Breaking All Records

High Quality Dry Cleaning Did It

A Fellow used to be able to puff out his chest with pride because he went up in an airplane.

Nowadays, he's a piker unless he stays up a couple of weeks.

Suppose a fellow does break all the records and stay up longer than anybody else ever did . . . by the time he lands and gets all shaved up to meet the mayors reception committee, somebody else out in Oskosh or Kalamazoo has taken the record away from him.

But we'd like to see somebody try to take our record away from us. It's not a record of hours in the air . . . but a record for service to satisfied customers.

More people than ever before are demanding BETTER DRY CLEANING, BETTER PRESSING and BETTER SERVICE . . . our customers are getting it and at no more cost than a service of lesser quality.

IF IT'S WORTH DRY CLEANING . . . IT'S WORTH GOOD DRY CLEANING.

That the Pilot Life, located in Greensboro, N. At The Theaters

Will Rogers is chief among five thousand players in "A Connecticut Yankee," Mark Twain's immortal comedy satire, which opened this afternoon at the Carolina theatre. Rogers in the role of "Hank" is more completely himself than any other man before the camera. He is entirely without sham or pretense, is kindly and good-humored because that is his nature. The picture, with Fox movietone news and a comedy, will run today and Tuesday at the Carolina.

Evelyn Laye, whose charm and consummate talents have made her one of the greatest stage favorites, is destined to be one of the screen's most magnetic personalities. She plays in "One Heavenly Night," the early week offering at the Webb theatre today and tomorrow. John Boles, of Rio Rita and Captain of the Guard, is co-starred with Miss Laye in her screen debut. "One Heavenly Night" is the amazing romance of a masquerader.
