At The Theaters

A clever cast of favorite comedians is doing funny comedy in "Let's Go Native," at the Carolina theatre today and Tuesday. Jack Oakie leads the fun-makers, with Jeanette MacDonald and James Hall trailing with the romantic roles. The show is a mad and merry melange of fun, frivolity and music made by the most imposing aggregation of Hollywood's comedy and music celebrities.

John Barrymore, America's foremost actor of screen and stage is making his screen talking debut today at the Webb theatre in "General Crack." A capable cast composed of Marion Nixon, Lowell Sherman, Armida and Hobart Bosworth support the great Barrymore in this eighteenth century romance. Audiences everywhere have been anxiously awaiting a talking picture by Barrymore. It's here—for two days only.

Lawndale News Of Personal Mention
