Blames Her

Harold Holt (lower), arrested in Detroit, Mich., it is alleged, told the police that Mrs. Vera Phillips (upper), 28-year-old widow, in whose house Holt was a roomer, was the "brains" behind the robbing of a bank at Volant, Pa., last August. They will face trial for the robbery in Pennsylvania.

At The Theaters

"Skippy" is the big offering for the new week at the Carolina Theatre today and Tuesday. Jackie Cooper, Jackie Searl, Mitzi Green and Robert Coogan have been heartily approved and commended for their work in Paramount's new story of boyhood days. Parent-Teacher groups have been sponsoring the picture over the country since its release only a short time ago. A black-face comedy and Fox movietone news will complete the program.

Right when crime and gang doings are in hottest discussion, comes a great and entertaining underworld picture, "Little Caesar." The plot of the story hangs on Douglas Fairbanks, jr., and Edward G. Robinson. Little Caesar is like a combination of all the other gangster pictures, rolled into one mighty production with worlds of tense and thrilling action. This is the feature at the Webb tonight and tomorrow; added, Our Gang comedy and acts.

Latest Picture of King George

Such is the esteem in which King George V. of England is held by his loyal subjects that anxiety prevailed throughout the entire kingdom at the recent announcement that he was unable to attend Easter celebration through a slight illness. This is one of the latest pictures of the popular monarch taken in the resplendent uniform of a Field Marshal of the British Empire.

From the Other Side.
The manager of a vaudeville theater had advertised for a number of comedians.

The following day the would-be funny men arrived and one by one the manager had them in his private office to test their abilities.

"No," he said to one of the applicants, "your songs won't do for me. I can't allow any profanity in my theater."

"But," he burst out, "I don't use any profanity!"

"No," replied the manager very calmly, "but the audience would."

To safeguard their crops farmers of Carnarvon, Wales, are campaigning against wood pigeons.
