

Urges Women Keep Living Normal Life

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 16.—Mrs. Herbert Hoover's suggestion to American women during period of economic stress is "keep on living a normal life."

"The one who is not in trouble will have to help the one who is in trouble," she said in an interview today.

Reasons For Joy.

(By Mrs. S. J. Sanders.)

However the cards fall,
There is joy to be found.
If I have no bed,
There is always the ground.
If I have no roof,
There is always the sky.
And the whistling of wings
When the sparrows fly.

Whatever my luck holds
There is always a brook.
If I have no friends,
I've a comforting book.
If I have no fire,
There is always the sun.
And the glamour of stars
When the day is done.

Few heads of families understand what the husbands do with their money.

BILIOUS

"I have used Black-Draught . . . and have not found anything that could take its place. I take Black-Draught for biliousness. When I get bilious, I have a nervous headache and a nervous, trembling feeling that unfits me for my work. After I take a few doses of Black-Draught, I get all right. When I begin to get bilious, I feel tired and run-down, and then the headache and trembling. But Black-Draught relieves all this."—H. O. Hendrix, Homerville, Ga.

School Budgets Being Boosted; State Politics

Frummitt in Hearing Against John W. Davis, Gardner at Yorktown.

(M. R. Dunnigan, Star News Bureau.)

Raleigh, Oct. 19.—Increases in school budgets above the state standard may range from 5 to 50 per cent, based on the number of teachers largely, in a schedule adopted last week by the state board of equalization.

Eight of the larger charter districts, Asheville, Charlotte, Durham, Greensboro, High Point, Raleigh, Wilmington and Winston-Salem, are permitted to increase their budgets 50 per cent over the state standard, contingent upon agreement of the school boards and the taxing authorities; seven others, Rocky Mount, Gastonia, Salisbury, Goldsboro, Leaksville and Wilson, may increase their budgets from local taxes 33 1-3 per cent; 23 others, which list includes Shelby, Reidsville, Lexington, Roanoke Rapids, Thomasville, Hamlet, Morganton and Mt. Airy may add 20 per cent.

The 60 remaining special charter districts in the state may add 15 per cent. Among these 60 are Rockingham, Kings Mountain, Hendersonville, Lumberton, Scotland Neck, Southern Pines, Beaufort, Red Springs, Aberdeen, Madison, Elkin and Vass-Lakeview.

Roads Limited
County system rural schools which participate in the tax reduction fund for the extended term, are limited to increases of 5 per cent, while those not participating in the tax reduction fund may increase their budgets 10 per cent. However, those rural system schools which have more than 30 teachers will be considered for this purpose as charter schools, taking their places in the proper four groups of charter schools, based on numbers of teachers.

In the rural schools, the salaries of agricultural and home economic teachers when paid jointly by the district and the State, are not included as supplemental. In the charter districts general control, which includes salary and office expense of the superintendent, is not included in the supplement.

The Board of Equalization adopted this percentage increase schedule to fit all cases, so it would not be necessary to take up individual budgets of the 88 charter schools and 946 taxing district schools, with resulting injustices.

All commercial, savings and industrial banks in North Carolina are required to have in their files financial statements, appraisals of collateral and real estate and certificates of title by next February 1, under new rules and regulations issued by Gurney P. Hood, commissioner of banks, with the approval of his advisory commission, under authority given by the 1931 banking law.

While the new rules will require extensive additional work on the part of all state banks, they will make it much easier for the examiners to determine to status of any bank at any time and thus help produce stability and protect depositors. Banks are required to have in their files the following:

Annual financial statements properly certified from those directly liable to the bank in an amount of $1,000 or more, which obligations are unsecured or secured only by endorsement.

An appraisal of all collateral to notes other than notes secured by real estate shall be made in writing by the executive or loan committee of the bank and attached to the note.

All real estate given as security to loans shall be appraised either by the executive or loan committee, or not less than three persons who are familiar with real estate values in the community and the appraisal in writing attached to the note. This appraisal shall state the amount of prior liens, if any, on the property.
A certificate of title by a competent attorney shall be attached to each deed of trust or mortgage given as security.

Brummitt vs. Davis.
Attorney General Dennis G. Brummitt pitted his wit and wisdom against that of John W. Davis, Democratic candidate for president of the United States in 1924, in argument last week before the U. S. Supreme Court in the important North Carolina "Chain store tax" case, and is satisfied that he "held his own".

The tax law, enacted in 1929, imposes a $50 tax each store operated by the same management or ownership, above one. The State Supreme Court held it was constitutional and about 20 chain store organizations appealed to the U. S. tribunal. Charles W. Tillet, Jr., Charlotte, appeared with Mr. Davis for the chain stores. An opinion is expected in the course of several weeks.

North Carolina has collected an average of about $70,000 a year for two years and is collecting the third year's taxes under this law. This money will have to be returned to the chain store owners, plus 6 per cent interest, if the Supreme Court holds the law unconstitutional, but this is not expected.

Governor Gardner, in Yorktown, Va., for the Sesquicentennial Celebration, didn't fail to recount North Carolina's part in the movement toward freedom in speaking for this State last Friday. The Declaration of Independence was the beginning of a drama which unfolded itself until it came to the climax the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown, he said.

"For," said Governor Gardner, "indicative of popular revolt as the Boston Edenton and Wilmington tea parties were; solemn and significant as the Mecklenburg Declaration, the Halifax Resolves, and the Philadelphia Declaration of Independence were neither picturesque nor decisive." But, after Kings Mountain and Guilford Courthouse, came Yorktown and decisive victory, he said.

Food Crops
"If we can get our farmers to produce sufficient food and feed-stuffs for home requirements, the problem of cotton and tobacco acreage will solve itself," Tye C. Taylor, executive counsel, told members of the Durham Kiwanis club last week in an address in which he voiced objection to the "wholly vicious tendency to turn to the government for relief from all economic and social ills."

For some time now those midget cares have been furnishing fun for the columnists. The latest story is that a traffic officer noticed one of them jumping along the street in a kangaroo-like manner and called to the driver. "What is the matter with that car?"

"It's all right officer," came the reply. "I've got a little touch of hiccoughs. I'll be over it in a few minutes."

The reason politics are so hard to understand is that a man, crazy today, might be considered a wizard ten years from now.

"What we need in North Carolina is intellectual honesty and a willingness to face the facts and a final recognition that we must, in a spirit of cooperative individualism, work out our own economic salvation. A Law is not going to help anything. We have too many laws now," he said.

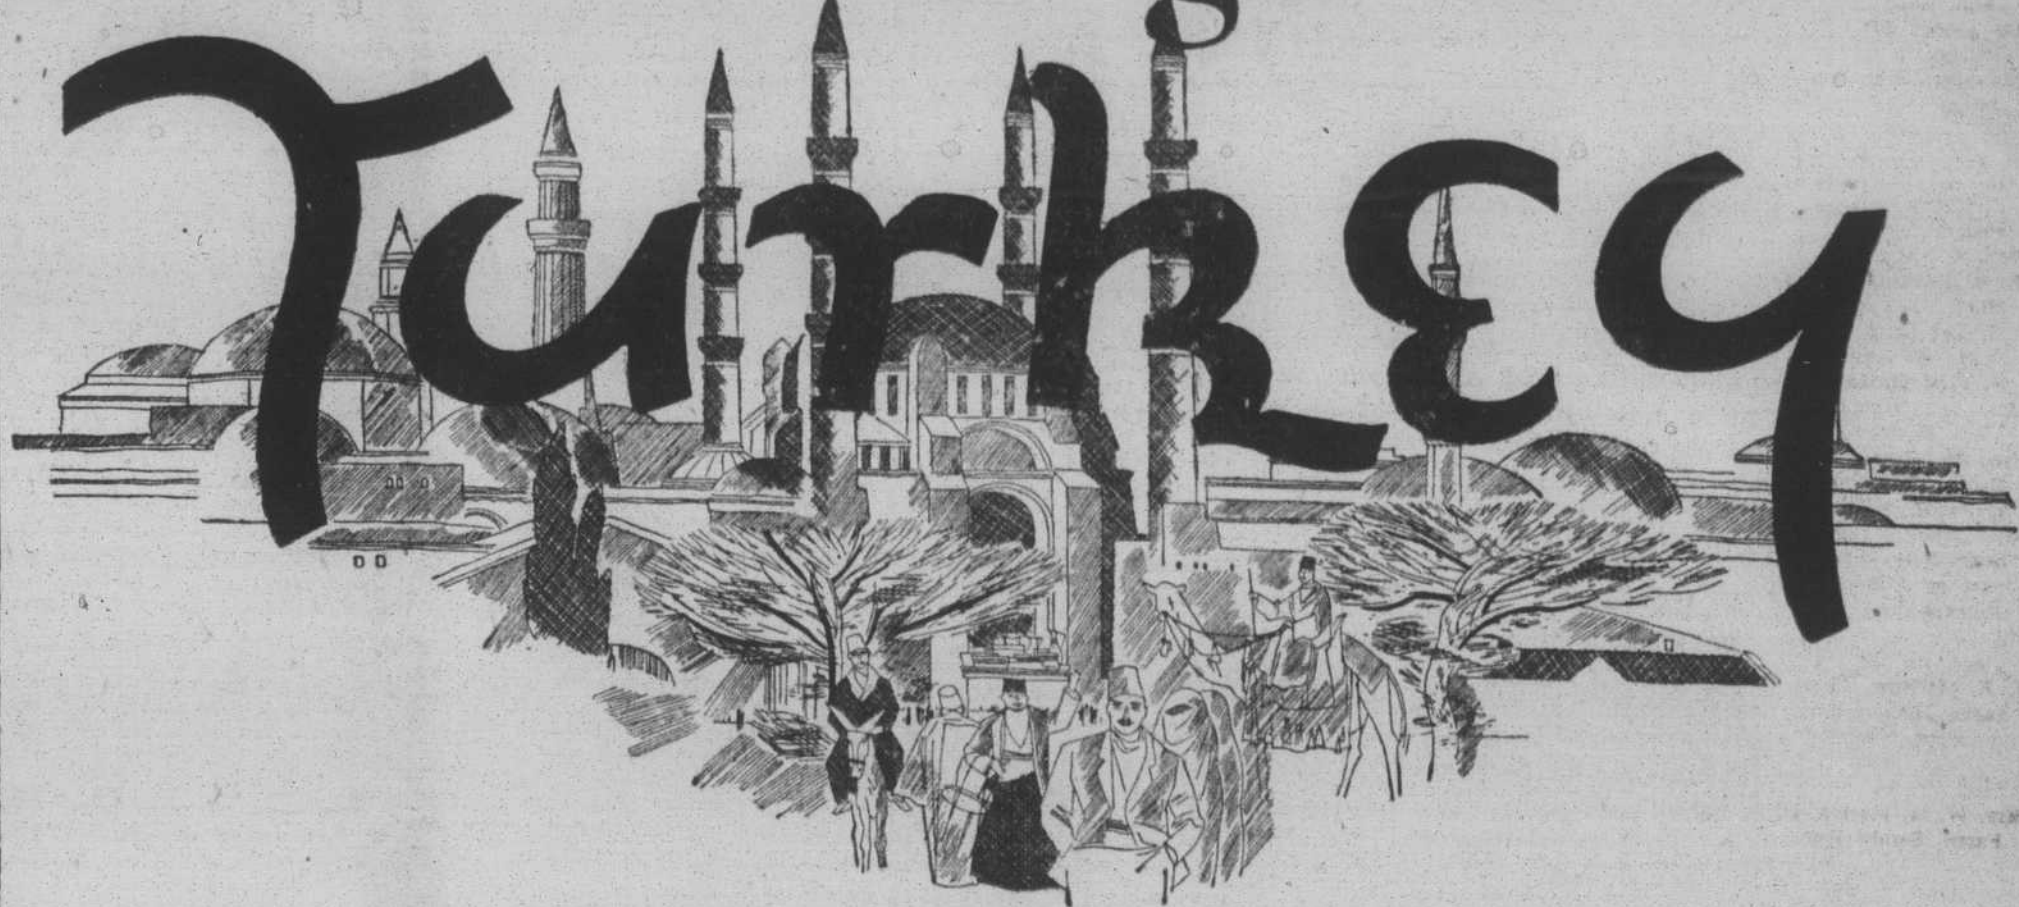

Transferred Spasms.

Let's all go to

Where Turkish tobacco comes from.

Eastward ho! Four thousand miles nearer the rising sun—let's go! To the land of mosques and minarets—so different from our skyscrapers, stacks and steeples.

Let's see this strange, strange country. Let's see the land where the tobacco* grows in small leaves on slender stalks—to be tenderly picked, leaf by leaf, hung in long fragrant strings, shelter-dried and blanket-cured. Precious stuff!

Let's taste that delicate aromatic flavor—that subtle difference that makes a cigarette!

XANTHI . . CAVALLA . . SMYRNA . .

SAMSOUN . . famous tobaccos!

*Turkish tobacco is to cigarettes what seasoning is to food—the "spice," the "sauce"—or what rich, sweet cream is to coffee!

You can taste the Turkish in Chesterfield—there's enough of it, that's why. Chesterfield has not been stingy with this important addition to good taste and aroma; four famous kinds of Turkish leaf—Xanthi, Cavalla, Samsoun and Smyrna—go into the smooth, "spicy" Chesterfield blend.

This is just one more reason for Chesterfield's better taste. Tobaccos from far and near, the best of their several kinds—and the right kinds. And pure, tasteless cigarette paper, the purest made. The many requisites of a milder, better smoke, complete!

That's why they're GOOD—they've got to be and they are.
