

Pearson Fights Cliffside Boxer In Lawndale Bout

Lawndale To See Favorite Slugger Take On Veteran Jack Blanton.

Boxing fans in the Lawndale section are enthused over the feature bout of a program to be put on there Saturday night, May 30, at 8:30.

Jimmy Pearson, up and coming young Lawndale boxer, will meet Jack Blanton, the veteran lightweight from Cliffside, in the main bout scheduled for six rounds.

In addition to the main bout there will be a pie-eating contest and other preliminaries including a bout between John Canipe and some mystery slugger.

Shelton's brass band will furnish music for the occasion and the proceeds will go to the Lawndale baseball club.

Legion Youngster Hurls No-Hit Game

Within a week's time two Shelby baseball players have hurled no-hit games.

Playing at Mooresboro Wednesday afternoon the American Legion junior team of Shelby defeated Mooresboro 1 to 0 as R. K. Wilson, Legion pitcher, twirled a no-hit game.

Johnny Putnam hurled a no-bitter last week for Ora mill.

Lawndale Outfit To Play Avondale

(Special To The Star.) Lawndale, May 29.—The fast Avondale baseball club will play the local team here Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A good game is expected.

McSwain Bill Fails To Pass Last Night

Would Require Commissioners Not To Exceed Levy of Fifteen Cents.

A bill introduced in the senate Wednesday, the closing day, by Senator Peyton McSwain, requiring Cleveland commissioners not to exceed the 15-cent land levy for schools in any instance, failed to get by the house on the closing night of the session.

The McSwain bill, which requires Cleveland commissioners to abide by the 15-cent tax levy for six months schools, follows:

Section 1. The board of county commissioners of Cleveland county are hereby prohibited from levying any ad valorem tax for the current expenses of the six months school term in excess of 15c on $100.00 valuation as provided in H. B. No. 102, "A Bill to Be Entitled an Act to Raise Revenue," and as provided in section 15 of H. B. No. 872, known as the 1931 school bill, using as a basis the valuation for the year 1930.

Section 2. Nothing in this act shall prohibit the trustees of any special charter or special taxing district by and with the consent of the county board of education, the county board of commissioners, and the state board of equalization, from levying a special tax not in excess of the rate heretofore voted on any such special charter or special taxing district for the purpose of supplementing any object or item contained in the state school budget for the six months term purposes, or for the operation of the extended term. It being the intent and purpose of this act to limit the total county levy ad valorem tax levied for the current expenses of the six months school term so that it will in no case exceed 15c on $100.00 valuation of property, using the 1930 valuation.

Section 3. That the provisions in this act shall apply only to the county of Cleveland.

Section 4. All laws and clauses of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Section 5. This act shall be in full force and effect from and after its ratification.

Planning Scenic Highway In N. C.

ital of an historic state, on to Raleigh, North Carolina's picturesque capital, Greensboro, Salisbury, Charlotte, Gastonia, Kings Mountain military park, through Shelby, Forest City, Rutherfordton, Lake Lure, Chimney Rock and the famous Hickory Nut Gap to Asheville, thence to the Great Smoky Mountains national park, 6,000 feet above the sea and more than 800 square miles in area. From Charlotte to Asheville the route lies along North Carolina highway No. 20, a great scenic highway stretching across the entire state from Wilmington to the Tennessee line.

At present many thousands of visitors from New England and the east have been missing the famous Kings Mountain battleground and the magnificent scenery between that point and Asheville by way of Lake Lure and Chimney Rock.

Handsome enamel markers will be placed every five miles from Washington to Bryson City, N. C., a distance of 619 miles. These markers will be artistic three-color enamel shields, the national capitol in white, backed by the Smoky Mountains in green, with the caption of the road in orange letters, a permanent and beautiful piece of work.

One of the objects of the Capitol Parkway organization eventually is to make this magnificent north-south traffic artery a parkway in deed as well as in name, with beautification plans carried out on every mile of it, trees and flowering shrubs to be used in profusion along the whole route.

This route is replete with historic spots all the way. Those along the Virginia sector are already well known to the traveling public. Coming into North Carolina through Raleigh and Durham, tourists will pass some well-known educational institutions as well as points of historic interest. Greensboro has the famous Guilford County Court house and national park, and at Charlotte the spot where the tide of the American Revolution was turned. Eastern America contains no more magnificent and rugged mountain scenery than that along this highway in the vicinity of Lake Lure and Chimney Rock and on to Asheville through Hickory Nut Gap.

Polkville Camp Girls On Outing

Go To Sweezy Mountain For Lunch Then Visit Powder Dam Near Lawndale.

(Special To The Star.) The Camp Fire organization of Polkville high school spent the week end on an outing.

Saturday morning they motored to the foot of Sweezy Mountain, then climbed it, ate dinner above a very beautiful spring at an old house. Leaving the old house they went to the rock house where some pictures were made. On going down the mountain they gathered some wild flowers consisting of ivy, ash, honeysuckle and sweet shrubs. Mr. Charlie Withrow was their guide.

Returning to Polkville it was decided then to go to the power dam near Lawndale. Leaving the power dam they returned to the house where they spent the night. Those staying were Misses Francis Weathers, "Shorty" Powell, Ree Covington, Elizabeth Champion, Eula Withrow, Ophelia Bridges, Florence Philbeck, Wray Withrow, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Withrow and Mrs. Broadus Champion staying with them.

Those visiting Saturday evening were Misses Della Powell, Vertie Champion, Effie McKee, Emie Lue Powell, Cecil Powell, Ralph Champion, Mrs. Bill Powell and Miss Geneva Champion. The evening was enjoyed with music and games in which everyone took a part.

sult, and it would have been prevented but for the present economic depression and distress.

Save Road Tax.

Reorganization of the state highway department and taking over for maintenance the 45,000 miles of county roads on an extra cent of gasoline tax is a law in question. Local units would never have given up this authority but for the stress of the times and need for aid with local problems. The legislature would have gone still further and turned over to the state all authority in the public schools in requiring the state to operate and maintain them except that it could not have been done without a sales tax.

But for the stress of the times, the opponents of any one part of the governor's program could have organized with opponents of other parts and the entire program, or practically all of it, would have failed. Opposition to some parts of the program endangered it, as it was, but it has come through.

Two of his proposals were abandoned, but for the purpose of going about them in other ways. The proposed constitutional convention was supplanted by the plan of naming a constitutional commission to study the constitution, propose amendments and changes considered desirable. The legislative "short ballot" plan was supplanted by the constitutional "short ballot" suggestion, so each succeeding legislature could not have power to overthrow it—so appointment of officers of the state rather than election of so many would be part of the organic law of the state, rather than statutory.

Reorganization of the banking activities by creating the department of banks was a hard task, but wholesale failures of last fall aided this movement. Consolidation of the three institutions of higher learning into the University of North Carolina had formidable opposition, but it was accomplished because of the stringency of the times. Taking from the institutions, departments and agencies of the state their authority to purchase their own supplies was very drastic, but conditions of the times aided in that project, causing a relinquishing of authority which is expected to result in saving $400,000 a year.

Provision for a new central prison plant by expenditure of what is necessary of the $400,000 appropriated will aid in the governor's live at home program and his movement for certified seed and registered sires. Machinery will be installed in the new plant to give employment in making clothes for all of the state farms and homes, manufacturing socks and stockings, breeding certified seeds and other activities which will train prisoners and supply needs.

Reorganization of the department of agriculture, in which the state fair board was eliminated, and reorganization of the department of health are two of the important measures provided. The personnel division, investigating employment agencies of the state and systemizing employment, will aid greatly in improving government and providing economies. Reorganization of the labor department to meet present needs and the 55-hour a week law for women workers are material changes.

Establishing the local government commission, not exactly a Gardner measure, but meeting with his hearty approval and support, is destined to save many thousands of dollars to the taxpayers in the local units of the state, through its drastic powers and duties.

the ways of crime. Then, Mr. Brummitt cited that education has another purpose, that of building up within the individual, strong moral forces that give social virtues and enable the individual to differentiate between right and wrong.

Adds Beauty to Conduct.

Giving as his fourth and final purpose of education, Mr. Brummitt pointed out that education adds to the beauty of conduct. He wanted all to continue to believe in Santa Claus, fairy tales, and the colorful and alluring things of life. "Beauty can be found anywhere and everywhere, not only in the moonlight, the diamond studded grass and the gorgeously colored flowers, but in the daily affairs and sights of life," the speaker declared in eloquent tones. He would have the youth feed their minds and souls on the rich literature that is available, beginning with the word of God as recorded in the Bible.

Mr. Brummitt was accompanied to Shelby by his wife. He spoke Tuesday night at a school closing at Wadesboro and went from Shelby to Hickory last night to deliver the commencement address. While in Shelby he was introduced

Plan Marker For Forest City Site

Forest City, May 28.—At a meeting of the Lee-Eaves-McDaniel chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, held at the home of Mrs. A. H. McDaniel here, the organization decided to take as an objective the matter of placing a marker at the west end of the public square in Forest City, and during the meeting a total of $30 was pledged for that purpose.

This marker will commemorate the departure of Company D, 16th regiment, the first company to leave Rutherford county for service in 1861, and will mark the muster ground of Company D (Burnt Chimney Volunteers), and Company I, 50th regiment. Both companies were recruited in and near Forest City and the present plaza was used as a muster ground.

The original subscribers to the fund to purchase the marker are Mr. A. H. McDaniel, T. R. Padgett and Mrs. A. H. McDaniel.

to many people, some of whom he had known intimately at Wake Forest where he was a law student in 1906-1907.
