

Fine Yields Of Wheat And Oats Around Toluca

Yields of 220, 300 and Even 500 Bushels Reported. Fruit and Vegetables Abundant.

(Special to The Star.) Toluca, July 9.—We are having a lot of rain in this community now. The grass sure is getting a start. Crops sure are looking fine every body seems to be carrying on the live-at-home plan, despite the beetle a lot are putting up a supply of green beans, Mr. A. C. Costner is working with the threshing crowd he says as they travel over the country, he never has seen so much raised to eat. There is a fine crop of peaches and more apples than was thought to be at first, as the trees died so bad with blight. Wheat is the best this year that the writer ever remembers.

220 Bushels Wheat. Sherman Mitchell made the biggest yield per acre. He had six acres in wheat, he cut two loads for feed and then got 220 bushels and 396 bales of straw, in cutting his wheat the reaper would not bind but half through at a time.

S. A. Sain made 153 bushels on five acres. F. A. Boyles 153 bushels on 5 1-2 acres. B. G. Yarboro made over 500 bushels of wheat and nearly 300 bushels of oats, wheat is cheap this year, being only 75 cents per bushel.

A lot of people from this community are attending the teacher training school now in progress at Fallston.

Butterflies Find Lost Golf Balls Girdard, Cal.—Whatever may be said of J. E. Priddy, a golfer, it must be admitted he is original.

"Tiring of depending upon caddies to find balls which I hook or slice," said Priddy, "and noting the numerous white butterflies flitting about the St. Andrews golf club grounds which I play, I determined to make use of my knowledge as a chemist.

"You know ants, bees and the like are attracted by certain odors. I experimented until I found a formula which would draw these white butterflies and saturated my golf balls with it. Now when I drive one into the rough I sit down and wait until they find it for me."

Max And Cam; Biggs And '32; Raleigh Items

(Star News Bureau)

Raleigh, July 8.—Heard and seen around the well at the University of North Carolina during the recent commencement:

Senator Morrison: "Crawford, you know that if you had come on with us and supported your old friend Cam instead of your young friend Max you would be on the supreme court bench today."

Judge Biggs: "Maybe so, Cam. But if Max Gardner had followed the same rule you would not have been in the United State senate today."

Judge Biggs was campaign manager for O. Max Gardner for governor in the hectic decade ago, when he was defeated by a narrow margin by Cameron Morrison. Heriot Clarkson, campaign manager for Morrison, is now on the supreme court bench.
