College Glee Club In Action Saturday

Boiling Springs, March 27.—Laughs! Thrills! Heart throbs! If you want to see all this in one performance, don't forget to meet "Miss Cherryblossom," Saturday evening, March 28, in the Boiling Springs college auditorium. There is more sparkling wit furnished by Kokemo than you can ever find time to laugh, you can imagine that you are seeing a performance by Broadway's "Ziegfeld Follies" when the chorus girls and boys tune their toes to the catchy rhythms of the operetta "Miss Cherryblossom."

Here are just a few of the people who make the cast of 30—Misses Evelyn Huggins, Lillian Whelan, Blanche Boyter, Messrs. Owen Padgett, Norman Roberts, Hubert Huggins, Charles J. Hamrick and Felix Hamrick.

Now something about the story of the play: Miss Evelyn Barnes, an American girl, born in Japan, and whose parents died of fever, is brought up as a Japanese Maiden. Her father's secretary uses her property for his own ends. When Evelyn, who is known as Cherryblossom is about eighteen, Worthington (the secretary) returns to Japan on his yacht with a party of American friends. One of them, John Henry Smith (Jack) falls in love with Cherry and wishes to marry her, but Kokemo who has brought her up as his own daughter wants her to marry Togo, a rich politician. The action of the piece centers around Jack's effort to outwit Togo and Kokemo. Eventually Cherry learns her true identity, comes into her own property, marries Jack, and all ends happily.

Three hours of fun for everybody—A laugh on every page and music that makes your heart skip a beat almost every measure. If you like musical comedies, don't fail to see this splendid production sponsored and given by the Boiling Springs college glee club.

Shelby High Star Looks Good In Infield Of Asheville Team

Cline Lee Scores And Drives In Only Runs Against Jersey City Team.

Nothing but the loop's rookie ruling can keep Cline Owens Lee, Shelby ball player, from performing in the Piedmont league this season. And even the rookie ruling has a slim chance of turning that trick.

Yesterday in Spartanburg the former Shelby high captain scored and drove in the only runs made by the Asheville club against George Toporcer's Jersey City outfit. Afield, playing against a team on which were several former major leaguers, Lee looked as flashy as he did in high school circles.

Faces Walsh. In the first inning Lee got on base and scored the first of Asheville's two runs. The pitcher he faced in that inning and the third was none other than Big Bob Walsh, husky young son of Big Ed Walsh, of White Sox fame, who is one of Jersey City's leading hurlers. In the seventh inning Lee came to bat with a runner on third, one on first, two out, and cracked a single down the first base line to drive in Asheville's other run. This time a former Southern leaguer was hurling for the fast class A team.

In the fourth and fifth inning, when the big bats of the Jersey City players began pounding the horsehide Lee handled every chance featuring in a putout. On one play a Jersey City batter drove a bullet at the Asheville first-sacker, the ball hit his shins and ricocheted to the right where Lee scooped it up and tossed the runner out.

Manager Ray Kennedy changed almost the entire team in the eighth inning, sending Shorty Hawkins, Belmont boy known here, to second base instead of Lee. As it was, however, the Shelby boy looked better afield than any of the seven infielders used by Kennedy, and he was the only Asheville player who did not look foolish at the plate one time or another.

The rookie ruling may make it hard for Lee to stick at Asheville because the Piedmont league regulations have it that all clubs must carry at least four rookies, players who have never played class ball. Lee's season in the Southeastern rates him as a class B man. Kennedy will likely keep two rookie pitchers, a rookie outfielder and hopes to have one rookie infielder. That means that a rookie will have to beat out Hips at first, Lee at second, Tarr and Viaw at short, or Breakfield at third. All the others are old timers and Lee may have to put up the greatest fight. Hawkins, the big Belmont boy, is the leading rookie candidate for the second base job, but so far this year his play has not equalled that of Lee. It is evident that Manager Kennedy thinks well of the local lad because he used him as lead-off man against Jersey City and in all practice games. In a practice game between two split-up squads of Asheville players Wednesday Lee banged out a triple and a single. In three exhibition games, he has handled 14 chances without an error, and two of the chances at Spartanburg were of the variety to bring applause from the spectators.
