Washington Writer Hears Bailey Will Join Morrison In Opposing Move.

(Greensboro News) Raleigh, Nov. 18.—Republican leaders are somewhat blue over the pre-congress story that District Attorney Charles A. Jonas is to be fought furiously by United States Senators Cameron Morrison and Josiah William Bailey.

PAINS QUIT COMING "When I was a girl, I suffered periodically with terrible pains in my back and sides. Often I would bend almost double with the intense pain. This would last for hours and I could get no relief. "I tried almost everything that was recommended to me, but found nothing that would help until I began taking Cardui. My mother thought it would be good for me, so she got a bottle of Cardui and started me taking it. I soon improved. The bad spells quit coming. trict Attorney Jonas. The Lincoln county statesman who has served a term in the lower house of congress and is national committeeman, was never regarded the wisest one that the Republicans have produced. He has been esteemed highly enough as a keen debater, smart wisecracker, official stinger of the Democracy. He had many tilts in the general assemblies in Raleigh, but was liked for all that. When he turned on the new United States senator and his friends, who resented what they regarded his charge that they knew of the thievery by which Mr. Bailey got his senatorial honor, he went too far for Mr. Bailey to forget him.

Morrison Against Jonas. Senator Morrison has expressed many times publicly his opinion of the fight on Senator Bailey, an attack on his credentials which Mr. Jonas is supposed to be nourishing. The district attorney, therefore, finds himself a very narrowly Republican renate with both North Carolinians in that body against him and senatorial courtesy likely to be invoked.

Had senator Simmons remained in the senate it is improbable that there should have been any complaint of Mr. Jonas. Senator Overman hardly would have been willing to fight him. Senator Simmons was highly praised by Mr. Jonas in the campaign of 1930 for helping to beat the Democratic presidential ticket in 1928. Undoubtedly the senator's one time desertion of his party ticket helped Mr. Jonas mightily in that election for congress. There was no help from the one to the other in 1930, though. The state slaughtered Mr. Simmons, and made Mr. Jonas and his party's Jonah.

On a purely partisan vote Mr. Jonas might beat the opposition, for the Republican side still has a vote or two to spare. But Mr. Jonas has not quit at angering Senator Morrison and Bailey. The danger of Senator Gerald P. Nye and probably of Senator Patterson, members of the famous investigating committee, has been raised. There is every reason to believe that Senator Nye was satisfied of Mr. Bailey's election without corruption. Mr. Jonas is, therefore, not entirely without danger of Nye and Patterson opposition.

The Republicans who are very close to Mr. Bailey are going to ask him to let up on Mr. Jonas, but the prospect of winning Mr. Bailey over is mighty poor. He never thought there was any real reason for a contest of his seat. He contended that everybody of sense knew the Republican had suffered reverses at the first magnitude in the 1930 election and that the North Carolina Republicans, who got the presidential and two congressional district votes on the 1928 sluke, knew they had lost them naturally in 1930.

Besides, Senator Bailey always stood against election trickery, always advocated a secret ballot and drew fire from every side. Simmons supporter in doing it. He believed that his championship of honest elections was known to everybody and he has been right unforgiving toward opposition leaders who have charge him with political dishonesty.

Johnny Branch, Little Giant Of Carolina Eleven, May Get Chance To Play Again On Army Grid Team

Seek Appointment To West Point For Stocky N. C. Star.

(E. V. Mitchell in Greensboro News) Johnny Branch, University of North Carolina's leather-lugging star, who stands suspended for breaking training, will finish his career on the football team of the United States Military academy, at West Point, if the efforts of his friends are successful.

From several reliable sources the Daily News learned last night that an effort is being made to obtain an appointment to West Point for the speedy back. Prominent North Carolina alumni in Greensboro admitted that they were aware of the effort to have Branch finish his education and football career at West Point. It was learned from one of them that alumni in Raleigh already have been active in behalf of Branch's appointment.

One of the requirements for entrance to West Point is a thorough foundation in mathematics. The belief is that Branch probably would have to stand a special "math" examination, in order to qualify to enter West Point, but he has sufficient other credits to make the grade, provided he can get the appointment.

Branch was suspended by Coach Chuck Collins after the game with Florida several weeks ago, he and McDade, a tackle, being dropped for breaking training. Since being suspended, McDade has withdrawn from college, but Branch has stuck to his scholastic work and has worked hard at Chapel Hill.

Several efforts have been made to have Collins lift the suspension of Branch because of his excellent record since the episode in Florida. Collins has remained firm in his stand, despite a petition signed by a large number of the members of the senior class and members of the Philanthropic society.

If Branch does land at West Point it will be possible for him to play four more years of football for "plebes," as the first-year men are called, are eligible for the football team, but it is rare that one of them makes the grade. With Branch's natural football ability, plus the gridiron training he has received under "Chuck" Collins at Carolina, he should be able to make the army team the first year.

None of those working in behalf of Branch would be quoted as to the date definite knowledge of the appointment would be forthcoming, but they did admit that efforts were being made to get the Salisbury boy the appointment. Some feared that perhaps Branch might be too old to enter the "Point." He has nothing to fear from this phase of the case, as he is but 21 years old, according to figures furnished by the University of North Carolina publicity bureau, and men are eligible for West Point appointments until they are 22 years old, it was learned last night.

Shelby Youth Gives Token To President Wake Forest College

Zeno Wall Presents Fresh Football Souvenir To Dr. Kitchin.

Wake Forest, Nov. 18.—President Thurman D. Kitchin was the unanimous choice of the Wake Forest Freshman football squad to be the recipient of the football used in the recent Freshman-Oak Ridge game. The little Deacons won from the Cadets 13 to 12. They conferred the distinction upon their president because of the playing of his son, Walton, at the quarter-back position on the visiting eleven.

Walton, who is named for his uncle, the late governor of North Carolina, threw three forward passes in the game, all of which were completed, and one resulting in a touchdown. He will enroll as a freshman at Wake Forest next fall.

Zeno Wall, jr., of Shelby, captain of the freshmen team, presented the trophy at the assembly hour. In accepting it, President Kitchin said in part, "I would rather my son would be a member of the Wake Forest football squad next fall than to be a star player on any other team in the world."
