CAMP WILL OPEN AT CHIMNEY ROCK

Boys From 18 States Will Attend During Fourteenth Session.

Chimney Rock.—Boys from 18 states will attend the 14th season at the Chimney Rock camp for boys, on Lake Lure, which opens in the Chimney Rock section July 2, according to an announcement made by Reese Combs, founder and director of the camp.

Plans have been completed for the opening of camp July 2 and a large staff of mature and experienced counselors will be in attendance. Mr. Combs as usual will be in charge of the camp as director. He is a resident of Miami, Fla., where he has been active for many years in the Boy Scout movement and other boys' work. He is a member of the Camp Directors of America.

Associated with Mr. Combs in the conduct of the camp will be Charles A. Hamilton, Jacksonville, Fla., and James A. Caldwell, Cincinnati, O., as associate directors.

Applications are being received daily and from indications the enrollment will be to capacity. About 40 counselors comprise the camp staff.

Thirty Buildings.
There are 38 buildings on the camp property, including a large modern gymnasium and recreation room which is manned by experienced chefs and waiters. An abundance of fresh vegetables, fruits, and the best of western meats are served the boys. Mrs. Edna Glass, an experienced dietitian of Miami, will be in charge of this department.

Dr. Julian Johnson, of the University of Pennsylvania, will be the resident camp physician and Drs. Biggs and Crawford, of Rutherfordton, will be consulting physicians. Mrs. Fred Yeager will be camp nurse, returning for her second year.

David D. Gregg, of the Withrow high school, Cincinnati, will be waterfront director for his third year and will be assisted by a staff of eight experienced swimmers, instructors, and American Red Cross life savers.

Camp activities at Chimney Rock include every camp feature dear to the boy's heart. Located directly on the shores of Lake Lure the camp occupies a site of unusual beauty. Athletic fields, tennis courts, rifle and archery ranges, Indian village and other features are appreciated by the campers who range in age from eight to 16.

Chimney Rock Camp is an "approved camp" under the rules and regulations of the state board of health.

State of North Carolina,
Department of State,
To All to Whom These Presents May Come—Greeting:
Whereas, it appears to my satisfaction, by duly authenticated record of the proceedings for the voluntary dissolution thereof by the unanimous consent of all the stockholders, deposited in my office, that the Union Telephone Co., a corporation of this state, whose principal office is situated in the town of Fallston, county of Cleveland, state of North Carolina (A. F. Hicks being the agent therein and in charge thereof, upon whose process may be served), has complied with the requirements of chapter 22, Consolidated Statutes, entitled "Corporations," preliminary to the issuing of this Certificate of Dissolution;

Now therefore, I, J. A. Hartness, secretary of state of the state of North Carolina, do hereby certify that the said corporation did, on the 21st day of May, 1930, file in my office a duly executed and attested consent in writing to the dissolution of said corporation, executed by all the stockholders thereof, which said consent and the record of the proceedings aforesaid are now on file in my said office as provided by law.

In testimony whereof, I have hereto set my hand and affixed my official seal at Raleigh, this 21st day of May, A. D. 1930.

J. A. HARTNESS
Secretary of State.

Necker Killer Eludes Metropolitan Police

New York City Sleuths Pose as Petters, but Fail to Trap Fiend Who Has Slain Two and Threatened 14 Other Persons

New York.—Two mysterious slayings and written threats to massacre fourteen more victims have terrorized the entire city and sent 1,000 New York detectives dragnetting the city in the most extensive and frenzied man-hunt in years.

All the searchers know of the killer is that he is well educated, a religious fanatic who imagines himself the executioner for an international secret society and seeks his prey from among spooning couples who park their automobiles in lonely sections of Long Island.

His first victim was Joseph Mozymsky, College Point, L. I., grocer and father of six children, who was shot to death on a deserted road near Whitestone as he sat in his car talking to nineteen-year-old Catherine May, whom the police allege was his sweet heart.

Miss May's story of the astonishing murder was so fantastic that she was held in $50,000 bail as a material witness. However, when a few nights later Noel Sowley, a wealthy radio mechanic, was killed in identical circumstances near the State Insane Asylum in Creedmoor, Police Commissioner Mulrooney accepted both crimes as the work of the same brain-twisted fanatic.

With Sowley when he was slain was Betty Ring, pretty 17-year-old daughter of a city policeman. Miss Ring's tale of the crime and description of the killer tallied with Miss May's.

As soon as he had time, the homicidal lunatic penned and mailed an almost incoherent letter written in code to the New York Evening Journal. This missive announced the second crime and promised a third killing in College Point at 10 o'clock the following evening.

It added that a dozen more murders would follow unless some valuable documents were returned to the international secret society.

Miss Ring told the police that she and Sowley were in his automobile when a shadowy form sidled out of the darkness, and demanded Sowley's license. Before the radio mechanic could answer, the stranger drew a gun and fired two bullets into his head, killing him instantly.

Next, at the point of his still smoking gun, he forced the terrified girl to sign her name and address and said he would kill her, too, if she told the police anything about the shooting.

Miss Ring, like Miss May, was then compelled to walk with the slayer for almost a mile, where he put her on a bus. Just before leaving her, the killer asked her to kiss him. Aside from that she said she was not molested.

Both girls furnished the police with excellent descriptions of the murderer.

TOM, DICK, HARRY BYRD MEET AGAIN

Washington.—Tom, Dick, and Harry Byrds of Virginia every one, fraternized as they did in years gone last week while the middle brother of the trio was at rest from the excitement of his hour.

Tom, whose farm near Winchester blossoms yearly with the approach of apple time, had by his side his ten-year-old daughter, Margaret Lewis Byrd.

Dick was enjoying the companionship too of Dick, Jr., aged ten, who grew and grew and grew while his dad was exploring Antarctica.

Harry, the last governor of Virginia, brought two children to the family gathering—Harry, Jr., aged 15, and Miss Westwood Byrd, 13.

There are two major classes of Long Distance Service
"Person-to-Person" Calls
"Station-to-Station" Calls

A Person-to-Person call is one where you specify that you wish to talk to a particular person at a distant telephone. The rates for this service are the same at all hours, whether you talk during the day or night. Charges may be reversed on all Person-to-Person calls.

A Station-to-Station call is one where you are willing to talk to anyone who answers at the distant telephone. After the called telephone answers, if you wish, you may then ask for some particular person, but the charges on a station-to-station call begin when the distant telephone answers. The rate for Day Station-to-Station service is lower than the Person-to-Person rate and in the evening between 7 and 8:30 the Station-to-Station rate is about one-fourth less than the Day Station-to-Station rate. Station-to-Station calls made between 8:30 P. M. and 4:30 A. M. cost about half as much as Day Station-to-Station calls. Charges may be reversed on Station-to-Station calls when the rate is 25c or more.
