Shelby Circuit Sunday Services

Services for Shelby circuit, Sunday, March 4, as follows:

Sharon: Sunday school 9:45. Mr. Fitchie Dodd, Supt. Preaching at 11 by the pastor.

Sulphur Springs: Sunday school, 9:45. Prof. M. R. Biggers, Supt. Preaching in the afternoon at 3 by Dr. L. B. Hayes, pastor of Central church, Shelby.

Dr. Hayes is a great messenger for God. He is doing perhaps more for God and Methodism in Shelby than any preacher has done in Shelby in a long time. I wish to urge every member of Sulphur Springs to be present Sunday afternoon and hear the message. All visitors will be given a cordial welcome to all the above services.

R. L. Forbis, Pastor.

A clever display of film acting that picture audiences crave is done in "The Royal Family of Broadway," by Ina Claire, Fredric March, Mary Brian and Henrietta Crossman. The story has to do with the home life of a leading family of stage performers. The Royal Family is at home to you at the Carolina theatre today and tomorrow.

The state road law should be passed—it will save the counties a lot of money and take better care of our prisoners at half the present cost at county convict camps. Road funds should be reduced to the very lowest amount possible and quit wasting millions on hard roads for buses and trucks to monopolize and wear out hauling freight that ought to go by rail.

As the tariff bill seemed to bring about depression and hard times we believe the soldiers' bonus bill just passed will bring back prosperity to every one immediately. Psychology? Yes, stocks go up and we can sing "Happy Days Are Here Again." Shelby. J. A. Wilson.

Discusses Matters Of Assembly Plans

To The Editor:

Our law-makers have our sympathy in the problems confronting them. Making appropriations, then finding the funds to meet them in these times is some job. Too much shifting of taxes will not be good for our people. Land should always bear its part of all taxes.

We would do something for the railroads in tax relief and set them free to work out their own very serious problems, in their own way. They can not exist and function properly very much longer under our present conditions of bus, truck and pipe line competition. Mr. Clement, vice president of the Pennsylvania, says the future is bright for the railroads, but he must remember his road carries more passengers and hauls more freight than any other railroad in America.

The power companies should be treated with the utmost fairness in taxes, for they mean so much to the development of the state. However, I believe the State should have developed our water power for the benefit of all our people, instead of leaving it in the hands of private individuals and corporations. If half the amount we have spent on roads in the past ten years had been put into hydro-electric developments the income from that source alone now would take care of all our taxes. Of course the power companies insist they can do it better, and will cite you to Muscle Shoals for an example of inefficiency.

Think it over, this is not just a matter for this generation alone, but for all the generations yet to come and is largely a matter to be determined for the future good of our descendants. Six cents tax on gas and a sales tax will be an abomination and a nuisance. I would avoid any states that has the two of them, for I would know they aim to skin me for all I am worth. I have seen citizens of South Carolina drive 100 miles to get their cigarettes, tobacco and drinks in order to miss that tax, (bootleg not included as it is tax free there.)

So our people go over there to get married to save a doctor's fee and a state tax of $5.

Car owner should not allow themselves to be imposed upon forever by excessive taxes. One-fourth the amount paid for license tag should be sufficient with gas tax back to three cents. I remember the time when gas sold for nine cents here on the curb.

The state road law should be passed—it will save the counties a lot of money and take better care of our prisoners at half the present cost at county convict camps. Road funds should be reduced to the very lowest amount possible and quit wasting millions on hard roads for buses and trucks to monopolize and wear out hauling freight that ought to go by rail.

As the tariff bill seemed to bring about depression and hard times we believe the soldiers' bonus bill just passed will bring back prosperity to every one immediately. Psychology? Yes, stocks go up and we can sing "Happy Days Are Here Again." Shelby. J. A. Wilson.
