THE MASSES.
The masses are asses
Who do as they're told.
Ridden to market
And traded for gold.

Once in a while
To see how it feels
They throw off their riders
And kick up their heels.

This being done
They halt on the track
Upon which the riders
Promptly climb back!

Dinner Party At Lincolnton.

Miss Lenora Gamble was hostess last evening at a pretty dinner party at her home at Lincolnton given in honor of Mr. Charles van Bergen, of The Hague, Holland, who is visiting Miss Kathleen Hord here. A five-course dinner was beautifully served to the following: Mr. van Bergen, Miss Hord, Mr. Kermit Klöniger, Mr. Nick Sappenfield, of Concord, and Misses Lenora and Jessie Gamble.

Pretty Party At Patterson Springs.

Mrs. M. M. Mauney was hostess to the young people of the Patterson Springs community at a delightful party on Wednesday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ab Harrill. About 25 young people were present, a special guest of the occasion being Miss Virginia Austell, of Greenville, S. C., who is visiting Miss Mary Sue Austell. Various games were played on the lawn during the evening, at the close of which ice cream, cake and punch were served. Mrs. Mauney was assisted in entertaining by Miss Selma Hamrick.

Party For Young Visitor.

Sara Newton, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Z. Newton, was hostess to a few friends at a movie party on Thursday afternoon honoring her cousin, Sara Frances Thomas of Orangeburg, S. C. The children went to see "Daddy Long Legs," after which they returned to the home of the hostess where her mother served simple refreshments.

Those enjoying this party were: Sara Frances Thomas, Eleanor Hocy, Nancy Lineberger, Louise Hardin, Justine Grigg, Jeanette Post Mary Ethel Gaffney, Virginia McNeely and guest, Jane Austen Turner, of Albarmarle, Pearl Weathers, and Nancy Newton.

Pretty Tea For Presbyterian Ladies.

Mrs. R. L. Ryburn and Mrs. F. O. Gee were gracious hostesses on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ryburn, entertaining the ladies of the Presbyterian church at an informal tea from 5 to 6. The rooms of the home and the wide porch were decorated with vases and baskets of mixed flowers. Tables and chairs were arranged under the trees on the lawn. Mrs. Ryburn received in a lovely frock of powder blue chiffon and Mrs. Gee wore a becoming dress of flowered chiffon in shades of orange and yellow. Assisting the two hostesses in receiving and entertaining on the porch and lawn were: Mrs. W. F. Mitchell, Mrs. R. T. LeGrand, Mrs. J. F. Jenkins, Mrs. H. N. McDiarmid and Mrs. Lee B. Weathers.

The punch table was arranged on the sun porch where punch was served by Mrs. C. B. McBrayer, Mrs. Helen Morton Beam, Mrs. Dale Laughinghouse, of Greenville, and Miss Alpha Gettys. Ice cream and cookies were served from the dining room with Mrs. William Andrews, Mrs. Mary E. Yalbrough, Mrs. Renn Drum, Mrs. L. A. Gettys, Mrs. Peyton McSwain and Miss Elizabeth Alexander assisting in serving.

Risse-Borders Wedding Of Interest.

A quiet mid-summer wedding which is of interest here took place on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock when Miss Jessie Borders became the bride of Mr. Fred W. Risse, of Atlanta, Ga., the wedding taking place at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. P. C. Lavender, at Earl. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. Suttle in the presence of only a few relatives and friends. The ring ceremony was used. The rooms in which the guests assembled were decorated with quantities of ferns and flowers in pastel shades. The vows were spoken before an improvised altar of ferns and flowers.

The first to enter the ceremony room was Miss Agnes Borders, sister of the bride, acting as maid of honor who wore a frock of green organdy and carried an arm bouquet of gladiol and pink rose buds. She was followed by little Nell Roberts, niece of the bride, as flower girl, who wore a dainty frock of white organdy and carried a basket of pink rosebuds. Little Mary Ruth Lavender, dressed in a white frock of frills, acted as ring bearer and carried the ring in the heart of a lily.

The bride and groom entered the room together. The bride was lovely in a costume of powder blue chiffon with which she wore a blue lace hat and accessories of the same color. She carried an arm bouquet of white rosebuds tied with white tulle.

Mrs. Risse is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Borders, of Shelby, but for several years has made her home with her grandparents, the late Mr. P. C. Lavender and Mrs. Lavender, of Earl. She is an attractive and popular member of the young set of that place.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Risse, of Atlanta, Ga. He has for several years been connected with the American Telephone and Telegraph company in Charlotte but has recently been transferred to Atlanta.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Risse left by motor for different points in Eastern North Carolina. Upon their return from the wedding trip they will be at home at 763 Pulliam St., S. W., Atlanta, Ga.

Angel-Perry Wedding Of Interest Here.

Friends in this section will be interested in the following taken from a recent issue of the Oxford Public Ledger:

"A wedding of much social interest marked with beauty and simplicity was solemnized at high noon Saturday, July 15, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Perry, Evergreen Farm, Creedmoor, when their daughter, Clara Marie became the bride of Mr. William Lenoir Angel, of Shelby.

"The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Lawyer J. Rainey, of Durham. The wedding music was furnished by Miss Gullie Perry as violinist and soloist, and Miss Margaret Perry a pianist. A musical program was rendered prior to the ceremony. "At the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin by Wagner, Little Miss Betty Jane Foll, of Spartanburg, S. C., wearing Nile green organdy made colonial style with bonnet and carrying a silver basket scattered rose petals in the pathway of the bride. She was followed by little Miss Bobby Lou Foll, also of Spartanburg in pink organdy and bonnet carrying the ring on a satin pillow with a shower of valley lilies.

"The bride wearing biege georgette with big hat and carrying a shower bouquet of radiance roses, and swansonia entered with the groom.

"After the ceremony the bridal party retired to the dining room where a sumptuous dinner was served, followed by cutting the bride's cake.

"Mrs. Angel is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Perry and received her education at East Carolina Teachers college and has taught efficiently in the schools of Salisbury.

"Mr. Angel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Angel of Greensboro. He is a graduate of the School of Law at Wake Forest college and holds a responsible position with the Pilot Life Insurance Co., of Shelby.

"Immediately after dinner the bride donned a traveling suit of dark blue crepe with accessories to match and the couple left for Washington returning by way of the Shepandoah Valley."
