At The Theaters

Probably the most vitally interesting and sensationally dramatic offering of the silver screen so far this year is "East Lynne," with the internationally cast including Ann Harding, Conrad Nagel, Olive Brook, Beryl Mercer and Cecilia Loftus.
The cast in itself would suggest rare entertainment. As a story that boasts thirty dramatic scenes East Lynne is a picture that is really worth your time to see. Carolina theatre today and Tuesday.

Fortunate for students of history and admirers of "Honest Abe" is the new picture at the Webb theatre today and tomorrow—"Abraham Lincoln," starring Walter Huston, of "Gentlemen of the Press" fame. The peculiar phase of Lincoln's character when he was frightened away from the prospect of marriage to Mary Todd is revealed in D. W.
Griffith's United Artist production.
Huston, in his portrayal of Lincoln, is assisted by Una Merkel. Shelby has long awaited the coming of this picture.

Should a Widower Abandon His Three Children To Marry a Widow Who Doesn't Want 'Em?

Editor Star:

An unknown friend of mine and from what he writes, one of yours, wishes to profit by my experience through your paper. For his sake, I give him the dope, subject to your approval. I withhold my name for the same purpose that he did his. His letter reads:

My Very Dear — Realizing that you have been over the road that I am thinking of traveling, I wish that you would give me your best advice through The Star.
I am sure The Star will gladly do this if you will only be so kind as to write the letter.

Here I am, a widower, three tots, a sweetheart that I love more than life itself. But before she will marry me, I must give up my kids. She says she only wants me, and will not take my kids. I can't live without her, so please tell me what I am to do.

Your friend,
In Trouble.

Answer:

My friend, you may be in trouble, and it looks like to me you are about to get in something worse than trouble.

I can not understand why you picked me to call on. I think you should have taken this up with Dorothy Dix.

Well if you can't live without her, as you say, the only thing I can see for you to do is to let some one have your children and go marry her.
But remember, my boy, these kids are your own blood and flesh, and I am afraid when you lay down at night to sleep you'll hear their cries for daddy, and that you will spend many, many restless nights tossing to-and-fro, longing for them. Too, at Christmas time you will want to remember them with a little gift, and when you don't I'm afraid that sweet little darling of yours will be jealous and your love nest will go to pieces. There are thousands of things that's going to come up that you are not expecting. And in the first place this woman don't love you, if she did she could not ask you to part with your own blood and flesh.

For my part I wouldn't marry her if she would agree to take the kids.
Now that she has already showed her dislike for them, your home could not be nothing but a h— on earth. So if I'm your friend take my advice and lay off of her, and I don't believe I'd give you bad advice, if I'd say all of 'em.

P. S. I think you owe me your name. Don't you? Please remit.

Early Bird Grabs The Worm And Job

Woodruff.—V. Fowler, a carpenter, believes that the early bird catches the worm.

Walking into a store operated by C. G. Edwards, he applied for the job of repairing a roof on a tenant house belonging to Mr. Edwards.

"There's nothing the matter with that roof," said Mr. Edwards.
"Yes there is," said the carpenter. "It is burning off right now and the city firemen are extinguishing the blaze. Soon as they get out of the way, I can begin putting a new one back."

He got the job.

New Bern Is To Establish Fund

New Bern, March 22.—Craven county physicians have recommended that the city of New Bern and $125 a month for a proposed Hospital Charity loan fund for the use of needy hospital cases in St. Luke's hospital here, rather than go in with Pamlico, Jones and Onslow counties in the establishment of a four-county hospital near here.
