

Shelby Defeats Kings Mountain Team 24 to 7

Connor Races 85 Yards For Touchdown. Williams Ball-Carrying Is Feature.

Although the scrubs played almost half the game and several regulars did not get in the game, the Shelby highs defeated their rivals of old from Kings Mountain here Friday afternoon 24 to 7.

The lone Kings Mountain score came in the third quarter when four long passes sent the ball over on Shelby's second-stringers. The visitors exhibited, in Collins and Hayes, one of the best forward-passing combinations seen here this year, but they could not get going against the regular Morrismen.

Shelby shot over a touchdown soon after the game got under when O. C. Connor flipped a neat forward pass to Moore. The attempt at goal failed. Clyde Williams, starting his first varsity game, proved to be Shelby's most dependable ground-gainer and scored the second touchdown on a driving off-tackle play in the second quarter. A few minutes later Williams shook off two tacklers and sped around end for a third touchdown. Both attempts at goal failed. At that juncture Coach Morris sent in six or seven scrubs who played until the end of the half. As the second half started the Shelby scrubs remained in and a few bad passes and a fumble got Kings Mountain in scoring distance and a long toss from Collins to Hayes and another to Wilson gave the visitors a touchdown. Shortly thereafter four Shelby regulars returned to the game with Capt. Max Putnam going to the backfield to back up the line and there the Kings Mountain threat was annihilated. In the final quarter Connor reached up and intercepted a forward pass on his own 15 yard line and galloped 55 yards for a touchdown, the longest run of the game.

Williams Steps Out.
The outstanding performer of the day, despite Connor's long run and some furious tackling by Capt. Max Putnam, was Clyde Williams, the South Shelby boy, who let the sidelines know that he intended to go places when he got hold of the ball. The majority of times he did just that. He seemed to gain consistently through the line, around end or anywhere else. Chances are that his play Friday will give him the ups at Purp Barrett's regular job in the backfield until Barrett gets back in. Even then Williams seems to be varsity material. The play of the Huffman brothers, "Bear" and Ray, particularly that of Ray was good, while Jolly, the Fullicks and Newton gave Putnam plenty of help in the line. The Shelby second-stringers, although light, looked fairly well handling the ball but were a bit butter-fingered. The Kings Mountain end and Collins were the principal performers for the visitors, and had the entire Kings Mountain team been up to their passing combination, it might have been too bad for Shelby.

R. K. Wilson, Shelby quarter, and Ray Brown, regular end, did not see action because of injuries and illness. Barrett was out because of scholastic difficulties and "Fats" Williams played only a short time due to an injured ankle.

The entire Shelby eleven displayed considerable progress, especially in advancing the ball with Williams leading the way, but a better pass defense and more consistent blocking will be necessary to hold Gastonia to a low score this Friday. The Shelby backs were not taking out their men any too good on running plays, and, at times, seem perplexed as to what they should do when Kings Mountain started scoring. As it is, however, Gastonia, will have no easy time gaining yardage through the Shelby line.

The lineup:
Kings Mtn. Pos. Shelby
Layton qb Bub Hulick
McDaniel r Putnam
Baker g D. Hulick
Moore c Jolly
Anthony qb Thompson
Smith r Newton
Hayes te Moore
Rhinehardt qb Connor
Hardin r R. Huffman

Highs To Play Gastonia There; 2 Games At Home

Rutherfordford And Lowell Come Here For Grid Clashes On 30th And 6th.

The Shelby highs will go into their second toughest game of the season Friday when they meet Gastonia at Gastonia. Other than Charlotte, Gastonia is considered the best grid outfit the Morrismen will meet this season.

The game was originally booked for Shelby, but was later switched to Gastonia as there would have been three consecutive games here.

Other Contests.
Friday week, which is October 30, Rutherfordford will come to Shelby for a game. The Rutherfordford outfit on which Nig Lipscomb, amateur baseball star, is a halfback, is one of the strongest teams produced there in years. On the following Friday, Nov. 6, Lowell come here for a game.

With Barrett ineligible because of school work and two or three other players out with injuries, Shelby's chances of turning in a win over Gastonia there Friday are very slim.

Indictment Is No Surprise To Cannon carrying a possible maximum penalty upon conviction of 10 years' imprisonment and $50,000 fine for each defendant.

Involves Money.
Failure to report contributions of $25,000 from E. C. Jameson, New York capitalist and Republican, as required by law was the basis of the indictment. Bond was fixed at $1,000 for each count.

Assistant District Attorney John Wilson, prosecutor, said he would seek an early trial.

Rover withheld comment at first, but immediately after the grand jury reported, he said the clergyman's requests that he be permitted to testify personally and that certain witnesses be called were "promptly transmitted by me to the grand jury, and that body was advised that it was within its province to grant the request if it so desired."

The bishop once said he would welcome a grand jury inquiry. Robert H. McNeill, the bishop's attorney, said Miss Burroughs would make bond in Richmond, Va., her home, and arrangements would be made for the bishop's bond upon his return to Washington.

McNeill expressed confidence "that a full and open hearing when all the facts can be brought out, will vindicate the conduct of Bishop Cannon and his associates."

Four of the counts presented by the grand jury charged Miss Burroughs with willful failure to report Jameson's contributions to the clerk of the house of representatives. Four others charged technical failure to report.

The 66-year-old clergyman was charged with abetting the eight violations while two additional counts named him for conspiring with Miss Burroughs to commit the offenses. Under the law an abettor is made equally responsible.

Thos. Edison Dead; Funeral Wednesday

girdled the globe by telephone and telegraph system which were a part of the industrial values at $15,000,000,000 to which Mr. Edison contributed major inventions.

Final Tribute.
The final tribute will be reserved to the family and the most intimate friends. A simple funeral service, strictly private, will be held at Glenmont, the Edison estate, Wednesday. President Hoover let it be known he would attend the service if affairs of state will permit his absence from Washington. A personal acquaintance of Mr. Edison, once he met with the inventor and the latter's two cronies—Henry Ford and Harvey Firestone—at the Edison winter home in Fort Myers, Fla.

Last Work Unfinished.
On the benches, on the desk, on the shelves of the library of the laboratory where Edison's body will be are evidences that death interrupted a last experiment. They are species of plants from which the inventor extracted juices to determine rubber content.

Here, in the place where Mr. Edison translated his thoughts into action for mankind's welfare, the public will be admitted each day from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. His employees and their families were privileged to pass the bier at 8 today and again on Tuesday.

Funeral For John Dover Here Today

brated here to the surprise of his wife when he had all of the nine children, his grandchildren and a few friends gathered at the home here to attend an affair of his own planning which he enjoyed with boyish glee.

A Builder of Mills.
Coming to Shelby in 1900 with little capital but with a host of friends who had faith in him as a mill executive and backed him with capital, he built the Ella Mill in South Shelby. Wheels were started in 1907 and later he and his associates built the Katherine Weave mill which was later dismantled. The Ella was sold to the Consolidated Textile Corporation in 1921 and Mr. Dover was called to complete the Eastside mill eleven years ago. Later he and his associates built the Dover mill in 1923 and the Ora mill in 1925. He was president-treasurer of the Eastside, Dover and Ora mills of Shelby and a director of the Charles Mill at Red Springs.

Founded Three Churches.
The four textile plants in which Mr. Dover was an official employ well over 1,000 people and his employees loved and respected him. They went to him with their problems and were met with a sympathetic and understanding heart. His pride was to give wages and work to willing people. Whenever he established an industrial plant, he there planted a church and a school and carried on betterment work for his employees. He was the leading spirit in founding the Second Baptist, Eastside and Dover Baptist churches and personally served them as a Sunday school teacher and worker. Although his educational advantages were meagre, he was a firm believer in schools and was not satisfied unless the children of his employees had advantages equal to other children.

Able Bible Teacher.
Mr. Dover was a gifted speaker. In fact he was regarded as the most eloquent lay speaker in this part of the state. He never entered politics, yet his voice was heard at least once a week in a Sunday school or before a civic club. He was a close student of the Bible and practised his religion in his business dealings.

Aside from his mill connections, he was a director of the Union Trust Co., a former president of the Rotary club, active in the Masonic fraternity. His Masonic brethren from this and other lodges of the county, gathered in large numbers to accord him due honor at the last rites this afternoon.

Dr. Zeno Wall, pastor of the First Baptist church of which he was a member, had charge of the funeral services, assisted by Revs. John W. Suttle, H. E. Waldrop, and W. A. Elam, present and former pastors of the several churches which he was instrumental in founding.

Nine Children Survive.
Besides his devoted companion for 44 years, Mr. Dover is survived by nine children: J. Toms Dover, of Richmond, Va., Mrs. Dewitt Quinn of Shelby, Jack Dover of Shelby, Mrs. Chas. Roberts of Red Springs, Mrs. Frank Love of Burlington, Mrs. Robert Laney of Red Springs, Chas. Dover of Shelby, Mrs. John Fox of Teaneck, N. J., Miss Katherine Dover of Shelby. All of the children who live at distant points, reached here for the funeral service today.

Also surviving are one brother R. M. Dover of Grover, a half brother, Geo. M. Dover, a half sister, Elizabeth Dover, and his step-mother, Mrs. Jane Dover of Oak Ridge.

Cotton Market
Cotton was quoted on the New York exchange at noon today:
Oct. 6.26, Dec. 6.43. Saturday's close: Oct. 6.34, Dec. 6.43.

New York, Oct. 19.—Southern weather fair over Sunday and forecast is fair for belt. Washington figures acreage this season in eight counties at 63,191,000 vs. 66,900,000 last year and production 20,253,000 bales vs. 18,731,000 last season, production being for only five countries. Manchester cable says general tone of trading is healthy, aggregate business considerable. India more interested but buyers ideas low. China prominent buyer. Worth street reports active week with mills offering strong resistance to persist bidding at old prices, some buyers reluctant to follow advances. Look for steady market unless hedge selling increases materially. CLEVELAND.

Young Reynolds To Get A Reno Divorce

wife and year-old daughter, Ann Cannon Reynolds.

The Cannon-Reynolds romance has attracted considerable attention since the marriage uniting the sons of two of North Carolina's wealthiest families was performed in York, S. C., early on the morning of November 16, 1929.

The young couple were accompanied to the South Carolina Gretna Green by Mrs. Reynolds' father and the Cannon family chauffeur.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds lived together only a short while before legal separation papers were signed. Their daughter was born August 23, 1930, and a few months later came a court announcement that a property settlement had been agreed upon.

Under its terms Mrs. Reynolds will receive the interest from a $500,000 trust fund and will eventually come into the principal. A similar arrangement was worked out for the baby daughter.

Young Reynolds has spent much of his time traveling and flying airplanes. He recently attracted newspaper attention when he boarded an ocean liner from his plane and inducted the captain to book both himself and the ship for passage to Europe.

At The Theatres
Constance Bennett, inimitable screen favorite in Shelby is showing at the Webb theatre today and tomorrow in "Bought." It is her smartest and most alluring role of her career with drama, luxuriously dressed with modern ideas. It shows how much beauty, charm and affection are worth on the marriage block with men bidding everything but love. Miss Bennett is supported in the cast by Ben Lyon, Richard Bennett and Dorothy Peterson. It is a fascinating story of love but not loving, engaged but not married, bought but not paid for.

Coming when football is at the height of the season is "The Spirit of Notre Dame" to the Carolina theatre today and tomorrow. Lew Ayres is the star and is the spirit of youth. In addition to football, it has glorious entertainment, drama, love, laughter and the famous four horsemen. The picture is dedicated to the incomparable Knute Rockne who appears in the prologue. Sally Blane, William Bakewell, J. Farrell MacDonald and the famous Carleto are featured.

Senator Cam Warns Against 'Wet' Plank

Thinks Roosevelt Or Baker Could Carry South With No Wet Plank In Platform.

Washington, Oct. 19.—For the sake of the party, Senator Morrison of North Carolina is advising fellow Democrats to forget prohibition planks when they build the 1932 platform.

A prohibitionist himself, he said last week the south "is anxious to have an election on the vital economic issues." Likewise, he added, it wants to avoid the wet and dry question, "which by its very nature obscures all others."

North Carolina, he said, probably will send an uninstructed delegation to the party convention, although the south in general "has a very high regard for both Governor Roosevelt and Newton D. Baker."

"I think either Governor Roosevelt or Mr. Baker," he said, "would carry the south if nominated, but if there is any effort by the wets to nominate a wet candidate and to bind the Democratic members of congress by party decree to force them to vote against the sentiments of their states, the results will be most disastrous."

Senator Morrison was one of those who led the attack upon Chairman Raskob of the Democratic national committee at its Democratic national committee at its meeting here last March on his proposal for state liquor control.

"I am both a Democrat and a prohibitionist and propose to remain so," Morrison warned.
