Noted Authority On Nerves Dies, Age 90

New York, Sept. 21.—Theodore Harvey Kellogg, 90, noted authority of nervous and mental diseases, died Sunday in the private sanitarium he conducted in Riverdale.

Dr. Kellogg, who was born in Grahamville, S. C., and will be buried at Gambier, Ohio, was resident physician of the New York city lunatic asylum from 1865-71 and medical superintendent of the New York city asylum for the insane during 1872-74.

After further study abroad he returned to private practice as a specialist.

During the civil war he was first lieutenant of the seventh squadron, Rhode Island cavalry.

Expect Webb Brothers To Shine In Golf Meet

Shelby Boys To Enter Carolinas Thursday On Reidsville Course.

Pete and Fred Webb, famous Shelby golfers, and Bob Reed, Cleveland Springs pro, leave today for Reidsville to participate in the Carolinas open tournament.

Reidsville.—Thursday, Friday and Saturday will see the finest golfing talent of North and South Carolina battling par over the Penrose Park course, and many guesses have been made as to the outcome of the tournament, who will be the next Carolinas open champion, the winning score, etc.

Francis Kemp is of the opinion that Pat Petranck, local pro, will bear off the honors, and that the winning score will be under 298, the four round par for the course.

Henry Clerk picked George Slingersland, Greensboro Country club pro, and predicted a score of 300 or more.

Prip Watt thinks there are several who have good chances, Raymond Atkins, Sedgfield pro; Pat Petranck, local, and Arthur Ham, of the Charlotte club, are three whom Prip has seen play, and he believes they each have a good chance. And he thinks the score will be 296 or 197.

Bob Rankin says that one of these four will "take the cake". Petranck, Henry Picard, of Charleston, S. C.; Dugan Aycock, of High Point, or Marshall Critchout of the Hope Valley club, in Durham. He believes the score will be 300 or more. Bob picks Petranck, local, and A. C. McManus, of Greensboro, for first place in the pro-amateur stretch, with Pete and Fred Webb, of Shelby, running second.

Kearns Thompson predicts a score of 295 for the winner, and says he believes Eugene Mills, of Raleigh, will do the work. Kearns also picked Petranck and McManus for first in the pro-amateur event.

P. W. Gildwell says that the winner will hit under 300, and expressed himself as to the winner by saying something to the effect that the deity only, possesses the final knowledge of who the victor will be.

This symposium of predictions, by some of the local men who play and watch this honored game of golf, shows considerable and varied speculation as to who will "bring home the bacon"—and how. We shall see.

Vernon Link says low score will be 304, Pat Petranck winning with these figures.

Everyone agrees that golfers who have never played Penrose are going to be surprised at their scores. Sub-par scores will be scarce for Penrose is a hard par 74 with narrow fairways and no ends of trouble for the golfer who is wild off the tee. They are full of twists and dips and one is forced to keep his tee shots straight down the alley if he wishes to keep his score down.

The greens are large and of such size that shots must be played dead to the pin. A golfer playing random shots to the green may find his ball on but a long, long way from the cup.

All in all the visiting golfers will find use for every club in the bag from the driver to their trick putters, no excepting "sand blasters" and "dynamiters."

Cotton Seed Cut To 30c Per Hundred

One of the large buyers of cotton seed sent out the following notice to seed buyers yesterday: "Effective at once we beg to quote basis car seed at $9.00 per ton for cars, and car lots at warehouse at $8.50 per ton. "This would make wagon seed $6 per ton or 30 cents per hundred equals to 9 cents per bushel, if you expect the usual commission between car lots and wagon lots."

Tackle, Center Add Strength To Shelby High Team

"Red" Jolly and "Fat" Williams Come In For Training. Squad Improves.

Football practice at the Shelby High park yesterday afternoon was postponed for about an hour until the funeral and burial service of Sheriff H. A. Logan was over. Coach Casey Morris withheld practice in the park because it is near the cemetery and because, too, Sheriff Logan was an ardent football fan and four of his sons have played on Shelby High eleven.

Shelby High football stock advanced to a new high for the year this week when two veteran grid-ders entered school and added considerable strength to a squad that was in need of extra weight and experience.

The two new comers were Earl (Fat) Williams, veteran 200-pound tackle, and "Red" Jolly, 175-pound fighting center from Bolling Springs. Their presence on the team will enable Coach Morris to make some much needed shifts in strengthening several points in the forward wall.

Both Good. Jolly is considered one of the best centers in scholastic ball. Bub Hulick, who can play any position in the line and scraps at all of them, was being groomed as center. With Jolly in, however, Bub, a long rangy boy, may see service at end, but can be called upon to play guard or tackle. Williams is unusually fast for his huge size and if he will get in condition and put out should be a terror for opposing teams. His return to school gives Coach Morris 3 good tackle prospects—Max Putnam, Roy Newton, and Williams.

Needless to say both will improve the Shelby chance of holding the big Charlotte team to a decent score Friday. A week ago prospects at the local gridiron were so gloomy that it seemed as if the Friday's contest would be a rough-shod run-away. As it is now Charlotte will have to throw considerable dynamite in its ground attack to upset a line with two 200-pounders and several youngsters who hit the scales about 175.

How They Stack Up. Coach Morris doesn't know himself the players he will start against Charlotte. Particularly is he undecided about his backfield. The ball-carrying department lacks weight and it is nothing to write home about on the defense because the boys are inexperienced. Several rookies have been showing promise lately. Among them are "Bar" Huffman, a bruising plunger; his kid brother, Ray, Clyde Williams, Harrill and others. But the eleven from Friday will be picked from the following with a majority of the others getting to see action before it is over.

Ends—"Red" Brown and Moore, both veterans; Bub Hulick, Harry Putnam and G. McSwain, a brother of "Shorty" of last year's backfield fame.

Tackle—Roy Newton, Max Putnam and E. Williams, all veterans.

Center—"Red" Jolly and Frank Jenkins, jr.

Guards—Waldrop, Kendrick Jackson, Kenneth Williams, Z. Mauney and Billy Thompson.

Backs—R. K. Wilson, O. C. Connor, Purp Barrett, "Bar" and Ray Huffman, Stuart James, Clyde Williams and Bill Harrill.

Freight Kills "Boy Hobo"

Susanville, Calif.—Paul McArthur, 15, known as the "Boy Hobo," told his gang that he was heading east to see the folks. He missed his grip, fell beneath the wheels of a moving freight train, and was fatally injured.
