

Husband Should Let His Wife Audit Money

Evanson, Ill.—A business girl seeking happiness in marriage will pick a husband who permits her to audit his finances, if the advice of Dr. Edward Lyman Cornell, of Northwestern university, is followed.

"And," he cautioned the university co-eds for whom he outlined ten "commandments" for a good husband, "if you must live on a budget or an allowance, keep a fund for yourself that you don't have to audit for your husband."

Dr. Cornell, who recently attracted wide attention by advising young business men to marry their secretaries, told the girls that they should look for the following in picking a husband:

- 1—He should allow you to audit his finances.
- 2—He should be healthy enough to swim 25 yards in 30 seconds.
- 3—He should be willing to rear children.
- 4—He should be ambitious and industrious.
- 5—He should be willing to make you an equal partner.
- 6—He should possess tact and a good disposition.
- 7—He should be mentally stable.
- 8—He should not be a braggart.
- 9—He should be a good character.
- 10—He should maintain a good appearance.
