At The Theaters

"Border Romance" of the Mexican border thrilled early audiences this afternoon at the Carolina theatre. Unlike the usual luxurious life of the screen, the picture strikes the spot that craves real red-blooded romances. "Border Romance" is playing through tomorrow. "The Follies of 1930" opens a two-day engagement, beginning Sunday night at midnight and running through Tuesday of next week.

For the first time, Monte Blue is seen and heard as a desperate gang leader on the screen in "Skin Deep." His disfigured face keeps him from mingling with the society he craves until he meets Betty Compson—and then—the transformation. Davey Lee is also a member of the supporting cast. "Skin Deep" is playing at the Webb theatre today only. For Saturday, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Loretta Young in "Loose Ankles."

Eskridge News

VOL. 2 MAY 23, 1930 NO. 12

Do you remember the fable of the Fox and the Grapes? How, when the fox found he could not reach them, he consoled himself by saying, "Well, it's no matter, they are probably sour anyway?"

Did you ever think there was anything fishy about that fable? Have you ever heard of a fox eating grapes? If there was ever an anti-vegetarian in the animal kingdom, it is this same Mr. Fox with his weakness for rabbits, mice and plump pullets.

There are fables and tales in the automobile business today that are just as unreal and ridiculous as the fable of the fox and the grapes. Among the many probably the most outstanding and most mis-leading is the trade-in allowance of a used car.

Have you ever wondered why some dealers would and could allow you more for your used car than some other dealer? Have you ever thought of the fact that you are actually paying for this high trade-in allowance yourself?

Can you figure how an automobile dealer can honestly live up to his promise of service and render honest service to his customers when he allows more for a used car than it is actually worth? How can he do a clean, honest business and keep from showing tremendous loss at the end of each month?

When you trade cars and get more for your car than you know it is actually worth think of the fox and the grapes and figure out where you stand.

We delivered Mr. Paul Whisnant, Shelby, N. C., his second Model A Ford car. His last choice was a Sport Roadster.

He: Fond of walking?
She: Yes, somewhat. But why do you ask?
He: Want to go to ride in my new car some evening?

Mr. J. S. Wilson, Shelby, N. C., is the proud owner of a New Model A town sedan.

Mr. G. A. Gold, R-1, Lattimore decided in favor of a New Model A 3-window Ford Sedan.

Landlord: I'm going to raise your rent next month.
Tenant: Thanks, I was just wondering how I could do it.

Teacher: Surely you know what the word "mirror" means, Tommy. After you have washed your face what do you look at to see if it is clean?
Tommy: The towel, sir.

We delivered Mr. Raymond W. Hamrick, Lattimore, N. C., his second model A Ford car. His latest purchase was a new Town Sedan.

Mr. Ralph Hoey, popular member of the firm of Cleveland Drug Co., purchased his fourth model A Tudor Sedan from us. Ask Mr. Hoey what he thinks of the model A Ford car. He can speak from actual experience.

Why do they call those twin sisters 'tonsils'?
Because everybody takes them out.

We delivered Mr. Raymond W. Jones, Dover Mill, Shelby, N. C., a new Model A Tudor Sedan.

Miss Maggie Self, Lawndale, N. C. has prepared for the pleasure of summer motoring by the purchase of a New Model A Sport Roadster.

Mr. D. Orin McSwain, R-4, Shelby, N. C., is now driving a New Model A Town Sedan.

When you get ready to trade in the old car and get a new one do not forget about the fox and the grapes.
