ter congealed and has shown greater harmony than exists in the republican organization."

Questioned as to whether the democrats might allow the republicans to organize, Garner said:

No Shirkers.

"When responsibility comes to the democrats we should accept it and we will. Whether the responsibility in the organization of the house or in forming a policy for the nation we should accept it or get out."

Garner has no opponent in his party for the speakership nomination, and is expected to receive its unanimous support. Virtually all the 217 democrats have pledged themselves to the Texan, while the speakership nomination battle among the 214 republicans is raging.

Tilson and Representative Snell of New York, chairman of the last rules committee, remain the outstanding candidates.

Tilson said his party would present the administration legislative program and would proceed as if it were in the majority. The Hoover moratorium, he added, headed the program.

Dr. Zeno Wall Is Head Of Pastors

ters voted to suggest to the program committee of the conference that provision be made next year for round table discussion following addresses.

Convention On

Winston-Salem, Nov. 11.—North Carolina Baptists began their 101st annual session here yesterday afternoon and devoted the first day's meeting to considerations relative to the mission work of the convention. Recommendations from the general board and the annual sermon were the big features of the opening day.

Rev. Arthur Jackson, Hendersonville, preached the sermon on the topic, "The Goal of the Working Universe." Presenting a deeply spiritual appeal based on the idea of the orderliness of the universe the goal of which orderliness is the good of those "who love the Lord."

Foreign missions was the order for the earlier part of the evening program with Rev. J. Marcus Kessler, Wilmington, and Rev. George Sadler, representing the Southern Baptist foreign mission board, speaking.

Dr. Turner Presiding.

Dr. J. Clyde Turner, Greensboro, is president of the convention, and serving with him as vice presidents are D. C. Brummitt, Oxford; C. E. Brewer, Raleigh, and M. O. Alexander, Thomasville. Upon organization yesterday afternoon, Dr. C. E. Madry was re-elected general secretary for the 11th year; C. H. Green, Durham, succeeded himself as recording secretary; and Walters Durham, Raleigh, was elected to his 32nd year as treasurer. Other officers, with the president and vice president for next year will be elected at the final session Thursday.

In presenting his reports Secretary Madry made a series of forward looking recommendations. Principal among these are the need of an evangelist for exclusive work in the prisons of the state; some missionary aid to the negro Baptists of the state; a constructive program of evangelism and enlistment for the extreme eastern and western sections of the state; and a plan whereby ministerial students in the convention's schools and colleges may be utilized in the field during their vacation months.

Methodists Open Annual Session

Conference Will End With Appointment Of Pastors Sunday Night.

Asheville, Nov. 11.—A devotional service led by Bishop Edwin Mounzon opened the general session of Western North Carolina conference of Methodist Episcopal church South, at Central Methodist church at 8:30 o'clock this morning. More than 600 ministers and laymen are delegates and hundreds of Asheville residents attended the worship period.

Reports of the 10 presiding elders will follow. Then 300 pastors—some serving four or more churches—will begin their reports, which, together with other business will keep the delegates busy throughout the week. The session will end Sunday night with reading of ministerial appointments by Bishop Mounzon.

Is Main Problem

One of the outstanding problems is that of approval or rejection of the formation of a judicial council as suggested by the general conference of the denomination last year. If the sectional conferences adopt the idea, the Methodist Book of Discipline will be changed, giving the decision of controversial questions to a special judicial group instead of leaving such questions to the college of bishops, as at present.

May Be Speaker

Representative John Garner of Texas (above), leader of the Democratic party in the House, will be the next speaker of that body if the present strength of the two major parties is not materially changed by elections which are yet to be held. The Democrats gained control in recent polls. Rep. Garner and the late Speaker, Nicholas Longworth, were close friends.

Carries Kentucky

Circuit Judge Ruby Laffoon (above) Democrat, was elected Governor of Kentucky in the battle of ballots just held in the Blue Grass State. Laffoon defeated Mayor William Harrison, of Louisville, for the honor with a majority which Democratic leaders hailed as a repudiation of the national and state Republican chief executives.

Woman's Club House At Kings Mountain Is Now Being Built

Kings Mountain, Nov. 11.—Work is now going forward rapidly on the club house being erected by the Woman's club of Kings Mountain, on the lot adjoining the residence of M. Elmer Herndon on Mountain street.

The structure, which has a 42 foot front and 80 foot length, is being built of brick veneer, and consists of one story and a basement. The basement being the same size as the ground floor. It is to be equipped with modern fixtures suitable for the needs of the Woman's club.

The lot on which the building is being built was donated to the club by the C. E. Neisler family, in memory of the late Charles Eugene Neisler, upon condition that a club house be erected on the lot within a year's time. Necessary funds were raised and the building started in less than six months after the lot was donated.

Mars Hill Student Is From Manchuria

(By ALBERT SUTTLE.)

Mars Hill, Nov. 10.—Alexis Vinokuroff, of Harbin, Manchuria, is the first foreign student to register at Mars Hill college since the college was placed on the approved list of institutions for extra quota students by the Immigration Bureau last spring.

Charles A. Leonard, an American and former Mars Hill student, who organized the first Christian church for the Chinese in Harbin, selected Vinokuroff from a large number of students to send to an American college.

At The Theatres

The Carolina's new picture includes in its cast the recently acclaimed "most promising" actress of the screen—Marguerite Churchill—and sportsman George O'Brien. They are playing—beginning today—in Zane Grey's most widely read story, "Riders of the Purple Sage." Noah Beery plays the role of the unscrupulous, scheming mastermind that gums up the works and adds interest to the rugged romance.

J. Rufus Wallingford, well-loved, happy-go-lucky fiction character, comes to the Webb today and tomorrow in the person of William Haines, in a comedy called "The New Adventures of Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford," with a galaxy of funsters recruited from both stage and screen. Jimmy Durante, Ernest Torrence and Lella Hyams are chief among the funmakers. Reports from today's matinee have it that laughs are assured when you go to see "Wallingford."

Haywood Spurlin Is Struck By Tenants

Haywood Spurlin, son of George Spurlin who lives just north of Shelby on highway No. 18 was struck in the head by a tenant on the Spurlin farm yesterday and three ugly gashes were cut in the scalp. It is understood the trouble arose between Spurlin and the William Grayson family living on the Spurlin plantation and that a round stick of cord wood was used by one of the Graysons.

County Celebrates Armistice Event

about the city and over the county. By 8:30 Shelby streets were filled with hundreds of happy people. On every hand came the glad cry, "The War is over! The boys are coming home." It was an unparalleled occasion to a county that sent 6000 boys away. Bells tolled, whistles shrieked, guns boomed. School turned out and hundreds of excited youngsters joined in the occasion. A big parade formed. It travelled here and there, and finally to Kings Mountain and back. The greatest whoopee party in the history of the city continued until late that night until the weary participants were so tired they could carry on no longer.
