Senator Norris Who Bolted, Leads Race

Senator Robinson of Arkansas Also Has Lead In Democratic Primary.

Senator Norris of Nebraska, who bolted his party in the last election to support Governor Al Smith and has since been the inveterate foe in congress of President Hoover's policies, nevertheless took the lead in the Nebraska Republican primary, yesterday over his two opponents.

Another senator of long standing, whose renomination seemed doubtful because of his part in the 1928 election, Senator Robinson of Arkansas, got off to a commanding start in the democratic primary and was easily leading his opponent, Tom W. Campbell of Little Rock.

Senator Norris entered the primary with the backing of the Nebraska railroad brotherhoods, and officials of these organizations appealed to democrats within their ranks to qualify for republican ballots to aid him.

Supporters of William H. Stebbins, the "regular" republican candidate, pointed to the endorsement of Stebbins by Bishop Frederick D. Lee, presiding officer of the Methodist church in Nebraska, and said that many Methodists who are democrats had rallied to their candidate.

Aaron Read, 84 year old resident of Madison, Neb., who sought the republican senatorial nomination on a wet platform, virtually withdrew from the race several days ago when he conceded he could not win the nomination and announced he would support Stebbins should the latter win the primary nomination.

The rule of the party in Arkansas barring bolters in the 1928 presidential election from participating in the primary was rigidly enforced in some sections and moderately in others, according to reports from over the state a few hours after the polls opened.

The latest tabulation of the votes gave the following standings: Nebraska: For senator, republicans: 17 out of 2030 precincts; Norris 1,151; Stebbins 1,075; Read 39.

Arkansas: For senator, democrats, 96 out of 2,028 precincts; Robinson 4,251; Campbell, 1,114. For governor 100 precincts out of 2,628; Parrish 3,825; Gray 87; Hays 3,328; Sheffield 343.

Charles W. Bryan, brother of the late William Jennings Bryan took a top heavy lead over Anton Jensen in the democratic gubernatorial contest. Returns from 36 precincts gave Bryan 1,577 votes to 355 for Jensen.

In the republican gubernatorial test, Governor Weaver had 3,071 votes and Harry C. Palmer, 1,128 in 43 precincts.

May Change Date Baptist Meet; Avoid Conflict

Moderator Suggests Meeting of Executive Committee for Next Monday

A meeting of the executive committee of the Kings Mountain Baptist association has been called by Rev. John W. Suttle, moderator, to consider a change in the date of the meeting of the association. It has been set for October 7th and 8th at Patterson Springs, but this conflicted with the sesqui-centennial of the Kings Mountain Battle which will attract thousands of people. As many of the Baptists of this county will no doubt want to attend the celebration which will be honored with the presence of President Hoover, Mr. Suttle thinks it advisable to change the date of the association.

Mr. Suttle will recommend to the executive committee that the date be changed from October 7th and 8th, Tuesday and Wednesday, to October 9th and 10th. Only the executive committee has the authority to make a change, so the meeting is called for Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the First Baptist church.

The association will meet this year with the Patterson Springs Baptist church, four miles south of Shelby.

Running Down Rumors

In these hot days when bodies are unemployed, tongues are wagging over-time. You can sit around and hear anything. What some fellow expresses as possible to happen, another gets it that it has happened and off the story goes as true and correct. Here are three of many false rumors you can hear any day. It keeps a newspaper man busy trying to keep the world correctly informed and then a newspaper gets it wrong some time.

"Mayor McMurry's salary has been raised." The amount of his pay varies, according to the one who spins the yarn. Here's what Mayor McMurry says, "No, my salary has not been raised. Wish it was. I have not asked for a raise and so far as I know it has never been discussed by the board of aldermen who have such authority."

"Chimney Rock has been condemned. The rock is leaning and it has been found so dangerous, the road to the rock is closed." That's another. Chimney Rock has not been condemned. It leans no more than ever. You can visit the top of the chimney any time and hundreds of people are doing it every day. If you don't believe it, try it.

"Was Pete O'Shields hurt when the lightning struck the tree in which he is sitting?" asked a voice to The Star office over the phone last Wednesday afternoon after the storm. "No, Pete was not hurt, neither was the tree. The lightning did not strike. Where did you get your information?"

Better verify everything you hear before you repeat it.

Southern Will Discontinue Two Trains Between Shelby and Marion on August 17th

Two passenger trains on the Southern will be discontinued between Shelby and Marion on Sunday, August 17th, according to an announcement made this morning by R. H. Graham, district passenger agent.

Permission to discontinue these two trains was received from the State Corporation commission a few days ago and it is understood no protest was made on the part of the patrons on this division. Heavy loss in operation was given as the reason for the discontinuance of these two trains.

State Fair Opens Oct. 13 For A Week

Governor Gardner To Speak In The Interest Of His Live At Home Program

Raleigh, Aug. 11.—Effects of Governor Gardner's live at home program will be in evidence in every department of the North Carolina state fair, which will be held in Raleigh during the week of October 13, Secretary-Manager T. B. Smith said today.

Secretary Smith heartily endorsed the governor's program for the agricultural salvation of North Carolina, and promised to make the fair a practical demonstration to the farmers of the state of how the live at home program should be carried out and of how it will help them.

A special department will be given to the live-at-home exhibits, the farmers who are living at home will show how they are succeeding in making their homes more attractive and increasing their incomes through practicing the methods of diversified farming and by raising their own food and feed stuffs and live stocks. Blanton And Other Capital

Thought That The Institution Will Open In The Early Fall And Do Small Loan Business.

The Shelby Industrial bank is the name of a new banking institution which will open in the fall of the year in Shelby, according to information obtained this morning from Mr. Geo. Blanton who forwarded on yesterday an application for charter to the State Corporation commission.

Already $25,000 capital stock has been subscribed by C. C. and Geo. Blanton, Forrest Eskridge, C. S. Mull, A. P. Weathers and others and it is expected that the capital stock of the new institution will be $100,000. An industrial bank has been discussed for several months as a need for Shelby to care for small loans, but it was not until this week that application for charter was drafted and sent to Raleigh. The location, personnel, etc., of the bank has not been determined upon as Mr. C. C. Blanton and Mr. Forrest Eskridge are both away this week at Blowing Rock and no steps will be taken toward the actual organization until their return.

An industrial bank, it is understood, does not handle checking accounts, but accepts money for time deposit, issuing therefor certificates of indebtedness which gives the bank money to do its work in the community. Its purpose will be to make small loans, discount paper and otherwise trade in collateral, thus performing a function that is not now performed by state and national banks operating in this locality.

The new banking institution will operate under a state charter issued by the Corporation Commission and be subject to the laws not governing the operation of such institutions.

Making small loans to borrowers who prefer to pay back in weekly installments, will be one of the principal functions of the new industrial bank, while mercantile paper taken by merchants and others in the conduct of their business, will be accepted at discount, carried to maturity and collected.

Jackson and O'Brine who are trying to establish a new world's record of continuous flight in the air, succeeded in doing so at noon today in St. Louis. At noon today Jackson and O'Brine had succeeded in staying up longer than the Hunter boys and have thereby made a new record and they are still flying smoothly with no indication as to when they will come down.
