

Actor To Give Home For Aged

Maurice Chevalier Will Give Half Million From Income To Found Institution.

Paris.—Maurice Chevalier has embarked on a project, news of which has leaked out without the usual publicity attending the acts of movie stars. He is founding a home for old actors and promises to give half a million dollars within five years.

Since he returned here, Chevalier has told friends of the theater he has already put aside a percentage of his opulent earnings in Hollywood, saying, "I am making enough so there is no danger of poverty for me or mine, and I want to do something for those who are out of luck forever."

Heiress-Bride Held In N. J. Holdup

Married last December and presumably living on the income from a $50,000 legacy held in trust for her until she comes of age, 16-year-old Mary Thomas (above), South Bend, Ind., has been arrested, along with Jack Selinsky, pugilist, and two alleged holdup men, who are said to have robbed a garage in Kearny, N. J.

THREE-DAY WEEK TO END SLUMPS IS PREDICTED BY BRITISH JURIST

Baltimore.—A prediction that men in the future all over the world will work but three days a week and be paid high wages was made by Sir William Jowitt, Attorney General of England, who with a group of European jurists visited Baltimore.

The Englishman said there will be ups and downs in the wide world economic situation, but no permanent recovery until that time.

Speaking of the English situation he said: "I believe the upturn is coming and that English will be among the first to recover."

"The upward trend in the immediate future will result from depletion of stocks of goods turned out in the past and a rate faster than that of world consumption, but the permanent cure will not come until there has been some adjustment of consumption to production.

"I believe that men all over the world eventually will work but three days a week, but will be paid high wages in order that they may consume the goods they produce."

Give a child a little and he will want more; the same rule applies to all forms of public privilege.

Oak Grove News Of Current Week

Birthday Dinner At Champion Home —Mrs. Perry McSwain III. Personal.

(Special To The Star.)

Oak Grove, Sept. 3.—A large crowd attended the birthday dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Champion Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Lovelace visited in Piedmont, S. C. Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Sanders spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bell.

Mr. Frank C. Ware lost one of his mules Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Beattie spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. E. Prod.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Bell spent Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Ware.

Mrs. E. V. Russ and son, Lawrence, visited Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Seif at Bessemer City Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Philbeck had as their guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Leo Beattie of Waco.

Mr. and Mrs. James S. Ware visited at Fort Mills, S. C. Sunday.

Mrs. Perry McSwain is real sick at this writing.

Mrs. T. F. Ware and Mrs. Joe Camp spent Friday afternoon with Mrs. J. D. Ledford.

Mrs. John L. Ross, sr., is improving some at this writing.

Mr. Samie Lovelace of Shelby is visiting a few days in this section.

Misses Nellie and Bertha Thrift were the dinner guests of Miss Josephine Russ Sunday.

Prayer meeting will be at the church Saturday night. We urge all to attend.

Misses Thelma and Geneva Russ visited Miss Josephine Russ Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Bell and children of Kings Mountain and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Bell and children spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. William Bell.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bell spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. G. H. Ware.

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Philbeck spent Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Pryor.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Bell of Gastonia visited Mr. and Mrs. Dave Bell Sunday.

Mr. C. A. Hall of Knox City, Texas, is spending a few weeks here with relatives. Mr. Hull went west about 30 years ago at the age of 20, resided in California about two years then went to Texas where he has since resided.

Mr. Hull says the crops in the section where he lives are about like the crops here, but he passed through some states on his way here, Arkansas and Alabama the most notable where the crops especially corn didn't look like it would make anything. He says they have been picking cotton in Texas for six or eight weeks. A great deal of long staple cotton is grown in Texas. It is bringing 9 cents and good short staple six cents.

Mr. Hull says a neighbor farmer of his had 48 bales of last year's crop of short staple and could get only 6 cents offered for it.

ROULETTE LIQUOR RAID ON SUNDAY ILLEGAL: FRES TWO PRISONERS

Oklahoma City.—Jailing of a father and son following a Sunday liquor raid was held illegal by the Oklahoma Criminal court of appeals because, the court decided, legal process may not be served on the Sabbath.

Conduct of arresting officers was criticized by the opinion, which reversed convictions of Andrew Laub and Andrew Laub, jr., of Canadian county. The elder Laub had received a ninety-day jail sentence and his son thirty days.

Presiding Judge Thomas A. Edwards ruled that "all service of legal process upon the first day of the week is prohibited except in cases of breaches of the peace or when issued for apprehension of a person charged with crime or except where such service shall be especially authorized by law."

Roseate Possibilities. The Greensboro Record.

Even North Carolinians who are well informed as to the natural resources of the Old North State must be deeply impressed with the possibilities for development of the Carolina coal fields in Moore and Lee counties as described by Herman Bryson, state geologist, in addressing the Aberdeen Kiwanis club at its luncheon meeting at Pinehurst this week.

The coal fields in Moore and Lee have been worked at various times on a limited scale for many years, but it seems that their wealth and the great possibilities they hold are just coming to be recognized. Mr. Bryson says a recent survey made by the state department shows that 83,000,000 tons of coal are available in the Carolina fields, with the mining of 500 tons a day, it was estimated, the supply would last for 564 years.

"Checks Are No Check."

St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

"Crookdom must smile at the suggestion of a special committee of the national crime commission that payment by check in large establishments would eliminate pay-roll robbers. But the retail merchants of industrial neighborhoods will not smile. They are the ones who have to cash the checks. To do so they must carry large amounts of cash through the pay period. Bands find the small tradesmen, with over-loaded cash drawers, an easier mark than the guarded pay-roll messenger or office employe. The check system does not remove the robber's opportunities, it merely distributes them."

Prosperity in the Nude. flat rock, s. c. sepp. 4, 1930. dear mr. editor:—

there seems to be so much talk about our so-called Hoover prosperity, i believe it is my duty to rite my views on same and help to annilize the situation as far as possible so's we can make up our minds that we have gottor change our way of living ansorfth.

i have took my own case for rinstance. i see my misstakes and many others have acted likewise i bought a ford instead of a farm and it is wore' out but the farm i figgered on is still o. k. i invested in a radio instead of a cow and the radio gives stattick insted of milk.

i am feeding 5 nice hounds which ansers to the names of rollo, kty, didd, jake and bayrum insted of 3 pigs. i had our planner tuned insted of the well cleaned out. i spent all my cash in 1928 and used up all my credrick in 1929 and traded up my future wedges on instalments in 1930, so hard times ketched me in bad shape.

if i had of spent my last 10$ for flour and meat insted of gas and oil, i would of benn o. k. i bilt me a nice little garage last yr, insted of kivering my barn and i lofed in the mountains 2 weeks insted of in the pastor fixing it so's my cow won't get out, but she is dry and mgeted to boot for 2 blankets my wife bought from an agent insted of paying the preacher.

but now i am on a cash basis, but have no cash. i am tide to the end of my rope and the man i was working for is busted onder count of noboddy wouldntt pay him and the cotton mills is closed down because noboddy can't buy anything they make. i had 4$ saved up for a rainy day, but it turned dry and i spent same for 2 inner tubes.

mr. editor, i tride hard to make both ends meet with a turnip patch,

H-U-X-L-Y!

Very few folks who see me walking down the street, me with that school girl complexion and youthful swing, would believe that i am a gram-paw, but that's just what i am. Why, the flappers even call me sonny. I look so young; and nearly everybody think i am an unmarried lounge lizard, but that grandson of mine is 5 weeks old today. (He has another gram-paw and gram-maw that are trying to horn in on him, but we won't even let them telephone to him.)

Speaking of grandsons—there never has been one like unto this young fellow that i am just about to describe. He tips the scales at 11 pounds and 4 and one-half ounces. He parts his hair in the middle. His eyes are brown and keen. Those fists remind one of Tunney-Plus. Those well developed legs have a Red Grange curve below the knees, and those arms are living signals to the world to stay out of their reach.

My, such a boy. His grandmaw can understand every noise he makes, whether it's in English, French, Dutch or Yiddish. She really thinks it is her baby. She won't eat cabbage or ham for fear that it won't agree with the kid. She knows exactly how many times the little fellow has batted his eyes since he arrived, and furthermore—she says that if he happens to be a democrat, he will be president of the grand old U. S. in about 19 and 55.

This young fellow must stand mighty well in this community. He has been the recipient of 184 beautiful presents, including 19 pairs of Shoes and 27 Hair brushes. (When I was born, I got some presents too: vizky—3 fleeced-lines hippies.) He asked me to thank his many admirers for their generosity and thoughtfulness and to wish each and every one many happy returns. (And by the way, he will be needing a suit of clothes within a year or so.)

The boy's mother has not had a chance to love him yet on account of his grand-paw and grand-maw monopolizing him. But she keeps the automats ready for him at all times and he never gets hungry. Instead of dropping in a nickle, he lets out a whine and forthwith he is served. He nurses; they didn't call it that when i was a baby. Promptly at 6:22 a. m., and 7:44 a. m., and 9:33 a. m., and 11:55 a. m., and 1:11 p. m., and 2:22 p. m., and 4:44 p. m., and 6:16 p. m., and 11:11 p. m., he is given refreshments. He gets 5 drops of water every 29 minutes and 17 seconds.

Folks, he's wonderful. He is a welcome visitor at our house. His daddy is so proud of him that he has passed the crazy stage and is now in the idiotic frame. We are going to do our best to raise him right and keep him out of politics and farming and merchandising, but if he wants to be a preacher, that's his lookout. You folks must come to see him some time.

One thing about the financial experts: they keep predicting prosperity and eventually they become right.
