Prevention Is Best Cure '

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D. U. S. Senator from New York. Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

N most of our large cities and towns today health officials and educational authorities are cooperating in a movement for better health and greater public

We shall have a better race We shall have a better face when such matters as personal hygiene and sanitation are made a part of every child's education. No boy or girl should go through life handicapped by physical defects and poor health. Many of these disabilities are curable.

Cleanliness of the body, care of the eyes, the teeth and all the organs are absolutely essential to good health and success in life. Tonsils, if actually diseased, and adenoids, if they are obstructive, should be removed. A child cannot do justice to himself in his studies if he has infection from one or another source. When your child complains of what you perhaps call "growing pains" you perhaps call "growing pains" the probability is that one of these hidden sources of infection is breed-ing rheumatism. With rheumatism comes heart weakness or infection of some kind. There are thousands of cases of so-called "rheumatic heart" among children from these causes. Some cases of heart disease discovered in later years he traced back to childhood.

A complete physical examination of your child, either by the family or school physician, will determine whether the lungs and heart are in good condition. It will show, too, whether the child can exercise vigorously and normally or whether orously and normally, or whether care must be taken to save the heart from too violent activity.

"Sporadic cases of influenza are being reported in various sections of the state. It will be recalled that the terrible epidemic of 1918 came on almost suddenly, with virulent cases from the start, although progressing in intensity and viru tence as the epidemic spread. Be On Alert.

"In dealing with this treacherous disease, and with only the meager knowledge about it that any one possesses at this time, health officers and physicians throughout the state should be on alert for appearance of any attacks of influenza. "In connection with the cases occurring at this time, a troublesome sore throat seems to be one of the principally symptoms. Sore throat of itself, as every physician knows, is often a treacherous problem to deal with. One form of sore throat alone, technically known as septie sore throat, is practically as bad as diptheria.

"Septic sore throat can be conveyed through such vehicles as milk and other food. Effects on such organs as the kidneys, especially in small children, are often fatal."
