealth of garden flowers in all their perfect beauty, and the snow ball, the flower of spring, and of May, was the outstanding flower chosen for this occasion, surrounded by the others. When the club members had assembled, the meeting was called to order and a business session held.

Mrs. Max Gardner's invitation was accepted and the club members will go to Raleigh next Tuesday to be the guests of Governor and Mrs. Gardner in the mansion and hold their meeting with Mrs. Gardner. The programs for the incoming year were distributed, and then the program was given. Mrs. Julius Suttle had a very enlightening paper on "N. C. Writers" and Mrs. Lee B. Weathers then gave her interesting paper on "Current Topics of Women." Mrs. Hamrick invited her guests into the dining room and a most beautiful picture greeted their eyes. The May day was there. The lovely May poles on each of the five tables, with the ribbons extending to the beautiful dolls dressed in pastel shades, and the little colonial bouquets of flowers for the May day, completed the perfect ensembles and it took the members back to their childhood days with the May pole dances and the flowers.

The refreshments carried out the May day idea and were most beautiful and delicious. A salad course was served, then an ice and sweet course came last, with nuts and candies. Attractive little rhymes disclosed the fascinating cakes under the feet of the little ladies, and these little lady dolls and bouquets were given to the guests as they bid their hostess goodbye. Mrs. Hamrick was assisted by Mrs. Mary E. McBrayer, Misses Agnes and Ruby McBrayer, Mrs. Dorton and Mrs. Nelson Lattimore, her neighbors, in serving refreshments.

Mrs. Reavis Honored.
 Two of the largest and most beautiful parties of the season were those given jointly by Miss Margaret Crowder and her sister, Mrs. Ray Allen, at their hospitable home on North Morgan street, Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock and Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, delightfully honoring Mrs. Frank Reavis, a recent bride. The large living room and parlors were artistically arranged with a profusion of pink roses and spring flowers, and each of the ten bridge tables were graced with crystal vases of pink rose buds and lace fern. The head table, where the bride sat was graced with a tiny bride and markers.

Miss Crowder and Mrs. Allen greeted the guests at the front door and presented the honoree, Mrs. Reavis, gowned in navy georgette with hat of the same shade and shoulder bouquet of pink roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Crowder wore a chiffon costume and Mrs. Allen light blue crepe. Mrs. William Crowder, Mrs. Basil Goode and Mrs. D. E. Honeycutt assisted in receiving and passing the bridge, tallies which were done in wedding bell designs. The high score prize at the afternoon party was won by Mrs. Basil Goode, the second high by Miss Frances Whisman and the low score by Mrs. Ed Post. The bride was presented with dainty handmade handkerchiefs.

At the evening party Mr. and Mrs. Reavis were presented with handsome book-ends. Mrs. Reavis wearing a lovely pink evening gown with corsage of roses. The high score prizes were won by Mrs. Carlos Grigg and Mr. Johnny Warlick and the low score prizes by Mrs. Basil Goode and Mr. Hal Thrasher of Charlotte. The hostesses were assisted by Mesdames William Crowder, D. E. Honeycutt, Basil Goode and Miss Catherine Green in serving beautiful and delicious plates of pink ice cream, molded in bride designs with angel food cake, olive sandwiches, homemade candies and punch, the color note of pink and green of the decorations being emphasized.

Out of town guests at the evening party were Misses Catherine Green, Bertie Crowder, Messrs. Deak Lee and Hal Thrasher, of Charlotte.
