Pride of Devil Dogs Soon To Pass Out of Marines

Fighting Maj. Gen. Smedley D. Butler to Retire October 1 From Leathernecks With Which He Fought for Last 33 Years.

AS CIVIC REFORMER - AT VERA CRUZ IN 1914

The stormy petrel of the American fighting services—Major General Smedley D. Butler, hard-hitting "leatherneck," energetic civic reformer of Philadelphia, and frank critic of dignitaries, domestic or foreign—is going to be "out" on October 1. "Out," we did say, but not down. Nothing short of death will down the man who has liked nothing better than a fight during all of the 33 years that he has been with the Marine Corps. President Hoover has stated that he would permit General Butler, at 50, to retire from the Corps, whose many records of glorious accomplishment he has helped inscribe with daring, if the battling veteran of numerous campaigns will be readily available in time of war. As if it was necessary to make such a provision with the "Fighting Quaker," idol of the sea-soldiers.
