Mike Proposes Crop Diversification. flat rock, s. c., febby 20, 1931.

please allow me space in yore valuable paper to rite a peace on goober culture, as it now looks like us farmers will hater quit cotton and diversify by planting different kinds of crops, and i have chose goobers for the farmers: you see, he can feed his hogs as well as the rest of the family on goobers insted of corn.

the best time to plant goobers is betwixt the dark of the moon and the second quarter in may, but april won't be too early if you can get to same and can find the goobers to be used. there is several kinds of goobers suitable to our sandy lomey soils, but the best one is the spanish, however—most goober parchers have drifted over to the virginny, as it is bigger ansforth.

the land should be plowed with a goober plow by turning same after frost, and then it is a good idea to have same drug with a spike tooth borow, after which you can spread on a coat of 10 percent assid, if you can find annybody selling it on creddick, but if not—stable manure will do if you have a nabor with anny to loan you till you buy a mule and cow, broadcast it in radio style, that is—all over the hole field.

plant the goobers yore self, and don't resk this job with the chilluns, as they will eat same up faster than they will drop them in to the goober furrow which you made yore wife make with the garden hoe, as soon as possible, kiver them with a 14-tooth rake, or a pitchfork, if you can borrow one. see that they ain't deeper in the ground than yore little finger.

if the crows is bad about scratching up yore goobers, fix you up a scare crow, if you have anny extra clothes to put on same, but if you have none, just stand out in the patch yore self, and the crow won't no the difference betwixt you all, don't thin them out after they come up, as somebody will always steal about half of what you have and that will leave them to a nice stand, pull when ripe and eat raw or roasts that is—for the folks, but the hogs will eat them just so, mr. editor, rite or foam if you want anny articles on other timely vegger tabies for the farmers to diversify with.)

Aggriculture Comment. flat rock, s. c., febby 20, 1931. mr. fed. landbank, washington, d. c. dear sir—no doubt, you will be surprize to learn that i have moved into yore jhonson farm just below town which you sold from under him when he bought that big cadder lack 3 yr. hence, and quit farming, the sed farm was vacant, so, as i thought you needed a good tenant i moved in.

i have already done some turning in the field behind the house and will comments to clean up briar patches ansforth as soon as i can get a little help, so please send me 2 maticks and 1 pick and 2 shovels and some hoze, also about 1 barrel of flour and enough meat to eat same up with.

i will plant as much cotton as you think the farm bored will allow, so send about 5 turns of 8-3-3 fertylize and 2 turns of soday for corn and other patches of small grain, the big field down below the pastor will be put in peas, if you will send same a little later.

i think the new ground will be mighty fine for long steepe cotton.

Boiling Springs News Of Interest

Mrs. Dean White Hostess. Cecelia Music Club of Shelby Gives Program, Personals.

(Special to The Star.)

Boiling Springs, Feb. 19.—Mrs. Dean White was gracious hostess to the Tongues and Needles club on Friday afternoon at 3:30. Quite a number of members and a few invited guests enjoyed Mrs. White's hospitality. Quilting by machine was capably demonstrated by Mrs. Hal Green, following which a social heart was enjoyed. A large Valentine bouquet cut in pieces was given each guest. In putting this together Mrs. C. C. Goode was found to be most proficient, and received a lovely prize. The hostess, assisted by Miss Helen Crawford and Mrs. C. C. Goode served a delicious salad course. Mrs. Shealy Hammett, a recent bride was a special guest of the occasion.

Economics Club Meets.

The Home Economics club met with Mrs. E. B. Hamrick on Monday afternoon February 16. The subject for the afternoon was salads. Plain slaw was demonstrated before the club by Miss Gertrude Greene. Congealed salads were then discussed. Following the demonstration Mrs. E. B. Hamrick and Mrs.

Clifford Hamrick served delicious sandwiches and cake with coffee. The club is to hold its next meeting with Mrs. Z. O. Holland, when cake making will be the topic.

Music Club Program.

On Wednesday at the chapel period the Cecelia Music club of Shelby delighted an appreciative audience in the auditorium, with a most enjoyable program. It is a treat to hear these gifted musicians. Two valuable members of the club, Mrs. Grady Lovelace and Mrs. Will Aray were former students here.

Mrs. Ella R. Pruett had as her guests on Friday last, her mother Mrs. G. D. Kirby, her sister, M. S. J. S. Wells and Mrs. N. S. Burgess, all of Gaffney, S. C.

Mr. Claude Biggerstaff is spending awhile with his parents here, Mr. and Mrs. Loos Biggerstaff, after an absence of several years. Mr. Biggerstaff held a position on an ocean liner, and has circled the globe five times. He can relate some most interesting experiences.

We are glad to report that the conditions of Mr. H. H. Honeycutt is somewhat better at this writing. Mr. Honeycutt has been desperately ill, following a serious operation at a Spartanburg, S. C. hospital several weeks ago. Mrs. Honeycutt has been with him since Saturday last. Mr. and Mrs. Willie Nicholson, of Shelby visited their aunt, Mrs. D. J. Hamrick here Sunday. Miss Helen Crawford of Chesree S. C., spent a few days recently with her sister, Mrs. Dean White.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank our many friends for the flowers and kindness shown us during the sickness and death of our dear mother and grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. McSwain and Family.
