Girls Of Number 3 Defeat Belwood

The girls of No. 3 consolidated school defeated the girl cagers of Belwood Thursday at Belwood by a final score of 12 to 9. The No. 3 girls took the lead in the first quarter and held it throughout. At the end of the first quarter, the score was 8 to 3 and never once did Belwood threaten to take the lead.

State Farmers May Be Selling Too Much Poetry

are favorable to the "live-at-home" movement. In some sections tenants says that landlords are not allowing them to grow their food and feed. However, this situation seems to be localized.

Interest in the "live-at-home" campaign is growing. Cooperation by business men is greater than in any previous year and the interest of both farmers and business men seems more certain to bring results. Farmers everywhere in the state are planning to plant larger food and feed crops, so that "money" crops will actually be cash over and above the cost of making a living. The slogan, "farm to make a living in 1931," seems to be making a definite and deep impression on the public as a whole.

Another Bill To Help The East

eastern section continue to ride in the saddle or keep its place in the sun.

By redistricting, as the constitution provides, after each decennial enumeration by the United States the western section this time will have about three senators; that is a redistricting on basis of population, would add about that number to the area west of Wake county. By the same token, such redistricting would take about three senators from the territory east of Raleigh.

It will be no surprise, westerners say, if some such bill makes its appearance in the house. For, by a readjustment of representatives on the 1930 census basis, Guilford, Mecklenburg and Buncombe, will gain one representative each, while New Hanover, Nash and Rockingham, two of them in the east, will lose one representative each. The eastern area will oppose this redistricting to make the representation equitable as possible. It is claimed, since they will be inclined to hold on to their power, wielded since the days when the east was the center of population, culture and leisure.

In committee on senatorial districts, the eastern and western membership is fairly evenly divided, in the house as well as in the senate. The senate committee chairman is T. O. Rodwell, of Warren, the other easterners being Graveley of Nash, Wheabee of Hertford, Clark of Edgecombe, Campbell of New Hanover, and Peel of Martin. From the west are Dunlap of Anson, Griener of Iredell, Folger of Surry, Harmon of Avery and Nixon of Lincoln, while Hicks of Granville and Horton of Chatham may be said to be in neutral territory.

The bill, it is predicted, will come from the committee with either a favorable or a minority report, and in the senate, it is expected to pass, as it is also expected to do in the house, because of the larger eastern representation. The result would be that the amendment would be submitted to the voters at the next election. It might even cause a postponement of redistricting by this general assembly, but apparently it is looking further ahead, to 1940.

However, when it comes to a vote of the people of the state, the west is safe, for a balancing of the eastern and western votes for the past few years shows that half of the voters are west of a line passing through the center of Guilford county; in fact, west of a line north and south passing near High Point. And the voters in this area would defend their right to equal representation.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

I am writing this for the benefit of those who are skeptical regarding the wonderful results obtained through Chiropractic Spinal adjustments in renewing health.

At birth our little daughter, Evelyn, seemed to be normal in every way except underweight. She remained anemic, weak, underweight and in a pale condition until she was 22 months old, at which time she was still unable to crawl or walk.

We took her to several physicians, all of whom said: "Given time she would get alright." After giving her time until she was 22 months old, without showing the slightest improvement, we decided to call Dr. B. M. Jarrett, Chiropractor, Rooms 13 and 14, Royster, Bldg., Shelby, N. C.

After a thorough Chiropractic Spinal analysis, Dr. Jarrett found an abnormal condition with the bones in the lower part of Evelyn's spine which produced pressure on the nerves supplying the muscles of the Hips and Legs, causing a decreased flow of nerve impulse from the brain down to the muscles of the Hips and Legs, preventing normal action and development of said muscles, to the extent that she was unable to walk or crawl at the age of 22 Months.

After adjustments were given only one week, one could see a decided change, and after ten adjustments, Evelyn could walk from 4 to 6 steps alone. After 2 months adjustments her limbs have gradually developed until today she walks, runs and plays like a normal child.

We feel deeply appreciative to Dr. Jarrett for the wonderful work he has done through the science of Chiropractic in restoring our seemingly helpless crippled baby for life to normal health as the above picture indicates.

York Working For Veteran Hospital

Legionnaires Believe County Will Be Favored As Site For Soldiers' Home.

York, S. C., Feb. 6.—Members of the Meach Stewart post of the American Legion of York, highly elated when they learned that a new United States veterans' hospital is to be built in South Carolina and might possibly be located in York, said they had no time to worry over or discuss the cash compensation plan now before congress.

Carl H. Hart, past commander of the local post, said that the local ex-service men are more interested in trying to have the hospital located in York than they are in having the cash bonus bill passed and the opinion is expected locally that York will receive considerable consideration as a location for the hospital.

It is said here that in all probability, the final decision will rest between York, Anderson and Spartanburg, with this town having a decided edge.

One trouble with the stock market appears to be that the erstwhile lambs are still saying "Bah!"—Boston Herald.

If only Burbank could have lived to see how many gallons of orange-ade orange can make—Key West Citizen.

That is one reason why the consolidation of counties, especially in the east, is so unpopular. It would cut down the representation when small counties are consolidated, since each county, regardless of its size, population or property values, must have at least one representative. As it is now, six counties with no more population than Cleveland, have six representatives to Cleveland's one, it is pointed out as an instance.
