IN JUNE

Let roads be taken that run long,
and wind;
And wild strange trails be gayly
followed now;
On unknown open banks youngfingered creepers and
Such nooks to dream in underneath
the sweeping bough;
And under endless breeze-blown heaven try
Pattern and distance of any trampled tracks;
Let dawn flush up; let sunset pass
you by
And dusk bestow a moth to flutter past, and back.

As well, bestow the simple camp-
light, wondrous, old;
Soft glow of moonbeams in measures of sweet dew;
And instant utter sleep for which
the given day was sad;
By which the dawn is bought once
more for you.
Catch the green scarves about you
From bare shoulders of the wind;
Swim into clear wide waters
And drabble in a brook;
Forget all time behind this;
Forget a mock that grinned;
Through green glory, for a season,
Just loiter on, and look.
Read vigor-hashed harmonious lines,
Accidental green designs
Written in the sun-fall
On your world's blue wall
In June.

Party for Mrs. Suttle
Mrs. Cline Lackey, formerly of Shelby, was a charming hostess on Wednesday evening when she entertained at a beautiful garden party honoring Mrs. Lowery Suttle, a recent bride. Those present from Shelby were Mesdames Suttle, Reid Young and C. S. Young.

Mrs. Logan Hostess
Mrs. H. A. Logan was cordial hostess to the members of the Spanish war auxiliary Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock when they held one of their regular meetings. There was no program as the meeting was devoted to business. After the business session Mrs. Logan was assisted by her daughter, Dovie, and small son Charles, in serving sandwiches and tea.

Candy Ice Cream
Those who like both candy and ice cream will enjoy this unusual receipt for ice cream which combines the two. And besides that, it is one of the easiest ice cream mixtures to make that we know anything about. Dissolve one pound peppermint stick candy in one quart of milk. Add one quart cream, whipped, and freeze in ice cream freezer. (We have not tried this receipt in an electric refrigerator.) In dissolving the candy in the milk, it should first be crushed as fine as possible, and the milk may be slightly warmed to hasten the dissolving process, as it is a slow one.

Hostess to Bridge Club
Mrs. Charlie Williams was an attractive hostess on Thursday morning at 10:30 when she entertained the members of the South Washington Bridge club. Mixed summer flowers were used to decorate the rooms, and the guests found their places with attractive little tallies. Bridge was played at four tables, and when scores were added, Mrs. C. B. McBrayer was fortunate enough to be winner of the high score prize, and Mrs. Tom Moore won the prize for second high score. Mrs. Williams was assisted by Mrs. B. O. Stephenson in serving a luncheon plate followed by an ice course.

Miss Pegram Honored
Miss Ruth Laughridge was a charming hostess Wednesday afternoon when she entertained in compliment to her house guest, Miss Douglas Pegram, of Hamlet. Miss Laughridge received her guests in a becoming pink gandy dress and Miss Pegram wore blue chiffon. The rooms where the tables were arranged were beautifully decorated with quantities of summer flowers, and attractive little place cards were used.

Bridge was played at five tables and when scores were added Miss Margaret Blanton had scored highest and was presented with a box of correspondence cards. Miss Mary Jenkins received two lovely lace handkerchiefs as prize for second high score. Miss Pegram received, as guest prize, a pair of silk hose. The hostess was assisted by her

CHICAGO DIGS UP OLD LAW TO END THREE SITTING

Chicago, July 24.—The old reliable statutes, which may be depended upon to provide a "don't" for almost everything that anyone might want to do, have finally provided a cure for tree sitting.

Careful search of the law has uncovered no specific ruling against tree sitters, but it has found a rule striking at fathers and mothers of tree sitters, which amounts to the same thing.

Carl J. Appell, assistant corporation counsel, had discovered that parents may be fined $100 and sent to jail for three months for allowing their children to endanger their life and limbs. The law is dusty with age, but that doesn't make any difference.

Police today were to be given orders to get the boys out of the branches by nightfall. This may provide some tense moments, with portly policemen pursuing nimble youths from limb to limb, leaping and frisking like—well, monkeys or squirrels. However, with the parents themselves in danger of arrest, the problem may be found to have simplified itself.

The only tree sitter who viewed the threatened police invasion without alarm was Steve Makowski, who is nineteen years old and therefore outside the authority of the juvenile officers. Besides, he has an attorney all ready to get a writ of injunction.

The Backslider.

"Rastus, how is it you have given up going to church?" asked Pastor Brown.

"Well, sah," replied Rastus, "it's dis way. I like to take an active part an' I used to pass de collection basket, but dey's give de job to Brothah Green, who returned from de war."

"In recognition of his heroic service, I suppose?"

"No, sah, I reckon he got dat job in recognition of his having lost one of his hands."

HARD YEAR FOR WORKING GIRLS

Chicago, July 25.—Chorus girls en route to Broadway in their dreams are detouring behind cigar stands and hosiery counters in Chicago these days, for the theater here is suffering its worst summer in the city's history.

But not only is the rank and file of the profession affected. A matinee here is running an elevator in a loop skyscraper. A popular juvenile lead found employment in a lumber yard. Leading ladies are saying "order, please?", and a villain is selling neckties in a shop on the Boul Mich.

In fact, despite reports that vaudeville is in increasing demand, stage folks are taking any job they can get and glad to get it—it was learned from the Actors' Equity Association and various theatrical employment agencies.

The talkies, too many applicants to a job, a change in the public's taste, the stock market "hang-over" were blamed for the situation by those in the theatrical know. Yet their theme song is "better times are coming."

About 2,000 actors, actresses and performers look to Chicago for their ham-and-eggs in the summer. Nearly 800 of these are still making the rounds hopefully even though some of the employment agents are reported to have "gone fishing."

The main source of pay-checks in the profession in summer in Chicago are the stock shows that are cast here and sent out on the road.

But—not one stock show was sent out of Chicago this summer generally there are from 25 to 30.

Letting Him Down

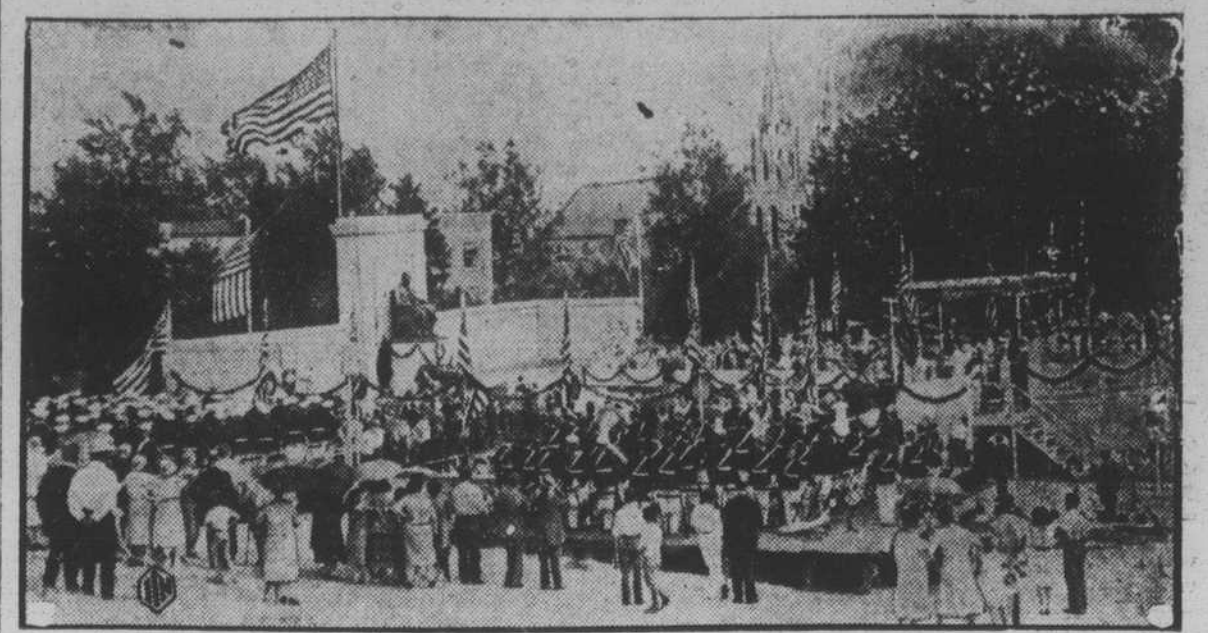

The new member of the city council felt very proud of himself, and nodded amiably to any passerby whom he thought he had seen before.

"Excuse me, sir," responded one man to whom he had given a particularly affable bow, "but I think I saw your likeness in the papers." "Er—yes, my photograph has been rather prominent lately," gushed the new member.

"I thought I could tell your face again," continued the other, "and do you know, I've tried that very same medicine for my rheumatism and it hasn't cured me."

Mrs. William M. Boggs, of Olin, and Mrs. Docia Hubbard, of Belwood, are visiting Mrs. Gaither Higgins on West Marion street, Mrs. Boggs is Mrs. Higgins' sister-in-law.

Memory of Deceased Statesman Still Lives

A general view of the ceremonies attending the unveiling of the statue of James Buchanan in Meridian Park, Washington, D. C. President Hoover, in making the principal address, stressed the statesmanship and devotion to duty of the fifteenth President of the United States. Many noted Pennsylvanians representing the State of Buchanan's birth were on hand to take part in the presentation of the statue to the United States. (International Newsreels)

Entrant in the All-American Air Derby

Lieut. Morgan Harding standing by the Airstocrat winged bullet plane he will fly in the all-American air derby which starts from Detroit on July 21st. Harding is a native of New Brunswick, N. J. He has been flying for the past 13 years and is considered one of the country's most expert airmen of youth triumphing over age. (International Newsreels)

At The Theaters

The Webb opened this afternoon with an entire change of program. Hoot Gibson is featured in "Roaring Romance", an all talking whirlwind western comedy-drama, with comedy shorts, fables and the second showing of the serial, "Lightning Express." Monday of next week comes an all talking technical production, "Under a Texas Moon."

"Hell's Island" is on its last run today at the Carolina theater. Starring are Jack Holt and Ralph Graves, in a mighty drama of the Border Legion. Comedy reels and songton novelties add many happy laughs to the entertainment. Saturday—a complete change of shows—George O'Brien and Antonio Moreno in "Rough Romance," with comedy and songton films.
