Thousands Return Employment Again

Highlights and Shadows.

Highlights and Shadows does not want to pose as a forecaster of business conditions, but it sees a hopeful sign in an Associated Press dispatch from Detroit dated August 4.

This story chronicles the return to work of 116,500 employes in the various automobile factories of that city. Ford called 100,000 back to their jobs; Oakland, 5,300; Timken-Detroit Axle company, 2,000; Graham-Paige, 1,150, and Packard, 8,500. Undoubtedly this marks the beginning of a period of gradual improvement in the automobile industry, and when this sick giant begins to convalesce every other business will improve with it.

Of course, no boom period is immediately ahead, but there should be a slow healthy improvement in business during the balance of the year, leading up to a good business year in 1931.

The progressive publisher or printer who is on his toes and ready to take advantage of any opportunities that occur should be able to maintain a volume of business at least equal to that of last fall.

WAKE RURALIST BELIEVES IN FILLING UP FEED BARN

Raleigh.—John L. Sears, Morrisville, route 1, Wake county, believes it is a good practice to fill the feed barns, the smoke house and the pantry as well as the tobacco barns.

Mr. Sears, according to County Agent John Anderson, cultivates 45 acres of tobacco, but he also has 45 acres of good corn, seven acres in sweet potatoes, one and one-half acres in sorghum, four acres in soybeans for hay, a large home garden, and is now fencing five acres of corn, soybeans and sweet potatoes on which to turn his hogs.

Mr. Sears believes in "living-at-home" first and then planting the so-called money crops, Mr. Anderson said.

State's Big Revenue From Buses, Trucks

Collects Approximately $37,000 Annually From This Source In Carolina.

Raleigh, Aug. 27.—The six percent state tax on the gross receipts of busses and trucks is yielding the state approximately $370,000 a year, it was revealed today by records at the office of State Commissioner of Revenue Allen J. Maxwell.

The tax on busses last year brought into the state treasury $191,000, while that collected from the operation of commercial trucks totaled $179,614.

The tax of six per cent on the gross revenue of trucks operated for hire and busses was levied ten years ago. At that time, it was estimated that the tax paid by railroads amounted to approximately the same percentage of their gross revenue.

In recent years, a movement has been started by the railroads seeking to have the tax paid by operators of commercial trucks and busses competitors of the railroads, increased. Railway officials claim that trucks and busses are allowed to use improved highways constructed out of the state's funds without contributing their proper share to the construction and upkeep of the highways.

"Dead" Wife Returns. Springfield, Va.—George J. Packard, who married more than a month ago in the belief that he was a widower, was astounded by the sudden appearance of his first wife. Police are now puzzled over the identity of a woman buried last year as Mrs. Packard. She admits writing a "suicide note" and leaving her home.
