The Cloud.
This brown clenched bit of earth
Without the arm to prod
Its harness into the face
Of the elements . . . is a cloud.
It has clutched a richness here
And all that it could retain
From winds before it closed
Against the lash of rain.
And some insistent stir
May tingle, some soft green
Elation move within—
The thing we have not seen!

And it may press apart
The darkness, soothe the asunder
The clutch . . . and the bit of earth
Relax, inert with wonder!
Feeling the rain that beat
Its shape to hardness, give
Soft wings to the thing it holds—
Lovely . . . and fugitive!

Carillon.

Beam-Owens Wedding Today

A wedding of interest to friends in this section took place this morning at 9 o'clock when Miss Jewell Owens became the bride of Mr. William Austin Beam in a simple ceremony at the home of Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Elam near here. Rev. Mr. Elam, who is a cousin of the bride, officiated; only members of the immediate families were present.

The bride, who is a pretty blonde, wore a becoming sports costume of navy blue and white with harmonizing accessories, with which she wore a shoulder bouquet of pink roses and lilies of the valley. The young couple left immediately after the ceremony for a wedding trip through the Shenandoah Valley to Washington, D. C. Upon their return they will be at home in Shelby.

Odd Golf Match On Springs Links Booked Saturday

Golf fans of Shelby will have the opportunity of witnessing an unusual golf match on the Cleveland Springs Country Club course Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

A left-handed professional and a left-handed amateur will play a right handed amateur with the hope of proving to the experts that they are wrong in saying that golfers who hit the ball from the left side are not as good as those who swing from the right.

Webbs In It

The participants in the match will be Bob Reed, Cleveland Springs pro, and Snook Webb, Carolinas junior champion, both left-handers, playing Pete Webb, pro, and Renn Drum, amateur, both of whom shoot from the right side.

Very few golfers who swing from the left side have won fame on the links and the experts say left-handers are not as good as right-handers. In the last year or so Fred Webb has been showing Carolinas golf bugs that there is an exception to all things. The young left-hander has bagged one golf championship after another.

The Saturday's battle between the left-handers and the right-handers will give local golf fans the opportunity of settling another argument, temporarily at least—Is Fred Webb a better golfer than Pete, or is Pete the peer?

Both expect to shoot par or better in the 18-hole match. Golf fans and the general public are invited to witness the odd contest.

Wet Platform Of Reynolds To Aid Senator Morrison

the announcement that he would run on a "wet" platform, openly advocating modification of the Prohibition laws, according to opinion here. For the great majority of North Carolina Democrats vote dry. Thus all the dry Democrats will be compelled to support Morrison in order to defeat Reynolds, with Grist all but ground to meal between the two large mill stones. The power companies, McNinch and other incidents that otherwise would have figured largely in the campaign will be forced into the background by the question of whether the people of North Carolina want to modify prohibition or want to continue to drink their bootleg liquor in the good old fashioned way.

When it comes to whooping it up for prohibition, no one can whoop it up any better than Senator Morrison, for he is a veteran of the old fight for prohibition that started more than 25 years ago.

Not only will Morrison have the support of the "regular" Democrats who stood with him in 1928 when he opposed Simmons so vigorously but he will also be the beneficiary of the greater part of the Simmons bloc who opposed Al Smith because Smith was a "wet" and a Catholic. For while many of these may object to Morrison because of his opposition to Simmons in 1928 they will be compelled to support him or else vote for Reynolds, a "wet" or for Grist. So many will vote for Morrison in order to insure Reynolds' defeat. This will also mean that Morrison will also be the beneficiary of the political influence of the churches of the State, especially the Methodist Church. Josephus Daniels, Duke University and perhaps even of Bishop James Cannon.

Set New Air Record

Washington, July 31.—A new world non-stop distance flight record of 5,011.3 miles was set, according to estimates of the navy hydrographic office, by Russell Boardman and John John Polando in completing yesterday their trip from New York to Istanbul.

Navy officials made this estimate of the distance flown by the yellow and black Boardman-Polando plane on the great circle route, the shortest between the two points. The present non-stop flight of 4,912.7 miles was established by the Frenchmen, Coste and Bellonte, in a flight from Paris to Coulart, China, in 1929.

Istanbul, Turkey, July 31.—Two tired and temporarily deafened American aviators in the monoplane Cape Cod raced recklessly over atmospheric obstacles yesterday to complete an almost perfect non-stop flight from New York to Istanbul in pursuit of a new world distance record.

The flyers, Russell Boardman and John Polando, landed at Yehliky airport at 1:16 p. m. (6:16 a. m. E. S. T.), smiling happily but somewhat after 49 hours and 17 minutes of flight.

"We've done our best," Boardman said, "and we've been lucky. We are all right and could have gone on a little farther if necessary."

Gaston Officers Deny They Give Rum To Friends

Gastonia, July 31.—Chief Deputy Willie McGinnis said other Gaston officers this week made vigorous protest against an implication included in a grand jury report submitted to Judge Michael Schenck, presiding in superior court here this week, that quantities of confiscated liquor had been used by officers or given away to officers' friends, and had not been destroyed according to law.

That part of the grand jury report concerning this allegation said: "It has been brought to our attention that certain confiscated liquors taken by officers have not been destroyed according to law, but in some cases have been used or given away by these said officers. We recommend that all confiscated liquors be destroyed immediately after capture."

In answer to the implication Chief Deputy McGinnis emphatically asserted that all liquors captured and turned over to the sheriff's office since he went into office with Sheriff G. R. Rhyme, had been immediately destroyed either in the presence of Solicitor John G. Carpenter, a U. S. commissioner, or other officials.

N. C. Farmers Desert Money-Crop System

reasonable plan of salvation, and many have been baptized with a new spirit of determination, which is already showing marked results.

Among the new industries on the farm, says Mr. Richardson, is rabbit raising. Hundreds of farmers have gone in for rabbit-raising on a commercial scale, fancy as well as common rabbits being raised.

Poultry has come in for greater attention and many who never bothered with chickens now find them a profitable source of small income throughout most of the year.

Small gardens have sprung up on practically every farm, he says, the reports to the department indicate. Folks are canning all kinds of vegetables for winter use, and preserves and jellies will help to tide them over the winter also.

Bee-keeping has attracted scores of farmers. Those engaged in this industry report that while honey has not brought high prices this year, it has been plentiful and good money was realized.

During the past year, continues Mr. Richardson, many have turned to raising of lespedeza and kudzu with great success. "There are numerous other crops which might be mentioned," he says, "which indicate that North Carolina farmers are determined to raise more food and feed stuff and to sweat less blood over cotton and tobacco."

Cotton acreage is the smallest this year since 1915, being 298,000 acres below the 1930 planting.
