

Thompson Takes Lead Role In The "College Flapper"

Loy Thompson well known in local circles is to play the lead in "The College Flapper" the big amateur show to be staged next week at the High School auditorium on Friday and Saturday night April 10 and 11 under the auspices of the Lions club. The lead character Jerry Watson is the star football player of Bula Bula college, upon whose ability the success of winning the championship game depends. The sorority house is presided over by Betty Suttle in the role of "Mary" and to the sorority house comes Jerry to see his girl, played by Mary Brandt Switzer. William Osborn as "George" fraternity brother of "Jerry" and "Monk" the football trainer, played by "Tubby" Logan support Mr. Thompson as Jerry and spend a great deal of their time trying to get him over to the gymnasium to the football practice and thus expel him from being expelled from school.

Mr. S. A. McMurry is playing the role of the distinguished and dignified "Dr. Seamer" president of the college, who with his high-powered methods prevails upon Mr. C. B. McBrayer as the "big butter and egg man" to give the college a large sum of money. He becomes infatuated with "Jerry" while he is dressed as the housemother and wants to take him to the game, but after Jerry wins the game by his superb playing, gives one-half million dollars to the school even though he was disappointed in winning the "housemother", Arthur Benoy plays the part of "Professor Gaddis" the white headed bachelor professor and Carobel Lever plays the part of "Dean Howard" the eccentric dean of women. These two have been in love for 30 years but "Professor Gaddis" falls in love with ever new woman who comes on the campus, consequently falling for Jerry in the disguise of the new housemother.

Everybody who has seen the rehearsals state the show is a riot from start to finish. Mary Reeves Forney as the freshman favorite is successful in striking the fancy of "Brock" played by Dr. B. M. Jarrick, Paul Whisnant plays "Bill" the other principal freshman and these three are a scream in their comedy roles.

Miss Gertrude street, director; Miss Ollie Mae Putnam, president; Mrs. Lillian Werten, vice-president; Palmer Glenn, recording secretary; Miss Bertie Lee Hamrick, corresponding secretary; Wellie Hamrick, chorister; Miss Elizabeth Putnam, organist; Everett Hamrick, treasurer; Esley Barner Miss Delta Ware and Miss Ruth Hollifield, group captains.

On Monday April 6, at 7:30 o'clock our pastor Rev. John Suttle will begin a B. Y. P. U. study course at the church. This course will meet each evening during the entire week at the stated time and we are very anxious for both old and young to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Street and family of upper Cleveland spent Wednesday of last week with their parents Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Street.

Mrs. F. F. Poston has moved from the old Hogue place in front of Cranes store to Mr. Hendee's old Champions place where she expects to make her home for the coming year. The Champions have moved to South Shelby to engage in the mercantile business.

Misses Jessie and Hettie Mae Humphries entertained the young people of the community by giving a party at their home Saturday evening. A large number was present and all reported a good time.

Mrs. William R. Putnam is very feeble at this writing. Mrs. Putnam is 90 years old and has gotten along remarkably well for one of her years.

Mr. J. D. Ware is able to be out again after a prolonged illness.

Misses Gertrude Street and Bertie Lee Hamrick were visitors at the home of Mrs. Albert Putnam Monday evening.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank our neighbors and friends for the help, loving kindness and sympathy shown to us during the sickness and death of our beloved father, R. P. Francis.

May God's richest blessings abide with everyone of you now and always.

The Children.

Suffered Misery Sure As She Ate

"In ten years of suffering Sargon was the only medicine that gave me lasting relief," stated Mrs. Sadie Collins.

MRS. SADIE COLLINS
Collins, 22 Lee St., Rock Hill, S. C.
"The lightest diet would cause me over-active. My kidneys were over-active. I was constantly troubled with constipation, hardly ever got a good night's sleep, and weighed just a hundred pounds. My stomach trouble vanished by the 'hard bottle' of Sargon; my kidneys became regular; and these wonderful Sargon Pills overcame my constipation completely. I get good sound sleep now, feel strong all over, and have actually gained five pounds."

Easter And Jewish Passover Related As To Origin

(By JAMES A. WILSON.)

The first Sunday after the first full moon after the 21st of March is always Easter Sunday, and March coincidentally with the Jewish Passover, which is a movable feast.

Many ancient and mythological rites have been joined to the Easter celebration. All the world joins in the celebration of Christmas and Easter, though all the world is not Christian. About thirty-five hundred years ago, down in old Egypt on the River Nile, the Jews held the first Passover. Old King Tut-ank-amen had been embalmed and placed in his tomb some years before. Joseph had taken his father's family down there during the seven years famine in Canaan, and through his prominence in state affairs had placed his eleven brothers on some of the most fertile pasture lands in Goshen. They were shepherds or cattle men. Their numbers increased very rapidly. I have always wondered "why Jews are like that." For that reason they were placed in bondage to Pharaoh, and worked continually for the government of Egypt. Later, all male children were ordered destroyed to check their increase. At this time Moses was born, and his mother placed him in a little basket, that would float, on the river where the princess, Pharaoh's daughter, with her maids came to bathe. The princess found the babe, adopted him, and had him educated in the palace in all the learning of Egypt. He would have succeeded to the throne and could then have set his people free. But he chose to suffer with his own people instead. After he was eighty years old he was called to lead the Jews back to Canaan. Pharaoh refused to let them go. Then came the plagues, and the last was to be the death of the first-born in every Egyptian family. The Jews were commanded by Moses to kill a lamb and sprinkle the blood on the door posts of their homes, and all who obeyed that command were spared when the death angel passed over that night. Then Pharaoh sent them out in haste for fear they would all soon be dead.

Moses led them across the Red Sea (not on the ice as the colored preacher said) toward Canaan. So the Jews celebrate this feast of the Passover in remembrance of their deliverance from Egyptian bondage. Christ and His disciples went to Jerusalem and observed this feast in an upper room Thursday night. On Friday He was crucified and buried in Joseph's tomb.

But early Sunday morning, while it was yet dark, the two Marys went to the tomb and found it open. The angel said: "He whom you seek is not here, but is risen. Come see the place where the Lord lay." So the Christian world observes Easter on this date, which is the same as the Jewish Passover. Now if you could go into old Jerusalem a very early next Sunday morning you would see the morning star (Venus) and electric lights coming from power from the River Jordan. Many worshippers will be there from all parts of the world, and many things will appear just as they did nineteen hundred years ago. But late in the evening the evening star (Jupiter) will appear in the west, in all its brilliance, shining through the desert air, and as it sets in the west over the Mediterranean Sea, the pale moon will rise over the Judean hills out of the mists of the Dead Sea, where Nebo and Pisgah cast their shadows, making of the River Jordan a silver thread and the Sea of Galilee a sparkling gem. For ten centuries the Turks have held the Holy Land. But just before the armistice, General Allenby and Lawrence with the English army entered Jerusalem and took over Palestine for the Allies. The Peace Conference placed it under English supervision. Allenby and Lawrence appeared in London one night at some royal reception. The door man asked for the firmames. Lawrence said "Leoline and Trotsky" and as such they were announced, but we have not heard yet whether the English saw the joke or not. But those two men with their faithful followers, many of which were from the deserts of Arabia, made it possible for the Christian world to worship again at the shrines of the Holy City, Jerusalem.

The Literary Digest says that Paul Revere rode to Portsmouth, New Hampshire, instead of Concord, Massachusetts. Probably somebody at the livery stable gave him the wrong road map.—Judge.
