That noon factory whistle is driving no light-headed.
(See where John goes—ploughing with the team)

It's but three months since he and I were wedded
And I stand bewitched like a ghostie in a dream.

The factory whistle does it—it sounds like a liner—
A ship coming in on the lift of the tide,
With her gay flags flying and the sea like green jade
Curdling to white as it slaps at her side.

I can see him now coming swift through the twilight—
Down the long gangway—swinging down to me;
And I waiting—jealous of the wind's quick fingers,
Fondling his black hair, salty with the sea.

Dear God, have pity, I thought I had it buried.
The factory whistle does it, with its liner tone—
Ah, Gerald—hush—I'd make John a good wife
If only that whistle would let me alone.

Byrne Marconier.

Mrs. Frost Is Party Honoree
Mrs. G. S. Dellinger entertained graciously at a small party yesterday afternoon in compliment to Mrs. W. E. Frost, of West Palm Beach, Fla., who is visiting Mrs. J. L. Lackey. Mrs. Dellinger received in a pretty dress of blue georgette and Mrs. Frost wore a becoming frock of powder blue chiffon. Rook was played at three tables during the afternoon. A color scheme of yellow and white was carried out in decorations and refreshments. An ice and sweet course was served, at the close of the games.

Those playing were: Mrs. Frost, Mrs. Lackey, Mrs. W. B. Nix, Mrs. John Irvin, Mrs. R. E. Campbell, Mrs. W. E. Proctor, Mrs. Zeb Mauney, Mrs. B. T. Falls, Mrs. John Honeycutt, Mrs. Luther Thompson, Mrs. C. C. Laughridge, and Mrs. Dellinger.

Mrs. Kendall Honored At Bridge Club

Mrs. Frank Kendall was hostess to members of the Contract bridge club and a few invited guests on Wednesday morning when she entertained in honor of Mrs. Wiseman Kendall, of Greensboro, who is spending several days here this week. Mrs. Kendall received in a becoming sports costume of green and white, and the honoree wore an attractive morning frock of red and black. The rooms where the six tables were arranged for bridge were bright with bowls and vases of mixed summer flowers. When the cards were laid aside the hostess presented her guest of honor with an honor gift and the high score award went to Miss Jane Stamey for the club members and to Mrs. Play Hoy for visitors. A pretty salad course with accessories was served.

Mrs. Parker Is Party Honoree

Mrs. B. O. Stephenson cordially entertained at bridge on Wednesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. S. F. Parker, a recent bride. Mrs. Stephenson received in an afternoon frock of powder blue chiffon with blue slippers, and Mrs. Parker was lovely in a pink embroidered organza, made on old fashioned lines, with which she wore a shoulder corsage of roses. The large living room was bright with summer flowers and six tables were arranged for bridge. At the close of the games Mrs. Parker was given, as a guest prize, a decorated and framed copy of her wedding invitation. Mrs. Robert Agnew, another of Shelby's recent brides, and Miss Dorothy Clement, guest of Mrs. R. W. Morris, were honored with gifts of linen handkerchiefs. Mrs. Morris was winner of the high score award. A delightful frozen salad course was served, pink glassware being used throughout in serving.

Mrs. Nolan Is Hostess At Bridge

Mrs. Tom Nolan graciously entertained at a small bridge party on Wednesday afternoon honoring her house guest, Mrs. Broadus Moore, of Forest City, and Mrs. Paris Price, a recent bride, also of Forest City. Mrs. Nolan received her guests in a becoming afternoon dress of blue chiffon. Mrs. Price wore a chiffon frock in shades of roses, and Mrs. Moore was dressed in printed chiffon. The rooms were decorated with quantities of summer flowers and bridge was played at three tables during the afternoon. After several progressions scores were added and the high score award, a hand made handkerchief, went to Miss Sara Bailey. Mrs. Nolan presented Mrs. Moore with a hand-painted salad set and Mrs. Price with a piece of pink glassware as guest prizes. A delightful salad course was served, a color scheme of green and yellow being carried out.

Those playing were: Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Price, Miss Mary Crowell, Miss Mary Meares, Miss Agnes Barnes, Miss Sara Bailey, all of Forest City; Miss Louise Tedder, and guest, Miss Emma Neal McQueen, of Raleigh; Miss Margaret Sloan, of Gastonia; Mrs. Ceph Blanton, Mrs. Robert Doggett, Mrs. Joe E. Nash, Mrs. Ted Cashion and Mrs. Lee Nolan.

Opening Meeting Of First Division

The first fall meeting of the first division of the Woman's club was held yesterday afternoon at the club room with Mrs. E. A. Houser, Mrs. Charles Young, and Mrs. M. D. Alexander, acting as joint hostesses. The program leader for the afternoon was Mrs. W. H. Jennings who was also elected vice-chairman at the beginning of the meeting, and took the chair for the afternoon in the absence of the chairman, Mrs. Evans Shull. After a short business meeting Mrs. Jennings opened the program with a most interesting talk on the different phases of folk lore, the afternoon's subject, given in clever rhymes. Mrs. George Hoyle gave a brief sketch of the music of folk lore, after which she accompanied Miss Mildred Laughridge and Mr. John McClure, Jr., who played a number of selections of folk lore music on different instruments. Three interesting papers on the subject were given as follows: "Explaining the Unfamiliar in Terms of the Familiar," written by Mrs. Kimmy Falls and read by Mrs. D. R. Yates; "Dreamland," read by Mrs. Charles Wells; and "Classi-clism of Folk Lore," read by Mrs. Griffin P. Smith.

Mrs. J. E. Fowler was welcomed into the group as a new member.

Simple refreshments were served by the hostesses during the social half hour.

Mrs. Gardner Is Hostess At Bridge

Mrs. Talmadge Gardner entertained at a delightful small party on Wednesday afternoon in compliment to Mrs. Guy Eskridge, of Ridgewood, N. J., who is visiting Mrs. Herman Eskridge, and of Mrs. W. K. Dupre, of New York City, who is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hoey. Bridge was played at two tables during the afternoon and when scores were added Mrs. Harry Woodson was winner of the high score prize. Mrs. Gardner gave each of the honorees handkerchiefs as guest prizes. A delicious salad course with accessories was served.

Those present were Mrs. Guy Eskridge, Mrs. Herman Eskridge, Mrs. Charles Hoey, Mrs. Woodson, Mrs. Oliver Anthony, and guest, Mrs. A. F. Martin, of Greenville, S. C., and Mrs. L. W. Gardner.

Small Tea For Visitors

Mrs. W. L. McCord was hostess to the visitors in town with their hostesses on Thursday afternoon when she entertained informally at tea. A delightful musical program, rendered by Mrs. James Yarbrough, of Orlando, Fla., and Miss Dorothy Clement, of Greensboro, was the feature of the pleasant afternoon's entertainment. Mrs. Yarbrough sang "Little Star," "At Dawning," and "A Brown Bird Singing," accompanied by Miss Clement, after which Miss Clement beautifully rendered two piano numbers, Mendelssohn's "Song of Love" and Chopin's "Fantasie." After the program Mrs. McCord was assisted by Mrs. Joe Nash and Mrs. W. A. McCord in serving a simple salad course.

Out-of-town guests who were the inspiration for the occasion were: Miss Clement, guest of Mrs. R. W. Morris; Mrs. Yarbrough, Mrs. Earl Larkin, of Chicago, and Mrs. Howard Eskridge, of Knoxville, Tenn., guests of Mrs. Jimmy Blanton; Miss Elain Buchanan, of Richmond, Ky., guest of Mrs. D. W. Royster; Mrs. W. K. Dupre, of New York, guest of Mrs. Oliver Anthony, and Mrs. R. N. Gurley, of Hickory, guest of Mrs. J. E. Nash.

Wedding At Randleman Of Interest Here

A wedding which will be of interest here took place on September 2 at Burlington when Miss Inez Van Werry, of Randleman, became the bride of Dr. C. D. Kistler, of the same place. The wedding which was characterized by simplicity was performed by Rev. N. G. Bethea, an uncle of the groom, in the presence of only a few friends and relatives.

Miss Ruth Huffman, a relative of the groom, rendered the wedding music. Mrs. L. E. Rich, of Asheboro, sister of the bride, attended her as matron of honor. Dr. A. R. Kistler, of Monroe, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

The bride wore a most becoming ensemble of brown with shoulder corsage of sweetieheart roses. She is the attractive daughter of Mrs. J. Martha Van Werry and has been a capable teacher in the school of Randolph county for a number of years, having taught recently at Asheboro. She received her education at N. C. C. W., Greensboro.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Z. Kistler, of Shelby. He is a graduate of the Atlanta Southern Dental college and is a member of the Omicron Kappa Upsilon honorary fraternity. Since his graduation he has been practicing at Randleman.

Immediately after the ceremony the young couple left on a wedding trip to Virginia Beach, Washington, D. C., and other points of interest. They will make their home in Randleman.

Beaver Dam Events Of Week

(Special to The Star.)

Beaver Dam, Sept. 3.—The farmers are very busy these days in the fodder fields. Some have gone to picking cotton. The cotton is opening very rapidly.

A large number of relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Blanton Sunday for the Blanton reunion. A bountiful dinner was spread out on the lawn under the shade trees and an enjoyable day was spent by all.

Quite a crowd was present Sunday morning for preaching service. Mr. W. F. McGinnis, a young ministerial student who recently graduated from Wake Forest preached for us Sunday. He delivered a very inspiring and helpful message using as his subject "Our Conception of Christ."

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Hamrick and sons, Eugene and Carson, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Glasco Sunday.

Mrs. T. B. Camp and attractive daughters Martha, Lou Ellen and Ann Jarrett of Salisbury who have been visiting Mrs. Camp's mother, Mrs. Martha Jarrett and other relatives and friends for a few weeks have returned to Charlotte for a brief visit and then they will go on to Salisbury.

Misses Nannie Jones and Rosa Lea Moore spent a few days in Gastonia as guests of Miss Jack and Rena Howe.

Miss Margaret McSwain spent Sunday with Miss Selma Callahan. Miss Pearl Short of Kings Mountain spent the latter part of last week with Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Blanton. Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Short came up for the Blanton reunion and Miss Short returned home with her parents.

Master L. B. Barnett who has been spending some four or five weeks with his cousin, Mrs. Glen Blanton, has returned to his home in Gastonia.

A number of people attended the W. M. U. association meeting at Poplar Springs last week. The visiting churches are very grateful to Poplar Springs for the many courtesies shown them.

Prof. and Mrs. F. Y. Blanton and attractive daughter, Betty Jo and Nancy Brock and Mrs. Blanton's sister, Miss Mary Hamilton returned to their home in Carthage Monday after a visit to Mr. Blanton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Blanton.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Baber and children of Shelby visited Mr. R. W. McCurry and children awhile Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Thad Peters and family visited Mrs. Zeb Blanton and children Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Y. Blanton and daughters, Betty Jo and Nancy Brock, Mrs. J. L. Blanton and Miss Pearl Short motored to Boone last Friday and were accompanied home by Miss Mary Hamilton of Carthage who had been attending summer school.

Miss Aileen Stroupe of Charlotte was the attractive guest of her cousins, Misses Gwendolyn and Francis Doggett last week.

Miss Texie Blanton of Kannapolis attended the Blanton reunion Sunday.

Miss Gwendolyn Doggett spent Tuesday in Bowling Springs attending the opening of the junior college and renewing friendship with former teachers and class mates.

Mr. R. W. McCurry and children spent awhile Sunday afternoon in Cherryville with Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McCurry and family.

Mr. Eugene Hamrick very delightfully entertained the intermediate B. Y. P. U. at the beautiful home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Hamrick on Tuesday night. Many interesting outdoor games were enjoyed out on the spacious lawn. After the games delicious refreshments were served by the host's mother assisted by Misses Ethel Humphries and Libby McCurry. Every one present enjoyed the evening very much.

Members of the junior B. Y. P. U. enjoyed a picnic on last Tuesday evening from 5:30 to 6:30 o'clock in Mr. R. W. McCurry's pasture. The members have closed a contest. The group winning being entertained by the losing side. Group one making the highest grade. Many interesting games were played. After an hour of fun was spent a bountiful supper was spread, then the children enjoyed a watermelon slicing. Misses Betty Jo and Nancy Brock Blanton of Carthage and Master Dan Blanton were invited guests.

is greatly handicapped because they have no car, and their stations are widely scattered, and ask if it would be possible for a group of interested friends in North Carolina and Georgia to secure enough funds to enable them to at least purchase a second hand Ford; and this group of friends are going to try to supply these noble heroes of the Cross with some kind of a car. I wish it might be a new Ford, and so do you I am sure. If, therefore, you desire to have a part in this noble work send your check, or turn over whatever amount you feel able to give to either the writer or Mr. Horace Eason, and proper credit will be given, and by Christmas we hope to forward a check of sufficient size to enable them to purchase the car, and thereby do better work for our Lord.

Too many parents these days seem to be using the remote-control method in raising children.—Thomaston Times.
