Twins Offered as Security

There have been many forms of collateral offered and accepted for loans but Mr. and Mrs. Sam Harris, of Rutchinson, Kan., brought a new and personal angle into play when they proffered their twin sons, Daniel and Delbert (above), as security for a loan of $200. If you've got that sum to spare, the lads are six months old and their father needs the money for a neperation. And the bouncing baby sons are his only asset. What's he offered?
