

Bailey Lead Over Simmons Is 63,000

121,465 and Thomas L. Estep, 107,3.

There had been intimations that Senator Simmons might run an independent in view of the fact that Bailey entered the campaign with the avowed intention of "punishing" Simmons for his refusal in 1928 to support Alfred E. Smith for president. The senator Sunday put a damper on this with the statement that such a prediction was "ridiculous."

Bailey Lead Climbs Higher

With only around 200 precincts of the 1811 in North Carolina yet to report J. W. Bailey's lead over Senator Simmons early today was 63,994 votes. Bailey had 185,245 and Simmons 121,251.

Bailey carried eight of the 10 congressional districts, losing the third and sixth, home district of Simmons and McLean. Bailey carried 83 counties to 17 for Simmons. His final majority, by official count, will likely be around 65,000 votes.

Election News Service Lauded; 2,000 Extras

Many compliments have been received by The Star for the manner in which the election news was handled Saturday night. An extra edition was issued at 12:30 giving partial returns and a second extra at 2:30 with final returns. The delay to these late hours was due to the time it required the election officials to count the Australian ballots, the last precincts to be heard from being Lattimore, Shelby No. 4, and South Shelby boxes.

Thousands Attend Party.
Over 2,000 copies of The Star's extras were sold on the streets Saturday night and Sunday morning and the completeness and rapidity were highly complimented by Johnnie McKnight, state news editor of the Charlotte News and Wisconsin Kendall, managing editor of the Rocky Mount Daily Telegram, both experienced men who know what effort it requires in a newspaper office to handle an election.

Thousands of people gathered in front of The Star office to get the returns and the crowd held until after midnight to get the belated returns. The bulletin board was in charge of Steve and Charlie Woodson, while Harry Woodson handled the microphone, interspersing the returns with his wisecracks to the amusement of the crowd. The Star appreciates the help of John P. Mull, Hopson Austell, Mike Austell, L. E. Ligon, Al Bennett, Charlie Hubbard and others who assisted in compiling the returns.

By telephone and telegraph. The Star kept posted on the senatorial race and its report of the Bailey majority in the last extra had a two hour scoop on the daily morning newspapers serving this territory. When the daily morning newspapers reached Shelby Sunday morning, their reports on Cleveland county and the U. S. senatorship were not as late and complete as The Star's extra carried.

Wiseman Kendall To Greensboro News

Rocky Mount Editor Joins Greensboro Paper. Has Successful Record.

Mr. Wiseman Kendall, son of Mrs. Henry Kendall, of Shelby, last week resigned as managing editor of the Rocky Mount Telegram to become associate editor of the Greensboro News.

For ten years Mr. Kendall has been with the Rocky Mount daily and as managing editor and editorial writer he has helped build that paper into one of the most influential in that section of the state. In addition to his activities in the newspaper game he has been active member of the Presbyterian church there and president of the Rotary club. In going to the Greensboro News, the former Shelby boy adds another name to the list of successful writers who have made a name for themselves as assistants to Earl Godbey. This list includes Gerald Johnson, now with the Baltimore Sun, and Lenoir Chambers, who is now connected with the Virginian-Pilot at Norfolk.

Majority Of Textile Mills In South On Fifty-Five Fifty Basis

Sixty-Eight Per Cent of Mills In This State Inaugurate New System.

Atlanta.—Ninety-eight per cent of the "narrow sheetings" textile mills in the United States are operating under the "fifty-fifty" maximum hours for labor and machinery, George E. Sloan, president of the cotton textile institute of New York city, told 40 leading cotton mill men of Georgia and South Carolina at an informal meeting here.

Sixty-eight percent of the eighty-three "narrow sheetings" mills in Georgia, Alabama and North and South Carolina are included in the textile list operating under the new system, Mr. Sloan said. "This recommendation looking to greater regularity in employment," Mr. Sloan said, "has gained national recognition as the most conservative movement that has come within the cotton industry during the past decade."

Voluntary Adjustment.
"Mills, north and south, with 23-500,000 spindles or approximately three-fourths of the going mills in the United States, have approved this policy of voluntary adjustment downward in working hours which looks more, perhaps to the welfare of labor than any other constituent party of the country."

"The new schedule is of particular significance in those mill centers where the combined day and night run has heretofore been from 10 to 15 hours per week in excess of the maximum, now being generally observed of 55 hours per week for the day shift and 50 hours per week for the night shift, with all overtime including the noon hour eliminated."

"This latter provision will now make it possible for the mill employees to have their noon day meal with their families and away from the spindles and looms."

Many Running Shorter.
It was brought out in the discussion that many mills throughout the south are running much shorter hours than the "fifty-fifty" plan at the present time due to the general recession in business.

In regard to this condition of unemployment, Mr. Sloan told the executives: "Such a policy on the part of the mill in balancing production with reduced demand is highly conservative and commendable. Indeed the piling up of stocks during the present emergency would be contrary to all principles of sound economics and harmful to the best interests of the mills, the mill employes and the consuming public."

Shelby Divides On Willis And Calton

An analysis of election returns is always interesting and reveals unique facts. A. L. Calton and Ivey Willis, both of Lattimore were seeking position on the county board of education. Calton carried two boxes in Shelby and Willis carried two. Their majorities in the boxes offset each other so that each Lattimore candidate received the same number of votes in the Shelby precincts Nos. 1, 2, 3, and 4. Calton, however, beat Willis in the Lattimore precincts where both live.

Invite 4 Governors To Visit Shelby This Month

Gathering In Shelby June 27 For Completing Battle Fete Plans.

Four governors, one a native of this city, have been invited to attend a meeting of the Kings Mountain battleground celebration committee which will be held in Shelby on Friday, June 27.

They are Governor Gardner, of North Carolina; Governor Horton of Tennessee; Governor Richards, of South Carolina; Governor Polard of Virginia, and former Governor Harry Byrd, of the same state.

To Approve Program.
The meeting to be held here will be for the purpose of approving the program for the 150th anniversary celebration of the Battle of Kings Mountain to be held on October 7.

Concerning the meeting the Charlotte Observer says: "Chairman Clarence Kuester of the celebration committee and J. D. Lineberger of Shelby had a conference here Friday concerning plans for the meeting, which will be held at the Hotel Charles in the Cleveland city."

"Mr. Kuester said that demands are being received already for printed copies of the program and the committee is anxious to complete it and secure the approval of the executives of the three states most interested in the sesquicentennial observance."

Why Hoover Should Eat on Top Mountain

Stevenson Secretary Made The British Eat There Instead Of Charlotte.

Yorkville Enquirer.
The following letter received from Hon. A. Eugene Hutchison, secretary to congressman Stevenson, in regard to what The Enquirer had to say in regard to the proposed luncheon to Mr. President Hoover, the presidential party, governors, etc., on the occasion of the sesquicentennial celebration on October 7th, is self-explanatory as well as very interesting.

Mr. Hutchison's letter: Editor The Yorkville Enquirer: You are right—give the president his dinner, right on the battleground in picnic style, right where the battle was fought and won, in York county, South Carolina—give him a York county style of picnic—friend chicken, Bethel township ham, 2 or 3 years old, pies, custards, cakes and plenty of cool spring water (out of a gourd). And if the day looks as if it might be cold get Jim Porter to make some cooter-soup, like he gave us at the R. F. D. dinner on the 30th of May. If that doesn't make a Democrat out of Mr. Hoover, nothing will. He gets plenty of hotel cooking, and as proof that he will enjoy a picnic dinner, I call your attention to the fact that whenever his duties will permit, he goes to his fishing camp in Virginia, on the Rapidan and for a few days enjoys camp life.

"One of the best dinners I ever ate was served on the battlegrounds by the D. A. R. chapter from Yorkville, two years ago, and it was plenty good enough for anybody—president or any one else. The old boys who won the fight, if they had anything to eat at all, ate it on the battleground, so let's have the dinner there also."

"The British wanted to eat their dinner at Charlotte, with his Lordship, Earl Cornwallis, but Campbell, Sevier, Shelby et al, decided it was best for the British to stay and eat it with them, right on the battleground, and so far as I know those who were able to eat, ate it there."

Planning To Probe Primary Cost Here

Senate Committee Expected To Investigate Expenditures in State Contest.

Washington—One of the first aftermaths of the North Carolina Senatorial primary will be an investigation of expenditures by the senate committee, which has already gone into the Illinois and Pennsylvania primaries.

Senator Gerald Nye, the youthful committee chairman, said that no arrangements have as yet been made for the investigation. Nor have any investigators been sent into North Carolina so far. Meetings of the committee so far have been in Washington, but it is possible that hearings may be held in Raleigh.

Searching inquiry into sources of campaign contributions may be undertaken, if the committee deems such steps necessary. It was wide powers to go into these matters. It has been very definitely established in the Smith and Vane cases that the senate has full power to inquire into primary expenditures.

Shelby-Spartanburg Open League There Thursday; Here Saturday

Second Game With Sparts Here Saturday In New Semi-Pro Loop.

Shelby's first taste of league baseball since the days of the old Blue Ridge league will be dished up to fans here next Saturday, but the Shelby team really starts playing in the new league Thursday, meeting the Spartanburg club at Spartanburg.

The four clubs in the new league, to be named this week, are Shelby, Spartanburg, Forest City, and Spindale.

The games for the opening week are:

Thursday—Forest City at Spindale; Shelby at Spartanburg. Saturday—Spartanburg at Shelby; Spindale at Forest City.

Two games per week will be played until the end of the season. The Cleveland Cloth mill team, managed by Casey Morris, which played Gastonia here Saturday, will represent Shelby in the new semi-pro club although the club is to be strengthened this week.

Smith May Start.

Manager Morris believes "Lefty" Smith, former Cherryville star, now with the cloth mill, has a good future as a hurler and Smith will likely start the season's opener for Shelby Thursday at Spartanburg. However, Sykes, a semi-pro hurler of some fame, who will join the club here this week with "Red" Ormand, may be the Thursday pitcher. Manager Morris or Hal Farris, the slugging high school captain and catcher, will do the receiving. Jack Hoyle, former Shelby High hurler and later a semi-pro player, is getting in condition and will likely join the Shelby hurling staff during the week.

Plans now under way call for a mammoth crowd for Shelby's first game at home Saturday. The Sparts are a fast aggregation and will give the assembled Shelby boys very stiff opposition.
