MERGER IS DOWNED BY PRESBYTERIANS

Charlottesville, Va.—Defeat of a proposed merger with the United Presbyterian church and selection of the school of the Ozarks, at Hollister, Mo., for the 1931 meeting place, featured sessions of the Southern Presbyterian general assembly.

A tabulation of votes of the 52 presbyteries on union with the United Presbyterians showed 37 votes in favor of union, 29 against, 25 for postponing action and one presbytery not voting.

The vote of 25 presbyteries to postpone action was said to have been prompted largely in anticipation of the larger movement to unite with all Presbyterian bodies.

Campaign Of Bailey Surprisingly Clean

Charlotte News.
When J. W. Bailey, Raleigh barrister, made known some months ago that he would oppose Senator Simmons for the Democratic nomination this June, there were those of us who looked upon his campaign as a cause lost before it began.

"The mouse would give battle to the mountain," he said, recalling whispered stories of the Simmons political machine, the Simmons political wizardry, the Simmons political vengeance upon those who opposed him.

Mr. Bailey, we thought, will conduct for himself a whirlwind oratorical tour, terming his opponent "traitor" and so forth, and go before the voters June 7 having accomplished little more than the splitting wide open of the Democratic party in North Carolina.

It has not been so. Mr. Bailey's campaign has been a dignified campaign of silence. Never has there been intimation that his opponent, Mr. Simmons, is not looked upon with utmost respect. There has been no mud-slinging, to attempt to revive issues of the 1928 presidential campaign, no vociferated charges of "treason" no whirlwind stumping of the state.

Mr. Bailey's campaign has been the campaign of a man who takes himself and his candidacy seriously, and looks confidently to the voters to do likewise. It is a campaign that has gained for him indubitably, friends and supporters, for one thing because of its unexpected balance and sobriety.

Ike's Tale

Dear Star Readers:

Sal washed her neck tuther Sunday and hit give her such a terrible cold that she haint bin able tu keep us enuf tu eat for the last two weeks; so I seed I wood have tu kit tu work or starve and I haint no fool about starvin till after the Dimmycrat primary comes off in June then I will have plenty company tu help me starve according tu the sines one sees. Sal wuz purty sick yit so I got Charlie Wortman's derby hat tu wear an went across on tuther side of Wards creek and talked polyticks tu everybody that would foal away their time with me.

And before we forget it, we wood be glad tu have all the folks from Shelby and Lawndale tu come tu Casar the 7 of June fur we aim tu lect a sheriff and some more fellers that day.

We air expecting Simmers an Baley tu be here that da, but if they air sick and can't come they will send sum little slips of paper with their names printed on 'em.

But I started tu tell about that trip on tuther side of Wards creek, so I'll tell hit rite now.

I didn't do no good till long in the evening when I cum upon a feller on the eric kbank a fishin an a talkin tu himself. I seed rite strate that he wernt no account and that made me like him. I told him I wuz out a representing the Dimmycrat primary subject tu June 7 1936.

He give me the first chaw of baccor I'd tasted fur a week and sed he would shore be at Casar that da an put in as many votes as the law would allow provided the officers didn't bother him about a ham of meat that wuz hid in a brush pile jist beyond his spring. As he told this I noticed two men, with pistols in their belts, draw nigh, and my conscience worried me to flee, fur thar wuz a big creasy place on my rite shoulder that I could not explain unless Sal wuz here.

Mean tuther meat thief made our escape an got away, but hit mite cum up agin us in the future or long about the judgment day, an we have arranged tu git us a lawyer if hit duz.

Sum thinks that part of the fellers running fur offis now will git beat, but I don't harly think they will unless tuther feller gits the most votes.

If they do git beat hit will go purty hard with 'em fur awhile but they will soon git over hit like Gus Richard did when me an Sal got married that time. You see Gus wanted tu marry Sal worse than I did, an hit likened tu a killed him fur a week er two. But he soon got tu laughin' about hit, and now ever time you meet Gus he is a laughing and that is what he is a laughin about dum him! IKE.

Publisher Hearst has taboed all "freak" typography. He will not allow any more boxed heads, initial letters and so forth in any Hearst publication. Even Arthur Brisbane must follow this new rule. Editor Hearst claims that he can save $100,000 a year in composing room time by eliminating these things.

The basis of leadership

READ again the familiar message on the back of the Camel package. . . . Camel, introduced in 1913, when other cigarette brands were offering all sorts of premiums and similar inducements, jumped into leadership solely on the basis of its built-in goodness.

That statement, spread throughout the world each day on millions upon millions of Camel packages, stands as your guarantee of the maximum in smoke pleasure: It reaffirms on every package of Camels the steadfast aim to give smokers a cigarette in which every possible bit of the cost is put into real smoke-quality.

The delightful, natural fragrance of Camel's choicer tobaccos, combined in the smooth, mellow harmony of a blend beyond imitation—that's what made Camel the world's foremost cigarette—and keeps it just that.

Don't deny yourself the luxury of CAMELS
