

No Mixing Of Tickets In June Primary

the authority of the county board of elections. To show that they are official, the facsimile signature of the chairman of the election board, John P. Mull, is printed on the reverse side. At the top of the ballots will be printed "Official Democratic Ballot" or "Official Republican Ballot" as the case may be.

No Extra Tickets.

Heretofore candidates have been allowed to have extra ballots printed and distributed prior to voting. Under the Australian ballot system, these will not be permitted. No voter, or any one else for that matter, is allowed to have more than one ballot and that at the time of voting, after the name has found properly registered.

Sample Ballots.

Sample ballots printed on yellow paper and marked "Sample, not to be used for voting" will be posted at the voting booths so the voters can study the names of the candidates and the system of marking before entering the booth to prepare his or her ballot.

As previously stated in The Star, so-called independent voters will not be permitted to participate in this primary. The primary is for the two major parties to nominate their candidates and if one wishes to "mix tickets," by voting part Republican and part Democrat, one must wait until the fall general election for that, when the names of the nominees of both parties will be on the same ticket.

Engineers Planning Battleground Roads

York, S. C.—V. E. Towles, senior highway engineer, bureau of public roads, department of agriculture, in charge of federal aid roads, in South Carolina, with headquarters in Columbia, J. S. Williams, division engineer for the South Carolina highway department, and H. J. Blackmon, locating engineer for the state highway department, with headquarters in Columbia, were in York recently en route to Kings Mountain battleground sector for the purpose of giving the highway leading to the battleground the once over, preparatory to making a report on the feasibility and need for the proposed road improvements and laying out of new roads needed to care for the big crowds which are expected to visit the battlefield on the occasion of the sesquicentennial next October.

From what these gentlemen had to say about the proposed road it is quite evident that the highway department in Columbia is very much interested in the matter, and also that it can reasonably be expected that the road builders will give every possible aid to the projects under consideration.

The three gentlemen left York about 11 o'clock this morning to visit the battleground and go over the several proposed roads in order that a comprehensive report may be made at the earliest possible moment relative to the matter of providing sufficient roadways leading to the battlefield from the several main highways from which contributing roads will be built.

Senate Quickly Approves Transfer Of Enforcement

Hoover's Effort To Transfer To Department of Justice Coming In a Few Days.

Washington, May 15.—After brief debate, the senate passed the administration bill transferring prohibition enforcement from the treasury to the justice department.

The first of the Hoover law enforcement program measures to get through both branches of congress was returned to the house for concurrence in some minor amendments and the bill is expected to reach the White House within a few days.

The heralded wet and dry debate in the senate which was expected to explode when this bill gained consideration, failed to develop. Senator Tydings, Democrat of Maryland, a wet, sought to add a provision prohibiting the poisoning of industrial alcohol, but this was rejected, 53 to 19.

Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, a former Democratic secretary of the treasury joined in support of the measure, but he said he did not want the senate or the country "to get the impression that the legislation resulted from the Hoover law enforcement commission."

Assailing the commission, he said it had spent nearly $250,000 already and was asking for that much more. He said so far as was known it "had diverted the money to an investigation of topics absolutely foreign to the purpose of the appropriation and the action of congress."

Glass, who sponsored the first appropriation for the commission, gave notice that he would introduce a resolution before additional money is appropriated calling for a statement of expenditures already made. He asserted that the commission had been spending its time "inquiring into delinquents, the depth of automobiles and such things."

The Virginian said prohibition became effective while he was secretary of the treasury and that he protested against placing enforcement under the Internal Revenue bureau.

He added that other treasury secretaries since had recommended transfer of enforcement. The principal amendment placed in the bill by the senate judiciary committee provides that the legislation shall become effective next July 1. The house provisions providing for joint control by the treasury and justice departments of industrial alcohol permits was retained.

Proper Care Needed In Rose Growing

Care In Planting And Feeding The Plant. Insect Control Necessary.

There is no secret in growing good roses but there are certain definite cultural methods that must be practiced in order to secure best results.

"In the first place the soil should be carefully and thoroughly prepared before setting the plants," says Glenn O. Randall floriculturist at State college. "The next step is the proper feeding of the plants during the growing season. This may be done by feeding every two or three weeks with manure water. A bushel of manure placed in a burlap bag and suspended in a barrel of water will provide sufficient feed for a number of plants. The manure, however, should remain suspended in the barrel not less than one night before the water is used around the plants."

Another aid to successful rose culture is that of placing a strawy manure mulch around the plant when mid-summer comes. This is especially recommended for outdoor roses as it will keep the soil moist and cool and develop a healthy root system at the time when the soil temperature is too high for many varieties.

Finally, states Mr. Randall, the successful rose grower must follow very definite practices of insect and disease control. At this time of the year many growers are troubled with plant lice that appear on the buds and tips of the growing shoots. This pest may be controlled by spraying with a solution made by dissolving one pound of Ivory or whale oil soap in eight gallons of water or by a nicotine spray made from one ounce of Black Leaf 40, one half pound cheap laundry soap and eight gallons of water.

Mildew or other fungous diseases may be controlled by spraying with Bordeaux mixture which may be obtained from the local seedsman, says Mr. Randall.

BIG SUM COMES FROM HUNTERS

Hunting License Fees Bring State $210,000 During Past Season.

Raleigh.—Fees amounting to approximately $209,000 were paid during the past season for the privilege of hunting in North Carolina. C. H. England, state game warden, announced.

It is probable, Mr. England intimated, that hunting license receipts may reach approximately $210,000 when a final check of all selling agencies is completed. This amount would exceed by about $10,000 the original estimates of collections for the season and will pass by about $20,000 the collections for the previous year.

Hunting license receipts it was pointed out, include a small amount, probably around $2,000 of the fisheries share of combination hunting and fishing licenses. They also include receipts for trappers' licenses which were issued for the first time last year and combination hunting and trappers' licenses.

Several factors, the state warden indicated, are believed to be involved in the increase of revenue from hunting licenses over budget estimates and receipts and receipts of the previous year. Chief of these, he believes to be an increased public appreciation of the state game laws and another, a more rigid enforcement of the provision of the laws by the wardens, and third, new types of licenses.

Unique Hospital Is Being Planned

Chicago.—A $5,000,000 hospital, 30 stories tall, with kitchen apartments for wealthy convalescents, will be built on Northwestern university's downtown Chicago campus.

Culminating eight years of effort, trustees of the Wesley Memorial hospital decided yesterday to re-affiliate their institution with the university and to erect "the finest 600-bed general hospital that can be built."

The hospital will adjoin and be operated in connection with the university's medical school. Both are Methodist institutions.

Misses Elsie and Elizabeth Gidney are visiting their brother, Robert Gidney, at Chapel Hill this week end.

FINAL APPEAL TO GROW FOODS

Raleigh, May 14.—"Last call to plant food and feed crops" is the subject of a proclamation issued today by Gov. O. Max Gardner to all "farmers," land-owning and tenant, dirt farmer and long-distance farmers, in every section of the state from the coastal plain to the mountains, not to let the months of May and June pass without planting an increase acreage in corn, hay and other subsistence crops to provide for the needs of next winter and spring."

The proclamation is issued "in obedience to the dictates of common sense and in order to insure the fullest realization of agricultural prosperity in my state."

"It is our last chance to be free next winter from the anxiety and the hardship felt by too many farming last winter. It is a call to action," Governor Gardner states, after giving figures on the needs in food and feed for people and animals in the state.

Fire Fighter Gets $1,800 For Lost Eye

Man Who Lost Eye Fighting Forest Fire Given Full Compensation.

Raleigh.—A man who lost an eye fighting a forest fire at the summons of a state forest warden has been granted the maximum compensation allowed under the workmen's compensation act.

Matt H. Allen, chairman of the industrial commission, decided that Harold A. Moore, of Buncombe county, who was summoned by Warden Everett Bryson to aid in fighting a fire, should receive $1,800 for the loss of his eye, which occurred while he was fighting the fire, and also that the state should pay his hospital, doctors' and medical bills and provide him with an artificial eye.

HOOPER ASKS CONGRESS FOR HALF MILLION NARCOTIC FUND

Washington, May 14.—President Hoover today asked congress to appropriate $500,000 to start a federal narcotic farm at Lexington, Ky., as the first of the two establishments for the treatment of drug addicts, authorized by congress in January, 1929.

HOTEL IS MOVED ON CAMEL BACK

Timimoun, Southern Algeria.—A hotel, loaded on camels, has been brought across the sands, 500 miles from the nearest railroad to this oasis in the Sahara desert.

It is the southernmost of a string of 53 hotels built in northern Africa by the French line, with the cooperation of the French government and is part of France's plan to develop Tunis, Algeria and Morocco into a new France only a couple of hours by airplane from the homeland.

The hotel came in sections, in packages of 200 pounds each, by camel. Caravan after caravan, traveling 45 days over the sands, brought here the tons and tons of hardware, windows, doors, glass, linen and silver, electrical installations, and hundreds of other things the Arabs in their tents never saw.

Neither architects nor workmen would come here to work in the Sahara. Hence the hotel was built by French line engineers, who traced on the sand the outline of the building because the native wouldn't have anything to do with blue prints.

Bricks made here by the natives formed the walls and date-palm trunks furnished girders, but nearly everything else came on a camel's back.

Yet once the hotel was built tourists came to the comfort of six-wheeled automobile sleeping cars along smooth, hard roads that run for thousands of miles over much of the developed parts of Tunis, Algeria and Morocco and dip down at several points into the Sahara desert.

Eggs For Delivery In November Cheap

Chicago.—Eggs for delivery in November sold at new low levels for the season on the Chicago mercantile exchange recently following publication of the government monthly storage report. The new price was 27 cents a dozen, wholesale, a loss of 7-8 cent. The government report showed an excess of about 1,800,000 cases of eggs in storage over the number a year ago. Price declines were aided by action of dealers in liquidating stocks.

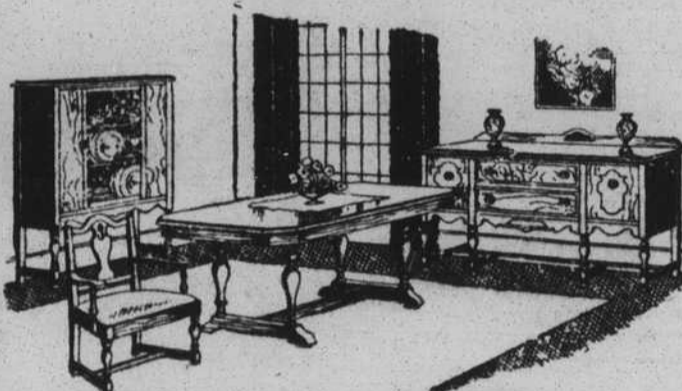

Lives there a man with nose so red who never to himself hath said "Who is this wonderful guy, Volstead?"
