The End of the Parades

The bright parades go moving down the street. Wealth, luxury and fame ride on ahead. Followed by force and power, iron might. Position, wild extravagance in red and spangled tights, with flowing robes. And feathered hats. With loudly clanging wheels. The galaxies of life ride by a man in fur, a woman stepping scarlet heels.

The lights fade down, the roll of wheels dies out. Hands clap no more their customary applause. The long parades drag to their straggling ends. And only chance on-lookers care to pause. And watch parading poverty, disgrace. Obscurity, old degradation, fear. Despair—the ragged ends of life that move in the dark, and yet are always near.

New walk: The old men selling pencils, gum. And chestnuts—stamping off the biting cold. Old ladies selling papers, beggars, tramps. And gray-haired men—forgotten growing old. The crying child with frozen hands, the men!

Blind, halt and lame who ply their hopeless trades. Of bringing music to indifferent streets. These form the ragged ends of life's parades.

—Raymond Kresensky.

Picnic Party

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hoyle, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Baber and children, Mr. and Mrs. John McClure and son, John, Jr., enjoyed a picnic at Rainbow lake near Spartanburg Friday evening.

House Party

The following young ladies chaperoned by Mesdames Graham Dellinger and Chas. Laughridge left today for Lake Lure where they will spend a week at the Theo. Hopper cottage. Misses Sadie, Mildred and Jean Laughridge, Kathleen Hamrick, Annie Ruth Dellinger, Ruth DePriest, Cornelia Sparks and Elizabeth Wutt of Lattimore.

Benefit Bridge Luncheon

The golf club house in Cleveland Springs Estates was the scene of a lovely benefit bridge party and luncheon Friday from 11 to 2 o'clock given by the members of the golf club. The large rooms where the seven tables were arranged were elaborately decorated with sun flowers and mimosas. The high score prize, a hooked rug was won by Mrs. Jimmie Blanton and the second high prize, linen handkerchiefs were presented to Mrs. Lowery Suttle.

Default Judgment Against L. L. Jenkins

Charlotte, July 16.—A default judgment for $65,000 was on docket today in superior court here against L. L. Jenkins, Asheville financier, in favor of David J. Craig, of Charlotte.

Misses Borders Give Party

Misses Bernice and Mary Sue Borders delightfully entertained a large number of friends Wednesday evening at their suburban home on Cleveland Springs road honoring their house guest, Miss Lucile Nanney of Rutherfordton.

France And Germany Near End of Dispute

Continued from page one. The strangers strolling its wide boulevards and shopping thoroughfares. The coffee houses, bars and sidewalk cafes were crowded. Motion picture theaters were well filled even during the afternoon performance.

American Legion Auxiliary Meets

The American Legion auxiliary enjoyed a regular meeting at the club room on Friday afternoon with Mesdames Thomas, Ramseur and Dean Duncan as hostesses. A large number of the members were in attendance. The meeting was opened by the group singing of "The Star Spangled Banner," with Mrs. Luther G. Thompson playing the accompaniment. Mrs. W. A. Abernethy, chaplain, led the devotional, after which the pledge to the flag was given and the preamble read by Mrs. T. B. Gold, the president. A short business session was held. During the program half hour Mrs. F. L. Hoyle gave an interesting account of her recent trip to France.

Marion Wins A Close Game From Local Club

Lefty Surratt Holds Cee-Cee Hitters Helpless. Errors, Wildness Help.

The rejuvenated Marion baseball team made it two straights over the Cleveland Cloth mill club, first half winners in the Western Carolina league, here Saturday by winning a hard-fought contest 4 to 2.

Presenting a ball club made up of former leaguers, semi-pro and college stars, the Marion aggregation appeared to be one of the strongest clubs seen in this section recently. As it was, however, wildness on the part of Lefty Smith, Shelby hurler, and fielding mistakes gave the visitors their winning margin of two runs.

Benefit Luncheon At Country Club. The ladies of the Golf Club will give a benefit luncheon at the Country Club house Friday morning at 11 o'clock. Mrs. J. D. Lineberger has charge of table reservations.

Superb Pitching. Lefty Surratt, former Palmto league hurler, was practically invincible and deserved his victory. For four frames he did not give up a hit and no local player reached first base. The Marion club scored early in the game after Hornsby, in right field, let a line drive, shoe-string catch slip by him for three bases. In the fifth the Shelby club came up to tie the score. Gilreath slapped out a neat single. Yelton fluked a fine hit behind the pitcher and Gilreath scored when Casey Morris, Cee-Cee catcher, tapped out a squeeze bunt and was safe at first. At that juncture it was anybody's ball game and a nip-and-tuck contest.

It was an off day for Smith, however, and after Hornsby misjudged a long fly by Murray which was turned into a triple, Smith walked two runners in home with the bases loaded. Another fielder's choice bounced through the infield to give the visiting club three scores in that frame.

Desperate rallies by the Shelby team failed to bring in the necessary runs to tie although one was pushed across when Gilreath socked out a triple and scored on a bounding hit by Yelton.

Behind Lefty Surratt was a fast fielding organization. Molly Cox, veteran Piedmont leaguer, was on first, Jobe Hawn on second, Jay Boms, old Sally loopster, on short and one of Marion's Murray brothers on third. In right field was Stringfield, former infield star at Wake Forest.

The hitting of the Murray boys was the outstanding feature for Marion other than Surratt's pitching. For the Shelby club Gilreath's hitting and fielding, the catching and throwing of Morris and the infield play of Lipscomb featured.

The two clubs were very closely matched and although Marion is two up in the second half it isn't likely that the team has any such run-away in the second half as did the Cee-Cees in the first half. Other than a little edge in the pitching here Saturday there was little difference in the two clubs. The presence of Morris, former Carolina star, behind the plate added to the strength of the Shelby team since the first half.

Lily Gets Win Over Carlton

Lander Farris Goes On Batting Rampage To Bring Victory To Local Team. The Lily Mill baseball club, one of the best textile outfits in the section, strung another scalp on its belt here Saturday by defeating the Carlton Mill club 3 to 1.

Lander Farris, former Furman university star, went on a batting rampage and was one of the most important factors in his team's victory.

His A Homer. Farris marched to the plate five times and banged out four hits, one hit was a Babe Ruthian homer and two others were good for two sacks each.

Peters hurled a steady game for the local club and his hitting combined with Devine's two hits coupled for five tallies.

Hal Farris did the receiving for the Lilies, and Quinn and Beal were battery mates for the visiting club.

Card of Thanks.

We sincerely thank our neighbors and friends for the many kindnesses shown us during our recent bereavement. May you have God's richest blessings.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Lattimore, and Mrs. T. E. Lattimore.

Put And Take. "Are you really a bank examiner, Mr. Thompkins," asked the hostess. "Yes, madam, I happen to be."

"Then I hope you will have time to examine baby's bank. No matter how much we shake it, nothing will come out of it!"

Webb's Silence Too Much For His Golf Opponents

Shelby Boy Does Nothing But Play Golf; Wears A Poker Face.

(Jake Wade in Charlotte Observer). "Toots Causey, the big insurance and niblick man, always has some good golf yarns. Yesterday he was telling this one.

"Imagine my embarrassment," he said, "when in the recent Charlotte County club invitation tournament, I found myself matched against Fred Webb of Shelby.

"In the first place, Webb had no business in my flight, which was the second. He won the thing last year, I think. Well, I could tell the minute he was tacked to the first tee that he was a tournament player. He didn't say a word except a pleasant how-do-you do.

"We smacked them off the tee and trudged down the fairway. I guess I am sort of a playboy on the links and haven't much of a tournament temperament. Webb didn't say a word and kept on a poker face. So I didn't say anything either.

"Well, what should happen, but we both get birdies on that first hole. After we sank our putts, Webb came over to me and opened up for the first time. 'Say, how about a dollar Nassau,' he propositioned. It came out of a clear sky and all I could say was 'Mamma doesn't allow me to bet.'

"It was all for the best. When we turned I was six down. It ended over on the thirteenth."

Political Booms Of State Fail To Benefit

Cudgel and answered his contemporary at a Durham Kiwanis club talk, referring to the "fetish" of so called local self-government and cry of the ancient shibboleth "Local Self Government," which has brought many units of the State to the very brink of bankruptcy, from which the State, stepped in as a result of 1927, 1929 and 1931 Legislation, had to save them. Looks like the foundation for an issue there.

The Lieutenant Governor, even his opponents must admit, is getting about over the State and shaking hands and talking with more people than any other man, and is admittedly developing a big following. Yet, it is claimed, he has no local organization, no nucleus of strength, and that the county leaders, within a week, could wrest from him the bulk of his following.

More and more insistent is the rumor that when the primary ballots are printed they will not contain more than one of the names of the original "four horsemen" prospects, and that the name of Allen J. Maxwell, commissioner of revenue, will be on that ticket. In fact, his friends would not be surprised if he becomes the first formally announced candidate within the next two months. Willis Smith is feeling around, but may not enter, and the prediction has been made that Maxwell and Fountain will be the contestants.

Frank D. Grist, announced opponent of Senator Cameron Morrison, already has started what is expected to be a colorful race, by announcing that he is not pleased with the editorial comment in the Greensboro Daily News that "he would make an elegant dog-catcher" and intimating he may bring suit unless the statement is modified.

He has estimated—in fact, said—that he will ask Senator Morrison some pointed questions, probably in the form of a challenge to a public debate, regarding his support of Frank R. McNinch, Anti-Smith leader, for the Federal Power Commission; his views on the Kansas City Star power fight and whether he still believes the Duke Power Co. a partially religious and semi-philanthropic corporation.

Senator Morrison and Commissioner Grist are both colorful, and Thomas C. Tam Bowie, who is feeling out the Senatorial water, is by no means inane. Robert R. Reynolds, Asheville, is nothing if not sensational, and he is a prospect, he lets it be known. If Clyde R. Hoey should get in, which is very doubtful, the quietest would make a vivid, colorful, sensational race.

He Bought. At the church bazaar a young man strolled around with no intention of purchasing. Near one booth the young lady "seller" detained him.

"Won't you buy a cigar-holder, sir?" she said.

"No, thank you. I don't smoke."

"Or a pen-wiper worked with my own hands?"

"I don't write."

"Then, do have this nice box of chocolates."

"I don't eat them."

"Sir," she said grimly, "will you buy this cake of soap?"

He bought.

At The Theatres

It took only short experience to convince Joe E. Brown that he is a better screen comedian than he was a circus acrobat or a St. Paul baseball player. "Broad Minded" is his latest screen comedy, with Marjorie White as the funny femme. When Joe opens his eyes, he's looking for girls, but when he opens his mouth you'll look for laughs. William Collier, Jr., and Ona Munson are also featured in the cast. The picture opened this afternoon at the Webb.

There's a good swing to the Carolina's new picture, "Sweepstakes," which opened a two-day engagement this afternoon. The story has action, laughs, love story and horse-rides. Eddie Quillan, one-time vaudeville stage star, carries the feature role; Marion Nixon furnishes the love interest, and Jimmy Gleason, comedian, is responsible for most of the fun in "Sweepstakes." Constance Bennett's "Born To Love" will be in the feature at the Carolina, beginning Wednesday.
