

Church Riots As Bishop Gets The Call Of Lindsey

hind him and around him surged the crowd, including several women. At the top of a wooden stair leading to the ground four detectives broke through the crowd in time to save him from being pushed headlong down them.

A woman screamed, "Lynch him!" The detectives pushed the crowd back, threatening arrests. Thirty or more persons broke through and followed on a long walk to the police cab in front of the great stone church. They continued their angry shouts.

Arrest Is Threatened. Finally Detective Lieut. Flood turned and threatened to arrest the next man who spoke.

"But I am a decent citizen!" protested one, "you can't talk to me that way!"

Lindsey was rushed to the 100th street police station and held there until the arrival of his attorney, Arthur Garfield Hays. The police at first were going to hold him for $500 ball. Hays persuaded them to release his client on his own recognizance.

Inside the church order was quickly restored. Bishop Manning finished the ascription and called for an unprogrammed hymn, "Fight The Good Fight." The organist could not immediately find the music.

Prolonged Applause. The congregation broke into prolonged applause. There were shouts of "God bless Bishop Manning." It was the second time in history that applause had been heard in the great cathedral and the first time at an actual service. Communion followed.

Asked by police to lodge a charge, Bishop Manning replied: "I will make no charge."

A police officer, however, permitted his name to be used as complaining witness on a summons for Lindsey to answer a charge of disorderly conduct in court tomorrow morning.

Nevertheless Attorney Hays said he would cause a subpoena to be issued for the bishop to appear tomorrow. Hays also was trying to get in touch with Attorney Clarence Darrow to ask his aid.

Hunt For Gorilla. Council Bluffs, Iowa.—Q. Williams farmer, having reported he had seen an animal which resembled a gorilla, the Missouri river bottoms around Lake Manawa, was the scene of a search for the animal.

Heiress Halted as She Is Prepared to Elope

Helen Fuhrman, pretty 18-year-old heiress of Richmond, Va., daughter of a wealthy tobacco planter, was stopped by her parents' detectives just before her intended marriage to Ivor M. Lloyd, a Broadway trumpet player. Long distance telephone calls brought about the end of the elopement as the two were on their way from the marriage license bureau, New York City, en route to the parson.

IF ICHABOD CRANE HAD A FLASHLIGHT

By JOHN G. LONSDALE, President American Bankers Association

WE ALL remember the story of Ichabod Crane and the headless horseman. There was the dark form by the side of the road—thundering hoofs on the Sleepy Hollow highway—and Ichabod feeling in confused terror before this terrible monster.

If Ichabod had only known that his hobgoblin was an inventive rival disguised with a pumpkin head, he would have had a good laugh and gone on with the business of vanquishing his competitor.

What Ichabod really needed was a modern flashlight. Then he would have discovered the trickery at once. Many business men need the flashlight of analysis to uncover the hobgoblins in their business and then they might sit back and laugh at their rivals who hesitate to investigate and learn the truth.

At this time, when business and banking are making strenuous efforts to have a clear vision ahead, it is especially important that the power of research and analysis be employed to their fullest extent.

When these twin brothers of good management have been pressed into service in all fields, I am confident we shall see a further lessening of periods of stress. However, I believe business in general has learned the valuable lesson that any prosperity that is not leavened with a little adversity would not seem basically safe or sound.

RESERVE SYSTEMS DIVIDENDS ANALYZED

Various proposals that member banks in the Federal Reserve System should participate more largely in its net earnings through an increase in the dividend rate above the present fixed 6 per cent "would be a very small financial inducement" to them, it is declared in a recent study of this subject by the Economic Policy Commission of the American Bankers Association. This is shown, the commission says, by a theoretical forecast, on the basis of the past six years, of additional earnings that would be disbursed to member banks during the next six years under two plans introduced in bills before the United States Senate.

"The Fletcher bill provides that Federal Reserve Bank earnings, after present 6 per cent dividends to members and completion of a 100 per cent surplus, should all be distributed as extra dividends to the stockholder banks," the report says. "If the earnings of each Federal Reserve bank were distributed among its own members there would be no extra dividends in the Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Chicago and San Francisco districts during the next six years, but the other six Federal Reserve Banks would pay annual extras at the following rates: Richmond, 6.08 per cent; Atlanta, 4.09 per cent; St. Louis, 3.50 per cent; Minneapolis, 9.51 per cent; Kansas City, 5.48 per cent; Dallas, 4.83 per cent.

"If the earnings were pooled and paid out to all members in all districts each member would receive an average annual extra dividend of .75 per cent. Under this plan no franchise tax as now would be paid by the Federal Reserve Banks to the Federal Government.

Another Plan Analyzed. "The Glass bill would provide that, after present 6 per cent dividends, one-half the remainder should be paid to member banks as an extra dividend with the residue going to surplus and Federal Government as franchise tax. The average annual extras to members would be as follows: Boston District, 2.51 per cent; New York, .48 per cent; Philadelphia, 2.05 per cent; Cleveland, 2.09 per cent; Richmond, 3.26 per cent; Atlanta, 4.67 per cent; Chicago, 3.20 per cent; St. Louis, 2.02 per cent; Minneapolis, 4.75 per cent; Kansas City, 2.74 per cent; Dallas, 3.31 per cent; San Francisco, 1.87 per cent. "If these extra funds were pooled the result would be an extra average annual dividend of 1.75 per cent for each member. Under this plan the system would still pay as now an annual franchise tax, amounting to $1,941,996 on the average."

By way of concrete instance, the report says, a member bank having capital and surplus of $200,000, therefore holding Federal Reserve Bank stock amounting to $6,000 on which it is receiving $360 under the present 6 per cent dividend arrangement, would with the addition of each 1 per cent to the dividend rate receive an additional income of $60 a year. "If each member bank will figure out for itself the dollar-and-cents gain it would enjoy we are confident it will be agreed that the gains are small as against the economic disadvantages which can be pointed out," it concludes.

World Famous Savant Forgets Theory in Trouble of His Co-Religionists

Professor Albert Einstein, Noted Scientist, on Way to America, Makes Public Criticism of British Policy in Palestine.

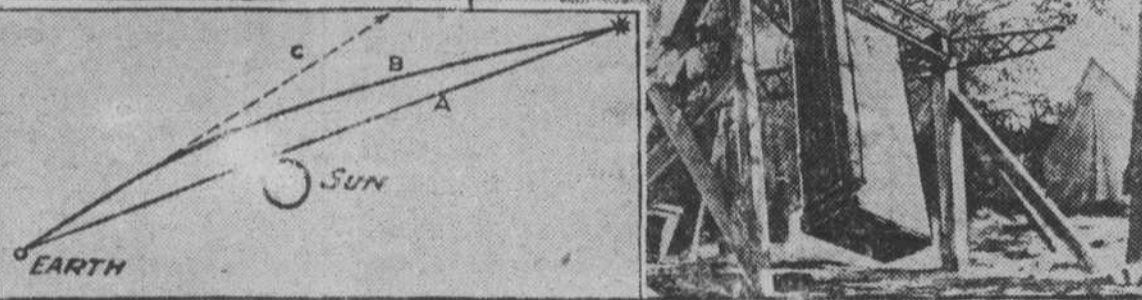

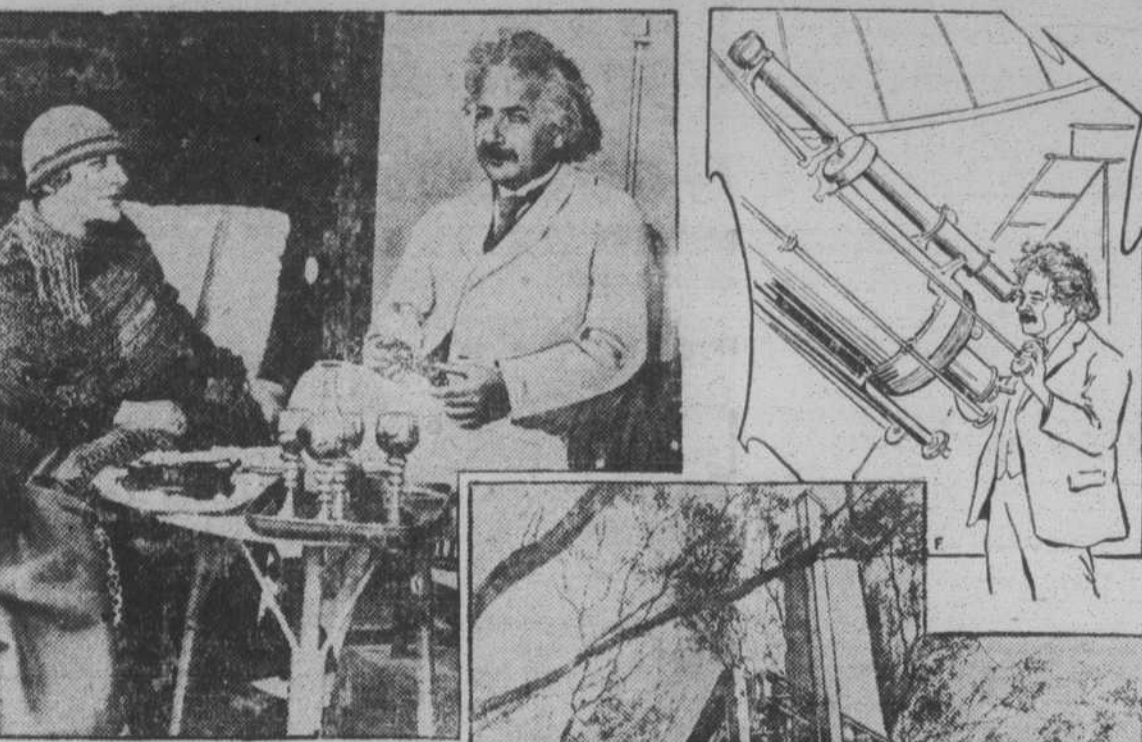

DIAGRAM ILLUSTRATES THE OBSERVATIONS MADE THAT CONFIRMED EINSTEIN THEORY.

By Alice Aldie. New York.—The Jewish problem in Palestine is causing Professor Einstein more worry and costing him more concentrated thought than his celebrated theory of relativity.

The world famed savant, who is on his way to America with Frau Einstein aboard the "Belgenland," has intimated that during the ship's stay in New York harbor he will receive only delegations from Zionist organizations. He will discuss with sympathizers the cause to which he has given so much of his energy and time. Newspaper reporters will be barred and Einstein hopes that the ship's telephone will not be used to quiz him about inconsequential trivia. He is too much occupied with the situation in Palestine to give the usual interview that is expected by newspaper readers from the usual celebrity.

For Einstein is not the usual celebrity. His heart is set on a plane that will give peace and prosperity to his less fortunate co-religionists. The Zionist organization of America has just received a long and explicit statement by Professor Einstein. The statement is intended by the eminent mathematician to be a greeting to American Jewry on the occasion of the great Maccabean Festival which is to be held in Madison Square Garden in New York Dec. 13. The festival which has been planned by New York Zionists is intended as a demonstration of Zionist sentiment and solidarity.

The Einstein statement is noteworthy as he makes public criticism for the first time of the new policy in Palestine as set forth in the Pastfield White Paper. The new policy has been denounced by Jews the world over as a violation of the Balfour declaration and, Einstein is of the opinion that the best protest that Jewish people can make against the action and attitude of the British government is to redouble their efforts in Palestine.

Einstein feels that the anti-Semitism which is rife throughout Central Europe just now makes it imperative that the Jews obtain the sanctuary of a homeland in Palestine. He believes that Palestine is a country of unexplored possibilities and that Jewish energy, perseverance and capital, these possibilities will be developed not only for the good of Jewry but for the benefit of the world in general. Einstein thinks that Palestine, if properly developed, will become a pioneering country for the whole methods and civilization to that entire sector. Professor Einstein believes that Jews and Arabs can live side by side in peace and harmony in Palestine. He firmly believes that the modern methods of reconstruction employed by Zionists will bring such changes to Palestine that the Arabs will be anxious to share in the resultant prosperity and thus bury their age-old antagonism against the Jews. He affirms that the Jewish national home is not a luxury or an idle day-dream but a vital need and absolute necessity to the Jewish people and necessary for the world in general. He feels that the example set by him in giving so much valuable time and energy to solving the problems of the Jews desiring a national homeland will be followed by well-known Jews the world over.

Prominent Jews in New York are still hopeful of persuading Albert Einstein to step ashore and see something of New York Jewry, its monument and its workings. But up till now Einstein has proved adamant in his decision not to be present at any public gathering. The eminent scientist will spend some time at El Paso Observatory, where he will compare scientific observations with those who have followed his theory.

Mooresboro High Defeats Earl, 20-12

Scouts Organize High School To Play Earl Tuesday of This Week.

(Special to The Star.) Mooresboro, Dec. 6.—Mooresboro scored a 20 to 12 triumph over the Earl high school five there today. Earl managed to score 12 points during the first half. A large number being free shots. The Mooresboro outfit kept the Earl five on defense through the contest, guarding well, shooting often and accurately.

The Earl outfit failed to score during the last half, although they fought hard to break up the Mooresboro high's splendid passing and strong defense. Mooresboro rolled up 7 points during this part of the game.

The return game will be played at Mooresboro on Tuesday, Dec. 9. The Boy Scouts recently organized at Mooresboro school. Those attending the scout meeting at Shelby Monday night were: Professor Karger and Prof. Huggins, Felton Frasier, Broadus Hamrick, Marlon Packard, James Lucas, Howard Rollins, John Z.
