MRS. KENN DRUM, Editor. Telephone The Star No. 4-J Each Morning 8 To 12 O'clock.

The Little Old Lady In Lavender Silk. I was seventy-seven, come August, I shall shortly be losing my bloom; I've experienced zephyr and raw gust.

When you come to this time of abatement, To this passing from summer to fall.

It is manners to issue a statement As to what you got out of it all. So I'll say, though reflection un-nerves me And pronouncements I dodge as I can, That I think (if my memory serves me) There was nothing more fun than a man!

In my youth, when the crescent was too wan To embarrass with beams from above, By the aid of some local Don Juan I fell into the habit of love.

And I learned how to kiss and be merry--an Education left better unsung. My neglect of the waters Perian Was a scandal, when Grandma was young.

Though the shabby unbalanced the splendid, And the bitter outmeasured the sweet, I should certainly do as I then did, Were I given the chance to repeat.

For contrition is hollow and wraith-ful, And regret is not part of my plan, And I think (if my memory's faith-ful) There was nothing more fun than a man! Dorothy Parker.

Contemporary Book Club Has Meeting. On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Hal Schenck was hostess to members of the Contemporary book club at a regular meeting, entertaining at her home in Lawndale. Miss Minnie Eddins Roberts, attractively dis- cussed some interesting current topics, and Mrs. B. O. Stephenson read and commented on the list of Pulitzer prize winners for the past year. After the conclusion of the brief program a business session was held during which the following of- ficers for the next club year were elected: President, Mrs. Shem Blackley; vice president, Miss Car- oline Lever; secretary, Miss Minnie Eddins Roberts; and treasurer, Mrs. Brevard Hennessy.

During the social half-hour Mrs. Schenck was assisted by Mrs. W. A. Thompson in serving a delicious ice and sweet course.

Interesting Meeting Of Mothers' Club. Mrs. Hugh Mauney was hostess yesterday afternoon to the members of the Mothers' club at an attrac- tive and interesting meeting. The leader for the afternoon was Mrs. Ed Post and the subject for discus- sion was "Collecting and Other Hobbies." The first paper on the program was "The Young Miser," given by Mrs. Robert Wilson, who was followed by little Miss Patsy Mauney, daughter of the hostess, who contributed a piano solo. Mrs. Boyce Dellinger read a paper on "Mounting Your Hobby," little Miss

Phyllis Yates gave a group of two readings and Mrs. Clyde Short con- cluded the program with an excel- lent paper on "The Dabbling Adoles- cents."

At the conclusion of the program the hostess was assisted by her daughter, Patsy, and by Mrs. Boyce Mauney and Mrs. Ed Post in serv- ing simple but delicious refresh- ments.

Social Honor Accorded Mrs. Jack Stevens.

Friends here of Mrs. Jack Stevens of Greensboro, will be much inter- ested to know that on Monday at the May meeting of the Junior League of that city she was elected president of the organization for the coming year. As president of this group she will attend the national Junior League convention to be held in Cincinnati in June. In her elec- tion to this office Mrs. Stevens has been accorded one of the highest social honors in the state. Mrs. Stevens is a sister of Mrs. Draper Wood of this place.

Y. W. A. Meets With Miss Webb.

The Y. W. A. of the First Baptist church met on Monday evening with Miss Aileen Webb at hostess at her home on North Morgan street. Fourteen members were present. The meeting was opened with a devotional, after which a brief business meeting was held. Miss Viola Randall, president, pre- sided. The program, consisted of a round table discussion of "Young People's Work in Connection with Other Church Organizations," which discussion was conducted by Miss Mary Tedder as program leader. Mrs. J. A. Lyles, W. M. U. president, was a special guest of the group for the afternoon.

During a social half-hour the hostess was assisted by her mother, Mrs. George P. Webb, and her sis- ter, Miss Evelyn Webb, in serving a salad course with accessories.

Social Meeting Of Ishpeming Club.

Miss Mary Moore was a charm- ing hostess to members of the Ish- peming club at a social meeting at her lovely home in Forest City yester- day afternoon, with Miss Claudia Sanders, of Monroe, as guest of honor. The rooms of the lower floor where the tables were arranged were decorated with a profusion of mixed spring flowers. After several delightful progressions scores were added and the high score award, a double deck of playing cards, went to Mrs. Frank Hoey, and the low score prize, a silver bridge pencil and bell, went to Miss Elizabeth Ebeltoft. Miss Sanders was given a beautiful compact as a guest prize. Guests outside club members were Mrs. Joe Cunningham, Mrs. Durham Moore, and Mrs. Deck Wilson, the latter of Forest City.

The hostess was assisted by Misses Ruth and Foy Moore, Mrs. George Thompson and Mrs. Terry Moore in serving a salad course with accessories, followed by an ice and sweet course.

Meeting Of D. A. R. Held Yesterday.

Meedames C. R. Hoey, J. L. Mc- Dowell, Renn Honeycutt and J. A. Lyles were joint hostess yesterday afternoon at a regular meeting of the Daughters of the American Re- volution, with Mrs. Hoey as chair- man of the hostess committee. The club room, where the meeting took place, was decorated with quantities of various spring flowers. During a business meeting the following pro- gram committee was appointed for the coming year: Mrs. J. A. Lyles, Miss Elizabeth McBrayer and Mrs. W. H. Blanton.

The afternoon's program was opened by a flag drill and question- naire on the flag and the Ameri- can creed, conducted by Mrs. Ceph Blanton, "Laurels of a Mother" was given by Miss Mame Jones, who was followed by Mr. E. B. Hill, ac- companied by Miss Mary Helen Lattimore, in singing a group of two songs: "Sweet Little Mother of Mine" and "Among My Souvenirs."

An interesting article on "Some Queer Customs of Colonial Days" was read by Miss Ella McNichols, which number brought the pro- gram to a close.

During the social half-hour the hostesses served a delicious ice and sweet course with coffee.

Miss Glover Weds Mr. J. B. Price.

A wedding of interest to friends in this section took place at 7 o'clock on Saturday evening when Miss Olna Glover was married to Mr. J. B. Price in a simple cere- mony at the home of the bride's parents at Ellenboro, in the presence of only relatives and immediate friends. The ring ceremony was used. Rev. J. N. Snow, the bride's pastor officiating. The vows were spoken before an altar of banked evergreens and flowers, arranged in front of a window. Lighted candles were placed effectively about the room. The wedding music was played by Miss Beata Glover, of Ashe- ville normal school. Mendelssohn's wedding march was used as a pro- fessional and "I Love You Truly" was softly played during the cere- mony.

The pastor entered the ceremony room first and took his place before the altar; the bride and groom entered together. The bride wore a tailored ensemble of navy blue crepe with which she used eggshell accessories.

Mrs. Price is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Glover of Ellen- boro and is an attractive and popu- lar young woman. She received her education at Asheville normal school, and during the past year has taught in the schools of Ruth- erford county.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Price, also of Ellenboro. He received his education at Kings Business college and has until re- cently been connected with the Conservative Insurance company here.

Mr. and Mrs. Price left immedi- ately after the ceremony for a wed- ding trip through western North Carolina. Upon their return they will make their home near Ellen- boro.

While many experts say business has turned the corner none of them go so far as to say it was making the curve on only two wheels.

It would be a pleasure to run this newspaper without charging for ad- vertising or subscriptions but some- body else can have the pleasure.

You can change the whole philo- sophy of life for some people by pin- ning a little piece of ribbon on them, with the printed word "committee."

We never could understand why old men were so much worried about the way the flappers acted; they were certainly safe, not to say im- mune.

IN FASHION NOW

The vogue for cotton is growing more and more as the season ad- vances. There seems to be no place where cotton cannot be smartly worn as one sees costumes of every score at fashionable occasions from morning to the wee small hours of the night.

For the morning, there's the cot- ton gingham which is having a tre- mendous revival this spring. Ging- hams of every kind are being shown and worn.

For sports and street wear, there are the chic little jacket suits of cotton jersey worn with dimitie or all-over embroidery blouses. Suits of cotton serge are good. Pique in white and in colors is a favorite. Other cotton materials are being shown that are suitable for use in any number of costumes.

For afternoon (and evening, one sees cotton take its place among the finest materials. Organdy, the darling of the younger set, is one of the favorites. Others seen at formal functions are pastel shaded, cotton nets, dotted Swiss, cross bar- red muslins, and cotton laces.

For wear with one's cotton cos- tumes, there are also cotton shoes, of canvass, trimmed or untrimmed with colors, to suit one's taste. For sports wear there are the life mesh stockings.

Local Man Kills Wild Boar In Swamps of Santee River, S. C.

Was Advised of Danger So He Went Armed. Wild Boar Weighed 350 Pounds.

D. W. Costner, Shelby man who deals in pigs, was on a trip. Last week to South Carolina to buy a load for sale on the local market. He reports on his return, the thrill- ing experience of killing a wild boar in the Santee river swamps of Cal- houn county where he had called on a Mr. Keller to buy his load.

Mr. Costner was in the swamps with Mr. Keller and had been advis- ed of the wild boar which had been a menace to men and dogs for sev- eral weeks. The boar was sighted and a dog which they had along with them gave chase, but the wild boar turned and frightened the dog away. Mr. Costner fired once, but missed his mark. The dog and the men continued the chase and when the boar was sighted again Mr. Costner leveled his 38 calibre spe- cial and killed the immense boar. It was left in the custody of Mr. Krei- ler and many people who had feared its presence, gathered to view the carcass after Mr. Costner returned home.

District Club Women In First Meeting Here

Professor Weaver of State College Delivers Address on Some Conveniences.

Home Demonstration club women from Gaston, Rutherford and Cleve- land counties met on Saturday May 2nd, at the South Shelby school for the first district meeting ever held by this district.

Mrs. Oron Vernon of Gaston county is chairman. Mrs. Boyd Hartsel of Cleveland county is secretary of this district.

Mrs. Vernon presided in a manner becoming one who had had experi- ence of many years, instead of one who was launching the organization for its first cruise.

The welcomes and responses as well as the greetings were composed of fitting remarks that made all realize that there was preparation and earn- estness behind the purpose for which the women stand, and that they may be depended upon to carry out any venture they may undertake.

Mrs. Grady Lovelace, who is always generous to the organizations and shares her musical talent at many of these meetings, sang the 4-H club song "Dreaming" with splendid feel- ing. She had the right appreciation of home, or she could never have put such emotion into the song.

Greetings From State.

Mrs. Dewey Bennett, vice presi- dent of the State Federation of Home Demonstration clubs, and chairman of the district meetings brought greetings from the state, and from Mrs. McKimmon. She also told in a most direct manner the history of the Jane S. McKimmon Loan fund, started as a love gift for Mrs. McKimmon by the home dem- onstration agents, and later made a joint purpose with the state federa- tion, still as a love gift to the worthy commander. The federation has done so much sponsoring that it is with them a major project in many respects. From this fund money is to be loaned worthy coun- try girls for the purpose of gaining an education in home economics. Preference is given 4-H club girls in granting these loans, and the girls must attend an A grade col- lege.

Prof. Weaver Speaks.

Prof. D. S. Weaver of State col- lege, made a most practical talk on home conveniences, particularly the inexpensive method of securing running water for the home. Mr. Wea- ver was introduced as the best friend of the country woman in all the state, which introduction he proved was as true as were his charts with their accurate plans that carried such appeal in their clarity. Lunch was the item that had to be partaken of to be thor- oughly appreciated. Cleveland as hostess county, served coffee and salad. The plates were served with the meats, sandwiches salad coffee and bread, then the deserts were spread upon a long table and invi- tation rendered to "help yourselves."

Mrs. Current, district agent took charge of the song period, leading the songs selected for the occasion which pertain to the general work. She was accompanied by Mrs. Huff Hamrick.

Splendid reports were given from each county. After this came the business session. Plans were made for the coming year, when, where and how the work is to carry on for the future. A program committee was appointed to look after that end of the business.

The secretary is to be selected from the county from which the chairman is elected, so a list of these names will be published when the offices are completed.
