

Assembly Gets Ready to Riot, Already Riled

Lawmakers Have Been Wrangling For Near Three Months Now.

(By CARL GOERCH)

It would not surprise me in the slightest to see a riot start up in Raleigh at any time.

The boys are getting so mad that there's no telling what will happen next. They're fighting each other now, instead of fighting for lower taxes.

Out in the world thou goest, Oh, treasure of my heart! Now hark to what I tell thee, Ere moving to depart.

Become a lawyer if you wish; A doctor or a barber. Against these not a single grudge Doth mankind ever harbor.

Become a farmer or a clown— Or even be a waiter. But for the love of Pete, my son— Don't be a legislator!

The short ballot bill got sat on last week. And that uncovered a lot of opposition which, until then, had kept itself more or less in hiding. You see, there are some members of the legislature who never have been and who never can be actual leaders. They resent the idea of anyone else attaining any prominence along those lines. The Hon. O. Max has been doing some mighty effective leading during the last couple of months, and some of the boys don't like it. They're now snapping and zipping at his heels like a bunch of terriers. What they're trying to do is to tear him down, even though they may have to tear down some mighty good bills in order to accomplish their purposes.

The drug store liquor bill didn't stand much of a show. What's the sense of loading up all our drug stores with liquor when you can go out into the country and get all you please? Useless and entirely unnecessary.

And this week we come to the oft-discussed and oft-cussed MacLean bill, which has to do with the state support of schools. This bill, unless it gets defeated, is bound to pass. Members of the senate and house have held it in reserve and are presenting it now as a grand finale, with everybody joining in the singing.

Revenue Commissioner Maxwell spoke against the bill over the radio. This radio-speaking business is getting to be mighty popular. It used to be that our public men went to the newspapers and had their views inserted there. The trouble with that course, however, was that the newspapers make a permanent record of your remarks. With the radio it's different. If somebody doesn't like what you say, you can always tell them that they misunderstood you.

The sales tax is still up there. Any well informed advocate of such a proposition can, without the slightest trouble, set forth 2,458 sound and logical reasons why a sales tax should be adopted. And any well informed opponent to the measure can—also without trouble—give you 2,458 equally sound and logical reasons why it should not be adopted. Take your choice; there's no use in my trying to say anything about it.

Almost three months since the gang got together. Three months of wrangling and fussing. Seems like a pity, doesn't it? Particularly when most of us were interested in only one thing—and that was a reduction in property taxes. Thus far, that is the only thing which has not been given any serious consideration. They have legislated in favor of or against practically everything under the sun, to say nothing of their way to find bills which they could introduce and pass. The only thing they've left undone so far is the one thing, above all others, which we wanted them to

The World's Richest Man. (From The Montgomery Advertiser)

A special writer for the United Press says that the Nizam of Hyderabad is our richest man. He does not know the extent of his possessions, but their value is estimated at more than $2,000,000,000. One tale is that he has $500,000,000 in gold bricks and coins. "Two Englishmen worked more than two years classifying family jewels worth millions of dollars." Yet he "lives in frugal simplicity"—he having provided himself with only 400 automobiles and only 22 Pullmans in his private train. His private income is between $30,000,000 and $40,000,000 a year. He is the ruler of 13,000,000 people including his wives. His pa before him was rich.

Edgecombe county farmers saved about $1,000 through cooperative purchase of lespedeza seed. One hundred farmers pooled their orders.

The actual value of lespedeza as a soil improving crop will be tested in a soil building demonstration for five years on four or five plots of poor land in Rowan county by W. G. Yeager, county agent.

New Uses For Cotton Brings On Optimistic Spirit In Industry

New York Exchange Told Of Recent Developments Which Help Industry.

New York, March 27.—Important developments in the creation of new uses for cotton and the pronounced improvement in the cotton manufacturing industry of this country during the last two months were described by George A. Sloan, president of the Cotton Textile Institute, at a meeting of the New York Cotton exchange.

Mr. Sloan spoke optimistically of the results accomplished by the cotton manufacturing industry, with the co-operation of the United States departments of agriculture and commerce, in expanding the consumption of cotton goods, and of the effect of such activities.

Sales Volume Gains. "The volume of sales of cotton cloth since January 1," said Mr. Sloan, "has been heavier than during the same period in any recent year. These large sales have completely changed the position of the industry. While unfilled orders are now approaching peak levels, stocks on hand, the cause of concern only a few months ago, have diminished to the lowest volume ever recorded. On many classes of goods, stocks have been reduced to the minimum yardage on which current business can be transacted."

"Notwithstanding this gratifying expansion of business, the mills are taking a conservative attitude regarding production because of the conviction throughout the industry that the recent favorable trend in cotton textile should not be regarded as a genuine recovery until the general business situation shows further improvement. The excess capacity for production of cotton goods has been corrected to an important extent by the discontinuance of night employment of women and minors in a large proportion of the mills.

Sees Stabilization. "There is a growing tendency to discontinue night operations entirely and to concentrate production on the day shift. These developments, together with further observance of greater uniformity of running time, promise to go far in stabilizing employment."

Among the new uses for cotton goods described by Mr. Sloan is the insertion of a heavy layer of water proof cotton fabric between the two layers of wood planking in the holds of motor boats and light cruisers which does away with the necessity of caulking.

Oranges from Florida are now coming into the New York market in a newly developed open meshed cotton bag for retail distribution. Increasing amounts of cotton cloth are being used for cloth stationary, maps, menu cards, and advertising posters.

Over 80,000 People Killed By Autos

Trenton, N. J., March 26.—Automobile deaths in the United States during the past 18 months totalled 80,900, a report issued by the state traffic commission shows.

As a comparison the report said the number exceeded the American death toll of the World war in which 55,510 were killed or died of wounds during 18 months.

In New Jersey, 1,251 persons were killed by automobiles in the last 18 months. Last February 72 were killed as compared with 80 in February last year.

Science Students On Visit To Star Plant

Forty Students From No. 3 Consolidated on Inspection Tour Here.

Forty students from No. 3 Consolidated school made an inspection tour Wednesday, visiting The Star office and a cotton mill. J. W. Davis, principal of the school said many of the students had never been inside a cotton mill, so they planned a visit to a local mill after going through The Star plant.

In The Star office they were shown how news is gathered, how pictures are made and transmitted, how type is set, forms made, and a 24 page rotary press which has a speed of printing, folding and counting 18,000 newspapers in an hour.

Other schools are invited to send their classes in charge of a teacher to The Star office. Before coming, however, an engagement should be made with the management.

I could not stand to take strong medicine, so I decided I would take Black-Draught, and I found it to be all right." "I would have such dizzy spells, and such bursting headaches, until I could hardly go. But after taking a few doses of Black-Draught I would feel just fine. It is a good medicine, and I recommend it to all who suffer as I did. It is very easy to recommend a medicine that has done as much for me as Black-Draught has done."
