Poppy Day In Shelby May 24

Mayor McMurry Urges All Citizens To Wear Poppy and To Help Disabled Vets.

Saturday, May 24, was set aside as Poppy day in Shelby under a proclamation issued today by Mayor S. A. McMurry. Mayor McMurry appealed to all citizens of the city to wear a poppy Saturday in honor of the World War dead and by purchasing a poppy to contribute to the welfare of the disabled veterans. The proclamation follows: "I, S. A. McMurry, mayor of the city of Shelby, mindful of the heroic sacrifice made by the gallant young men who gave their lives in defense of our country and its ideals of freedom and democracy in the World War, and of the great debt of gratitude which we owe to those who returned from that conflict broken in body, do hereby proclaim Saturday, May 24, Poppy day.

"I further call on the patriotic citizens of Shelby, which poured out such a full measure of its manhood and wealth in the critical days of 1917 and 1918, to recall the spirit of those times; to help the disabled veterans, their families and the families of the fallen by buying American Legion auxiliary poppies which will be sold on our streets on that day by the women of that organization; and to wear these flowers which so fittingly symbolize the sacrifice of those men and who gave their all."

Gun Battle Negro May Recover Now

George Neely, negro, who was severely shot in the gun battle Monday night week ago with police officers at Kings Mountain, continues to show improvement at the Shelby hospital, and stands an even better chance of recovering now than he has yet, it was said today. Neely was shot through the body and his intestines punctured by a bullet from the gun of Policeman Hicks, who was shot after the negro had shot off the right hand of Police Chief Greel Ware. A guard is being kept over Neely at the hospital to prevent an escape.

Making Ice Cream From Hail Stones In No. 1 Township

Down in No. 1 township where one of the worst hail storms in the history of this section fell last Thursday, The Star's correspondent reports this week that citizens are still making ice cream from the hail stones. The hail struck a section of No. 1 township and the Ashworth of Cherokee county. Hail was from three to four feet deep in drifts at dark Thursday night according to persons visiting the scene.

Wet Campaigns Draw Criticism Of Judge Webb

Vote Of Magazine Is Condemned.

Federal Judge Says Dry Law "Is One Of Best Enforced Laws In The State."

Asheville.—Federal Judge E. Yates Webb of Shelby, in his charge to the grand jury at the opening of United States district court here, condemned the increasing agitation for repeal of the 18th amendment and ascribed the success of the "wet cause" in the Literary Digest's straw vote on prohibition to the failure of the poll to reach the women of the rural communities.

Judge Webb declared the luxury and comforts now enjoyed by the people of the United States are the fruits of prohibition and insisted the return of the saloons would make automobile travel unsafe, undermine the schools and destroy the homes.

Asserting the prohibition law "is one of the best enforced laws in the state," Judge Webb declared that North Carolina would always be dry regardless of action taken by other states in the union. He said the women would not permit the return of the saloons because they had suffered most when this state and nation were wet.

Mother Of Mr. Yates, Penney Mgr. Passes

Mrs. Elizabeth Yates Henry Died Suddenly. Taken To Charlotte Today.

Mrs. Elizabeth Yates Henry, mother of Mr. Dale Yates, popular manager of the local J. C. Penney company store, died rather suddenly Monday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, following a brief illness. She had been feeling as well as usual until after the noon lunch when she was taken ill and is supposed to have suffered a stroke of apoplexy.

Mrs. Henry was born in Illinois and since the death of her husband who was a prominent physician in Illinois and Nebraska, she had been living with her three children. Recently she had been with her son who came back to Shelby two months ago from Dublin, Ga. and they lived on Hudson street at the time of her death. Mrs. Henry was 67 years of age and is survived by her one son of Shelby and two daughters, Mrs. Vada Berberet and Mrs. Carl Farmhals, of Los Angeles, California.

Funeral services were held here this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Palmer Funeral home by friends of the Christian Science faith of which she was a follower and her remains will be taken to Charlotte for entombment in the mausoleum of Oakland cemetery. Deceased had made many friends during her brief stay in Shelby and a number accompanied the remains to Charlotte.

The Penney company store is closed this afternoon.

Car Goes Over On East Warren Street

Buddy Ledford Receives Only Slight Injuries As Three Cars Take Curve.

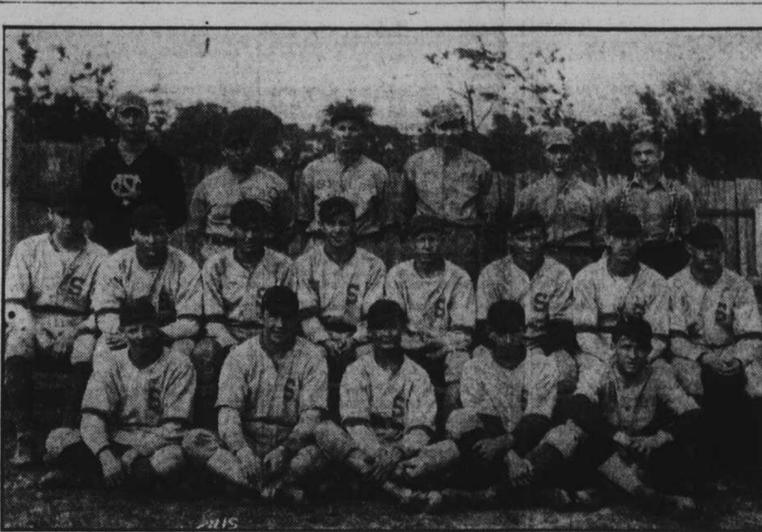

Buddy Ledford sustained slight injuries about the head and face shortly after noon today, when the Essex coach he was driving was side swiped and forced over the embankment on the south side of east Marion street. The accident occurred near the residence of Dr. J. R. Osborne.

Reports say that Mr. Ledford was on his way to lunch when a car came breezing by and cut in short to avoid hitting another car approaching on the opposite side of the street. The end of the bumper is said to have locked in Ledford's front bumper, forcing the Essex off the street and causing it to overturn as it reached the edge of the embankment.

Shelby Highs To Play Friday For 4th State Title; Western Champs

Defeat Mt. Airy Here Monday.

Morrismen Win Fourth W. N. C. Title In Close Struggle. Fine Pitching.

Friday afternoon the Shelby highs play the Hamlet highs at Chapel Hill for the State baseball championship in Class B. This is Shelby's fourth game in Chapel Hill for the State championship, having won the State crown three times already, and it is the first time on record that one school has been in the final game on four occasions.

The Morris outfit won the privilege of playing the Eastern Carolina winner and their own Western Carolina crown for the fourth time by defeating Mt. Airy here Monday afternoon 5 to 3 in a close struggle witnessed by near 2,000 fans.

In The East. Hamlet and Morehead City played in Hamlet Monday afternoon to settle the Eastern championship, but at the end of thirteen hectic innings the score was tied 1-1. The game was played again yesterday at McColl, South Carolina. Hamlet won by a score of 9 to 5.

Harkrader Excellent. Due to their ability to measure up to championship form at crucial moments the local team managed to nose out Mt. Airy Monday, but in losing the Mt. Airy aggregation exhibited one of the best high school hurlers ever seen here, and a dangerous murderer's row of left-hand sluggers who kept Sherrill Hamrick and his supporting cast in hot water from beginning to end. This Mt. Airy hurler, Harkrader by name, whipped up a fast ball hard for any hitter to see, and he had a big breaking out-drop similar to the one Dutch Whisnant used with such success for Shelby in bygone years. Harkrader's first inning, in which

Theatre Tickets To High Boys For Title

If the Shelby High baseball team wins the city's fourth State championship at Chapel Hill Saturday, each member of the team will be given a theatre ticket good for one week at the Carolina theatre, according to Manager L. C. Sipe.

Throughout the season Manager Sipe has been giving each Shelby player a free pass for one show for each victory. Now that the final game is here with a state championship at stake, Mr. Sipe, a sports enthusiast, is offering a week's entertainment free to the boys as an incentive to send them on to victory.

Play-By-Play Score Of Game On Friday

A play-by-play account of the Shelby-Hamlet game in Chapel Hill Friday afternoon will likely be secured by Stephenson's drug store for the benefit of Shelby and county fans who are unable to attend the game, it was announced today.

Ohio Cartoonist Pictures Gardner As Presidential Timber For 1930

Artist on Vacation Pictures Things And People He Saw Through The South.

A cartoonist on the Columbus, Ohio, Dispatch, recently made a motor trip through North Carolina and the South. When he returned he drew for the Sunday issue of his paper a full page of cartoons depicting the major events in his trip.

North Carolina shows up several times on the cartoon page, a drawing of Governor Max Gardner having with it the suggestion that he is good presidential timber for 1932. By the side of the Gardner drawing, a very good likeness of the governor appears the following statement: "We are strong for North Carolina from the governor of the state on down. They spent a hundred and fifty million dollars on fine roads,

Mull Improving At Hospital

Mr. Carr Mull, employe of the Blue Ridge Ice Cream company's plant here, who was severely injured when an ammonia refrigerating tank exploded at the plant Early Monday morning, was showing considerable improvement at the Shelby hospital today.

He was painfully blistered about the head and body by the force of the explosion and the escaping ammonia, and was temporarily blinded and his lungs filled with the ammonia fumes. For some time it could not be definitely determined at the hospital to what extent the ammonia had damaged his eyes, throat and lungs, but today reports had it that his eyes and lungs were rapidly clearing up, and no serious aftermath would likely result from the accident. Due to the shock, the burns and the ammonia fumes it was feared for some hours that pneumonia might develop, but the possibility of pneumonia setting in was said to be slight today.

Attack Cannon About Gambling

Josephus Daniels and 18 Others Charge Gambling and Unseemly Political Activity.

Dallas, Texas, May 13.—A new and more powerful attack to disrobe Bishop James Cannon, Jr., or at least, to remove him from the chairmanship of the board of temperance and social service was launched at the quadrennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, here today, when a series of charges against the prelate were filed by 19 prominent laymen of the church.

These new indictments allege that Cannon was guilty of unseemly conduct in his fight to defeat Gov. Alfred E. Smith in 1928 and that he bought stocks on margin, or gambled on the Wall street exchange. They were presented to the synodical committee of the conference by Josephus Daniels, former secretary of the navy; Judge J. T. Fitzhugh of Memphis, Tenn., and former Congressman James P. Woods of Roanoke, Va.

Backed By Laymen. Judge Fitzhugh would not release text of the charges but he admitted, however, that the allegation, backed by powerful laymen, would receive more consideration from the conference than those filed against Cannon recently by the Rev. Rembert Smith of Washington, Ga.

Certain church leaders predicted that the new allegations would force a church trial of Bishop Cannon. This trial cannot be held, however, unless it is recommended by the episcopacy committee.

Since only ministers may sit as judges of bishops at a church trial, none of them were asked to sign the Cannon charges, Judge Fitzhugh said.

Attached to the brief, into which the charges are incorporated, are photostatic copies of a New York bucket shop ledger sheets which show Bishop Cannon as a customer.

Barbershop Hours.

A change in hours is announced today by the Patton and Willis barbershops. Hereafter the shops, through the week, will open at 7 in the morning and close at 7 in the evening. The Saturday hours will be from 7 until 11.

Primary Voting May Be Big Jam Here This Year

Australian Ballot First Time

Fearful That New Style Will Take Longer To Vote Full County Vote.

Every Cleveland county voter who plans to vote in the primary of June 7 may not get to do so. Not because of the ruling by the attorney general that independents are not eligible to vote in either the Democratic or Republican box, but because the new Australian ballot method will be employed in the county for the first time in June.

Political leaders and those who keep track of such things are of the opinion that it will take considerably longer to vote 6,500 or 7,000 people by the Australian ballot than it did by the old voting methods before the secret ballot system came in.

Tried In City.

The Australian system of voting was used in Shelby last year for a school election, but has never been used for any other contest in the county. Since the city voting on the school issue was light it could not be determined just how the system would work when used over the entire county with a big vote turning out.

Between six and seven thousand people, perhaps more, will participate in the June primary, and if a big percentage of the voters wait until the afternoon to vote, as has been the custom in Shelby and over the county, then many of them may not get to vote at all as the first come first served idea will be followed.

From some source the estimate comes that only about 500 votes can be conveniently cast during a day's time in the new booths which are used in the Australian system. With this in view, party leaders are urging that all citizens get to the polls as early as possible on the morning of June 7.

"The vote will have to be pretty evenly divided over the day, if we get 6,500 votes cast before sundown in this county," one leader says in stating that voters should turn out early in the day for the first test of the new voting plan.

Mr. Arthur Russ Buried Thursday

Champion Watermelon Grower Succumbs To A Stroke of Paralysis.

Mr. Arthur M. Russ died Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Shelby hospital where he was taken Sunday, following a stroke of paralysis Saturday at his home two miles south of the Lily Mill. Mr. Russ who was 47 years of age had been in declining health for a number of years, suffering with high blood pressure.

Mr. Russ was the champion watermelon grower of the county, having won prizes a number of times at the county fair. He was an industrious and dependable citizen, held in high esteem by his host of friends. About twenty years ago he was married to Miss Georgiana Warren who survives with eight children, Claude, Clarence, M. G., Everett, Plato, Ben Erwin Russ, two daughters, Margaret and Myrtle. Three brothers and two sisters also survive.

Interment was at Zoar cemetery Tuesday, amid a large crowd, services being conducted by Rev. W. A. Elam.

Miniature Course Named "Peter Pan"

Louis Hamrick Wins Prize For Naming George Wray's New Golf Course.

From the hundreds of names submitted for the new miniature golf course at the rear of the Victor hotel, the name "Peter Pan Golf Course" suggested by Louis M. Hamrick was given first place. The three judges declared it was no easy task to select a name from the many clever titles proposed, but after careful weighing the advantages of the names picked for consideration, they cast their votes in favor of "Peter Pan." So the new course will be known from now on by this name.

George Wray, owner and manager of the course, said this morning that with favorable weather the course should be completed and ready for play in a very short time now. He made no announcement of a definite date for opening. However it is expected that everything will be in readiness by the latter part of this week.
