

Mooresboro P. T. A. Meets; Grigg Speaks

Association Is Reorganized. J. U. Rollins Is Elected New President.

The Mooresboro Parent-Teacher association held its first meeting of the year on Tuesday evening, November 16, at which time Superintendent J. H. Grigg made an interesting and inspiring speech.

The purpose of the meeting was to re-organize the association. It was moved, seconded, and unanimously voted on to re-elect the old officers: J. U. Rollins, president; Mrs. L. W. Green, vice president; R. V. Greene, secretary; J. W. Greene, treasurer; Mrs. R. G. Burnett, chaplain. The president then appointed the chairman of the different committees: Miss Roberta Royter, program; Mrs. A. I. Jolley, school ground improvement; L. W. Greene, membership; R. W. McBrayer, finance; Mrs. R. G. Burnett, hospital. These chairman are to meet soon with the rest of the committees to make plans for their work during the rest of the year.

Mr. Grigg gave a very interesting talk to the parents and teachers. About 50 parents gave their names for membership, and it is expected that there will be at least 25 members to come in later. The membership committee is planning a campaign to make the enrollment even larger than last year. The P. T. A. made a good beginning last year but there are plans in the minds of the people to make this a greater year.

Grid Fans Of This Section To See Wake Forest-Davidson Go

Majority Prefer Charlotte Contest To Carolina-Virginia Game Thanksgiving For Final Football Flare; Branch Gets Chance In Farewell Game; Collins Picks His'n.

Football fans of Shelby and section, pepped up for their last glimpse of the gridiron pastime for this year, will take in the Wake Forest-Davidson game at Charlotte tomorrow, Thursday, instead of the annual Carolina-Virginia classic at Chapel Hill.

That is, most of them will. Some few will drive down to Chapel Hill by habit, but the majority even those who are not supporters of the Wildcats or Deacons, believe that there will be more of a contest in Charlotte. They have reasons for so believing.

Not So Hot. Once was the Carolina-Virginia game the peak of pigskin play in the two states. But in recent years Carolina has been moving ahead of Virginia. This year Carolina has not burned up the woods, but, for that matter, Virginia hasn't found them. Carolina should win in such an easy manner that it should not be unusually interesting.

But one thing will add color and zip to the game. Johnny Branch, greatest of backfield stars produced in Tarheelia in years, will play the Virginia game after a long suspension. It's Johnny's last game at Carolina. A majority of the fans approved Coach Chuck Collins' suspension of the stocky star for violating regulations and they approved his attitude in keeping Branch out of every game up to the curtain call. But they're glad now that in the last shot of the season Johnny will have a chance to redeem himself. One hunch—maybe it's all wet—is that Johnny will do plenty of redeeming. And many a fan will be in Kenan stadium tomorrow just to see the little giant in his swan song.

A REAL TUSSLE. But, back to the Davidson-Wake Forest clash, just a good easy drive from Shelby—that should be a real football game. Up to 10 years ago Davidson had her way with Wake Forest, but for a decade the Presbyterians have not won. Four times they tied; six times they lost.

And the funny part of it is that the Deacons somehow manage to reach their peak at the end of the year and give the Younger eleven a fit after the Presbyterian has knocked off somebody important like Carolina or Duke. It may be the same story this year. Davidson has had a better season than Wake. On paper and judging by the record the Wildcats have the edge. They licked W. and L. and V. M. I. and tied Duke, Wake's biggest shot was of W. H. Hodges, of the Louisiana delegation was adopted. The Hodges resolution asked that immediate steps be taken for interesting the federal government in promoting and aiding in holding international cotton conferences and maintaining international contacts. It urged continuation of state consultation and co-operation through periods of large crops and asked that each state appoint three delegates who will meet once every three months to discuss problems arising from cotton production throughout the world. Permanent headquarters for this group will be in America.

Five of 22 fatally injured were on college squads, others in high school.

New York—Football casualties over the week-end raised to 22 the total of deaths this season from injuries received in games on college and high school gridirons, sandlots and city streets, a survey made by the Associated Press shows.

Two members of the St. Edward, Neb., high school team died within 48 hours of each other as the result of football injuries, making the little Nebraska school the only team to suffer two fatal accidents so far this year. Allan Wake, 16-year-old fullback, died yesterday of blood poisoning resulting from a hip injury suffered several days ago and his teammate, William Wedd, 18-year-old end, received a fatal skull fracture in a game Friday.

Five of the 22 players injured were on college squads, 13 were members of high school teams and four were killed in games on sandlots or city streets, among them an eight-year-old boy who was fatally hurt while scrimmaging on a Chicago pavement with playmates of his own age.

Bai Set For Carolina Broker, Held as Thief

Richmond, Va., Nov. 24.—Ball for David N. Chadwick Jr., Wilmington, N. C., broker, charged with having stolen bonds in his possession was increased today from the tentative sum of $10,000 to $20,000 after a conference between judges.

Chadwick had not raised the required bail of $20,000 early this afternoon. Argument on the question of bail was heard by Judge John L. Ingram of Hastings court and Judge T. Gray Haddon, of police court.

Three Bales Grown On "Lard's Acres"

Beaver Dam church members delivered this week three bales of cotton grown on their "Lard's Acres" to the trustees of Bolling Springs junior college. A movement was inaugurated last spring by the college, asking friends of the institution to raise a bale as a gift to the school, the school to pay for the fertilizer and seed. The three bales delivered this week brought a total of $115.51 which went toward the sum of $80 after fertilizer and seed were paid for.

Uses Candy For Booze Substitute

Former Drinker Cures Self With Quarter's Worth of Candy Daily.

Kinston.—Have you had your alcohol this morning? This is the true story of a man who changed from corn whiskey to chocolate candy after 20 years and found it better and more economical.

He drank steadily for two decades. His system was never entirely free of alcohol of the kind that is manufactured in the eastern Carolina stills. His liquor bills were heavy. Sometimes they ran into dollars in a day.

He became ill—from booze—about the first of July. He reformed. He found it was hard to do without his daily dozzn—or two. He took up the candy habit. Now he eats 25 cents worth of bon bons twice a day. The candy supplies a part of the alcohol he formerly derived from liquor.

He retires at night completely satisfied. "I don't know much about the chemistry of this thing—I only know it works," he says.

Instead of scoffing, he-men who like their alcohol in the liquid form would do well to copy him, he asserts. His health has improved, his step is sprightlier, his eyes are clearer and his conscience is clicking like an innocent babe's.

Carolina Banks To Aid In Cotton

Bankers Agree To Help Hold 100,000 Bales From The Market For Awhile.

Wadesboro, Nov. 24.—Half the banks in North Carolina have signified their willingness to aid the depressed cotton market and to date have agreed to withhold 100,000 of the State's 165,000 bale quota.

L. D. Robertson, chairman of the North Carolina Bankers' association cotton financing committee, today said he had not heard from half the banks to which he sent questionnaires but said those he had heard from have rallied to the cause.

Under an agreement between Southern bankers and the United States farm board, it is proposed to withhold 6,600,000 bales of which the farm board has agreed to hold 3,500,000. Mr. Robertson said, in a further agreement with the American cotton co-operative association, "North Carolina will do her part," he said in announcing that he expected to have complete data on the State situation by the end of this week.

The bankers' total so far is about 3,100,000 bales. Mr. Robertson said, adding that North Carolina's total is not included in this.

Paul Brown, of Raleigh, secretary of the North Carolina Bankers' association, will assist Robertson about the middle of the week in collecting bankers' pledges. The two, with Robert N. Hanes of Winston-Salem, president of the State Bankers' association, have been devoting much time recently to enlisting support of this State's bankers.

Hunneycutt, chief railway mail clerk at Greensboro, urging him to change the star route now leaving here at 2 o'clock in the afternoon for Shelby so that it will leave around 8:30 o'clock each morning and connect with the main line of the Southern railway at Kings Mountain or Gastonia for points north and south.

Veterans Asked To Arranged For Care In Hospital

(By The American Legion Hospital News Service.)

Washington, D. C.—Following complaints that veterans are reporting to government hospitals and asking admittance without having made the necessary arrangements, the national rehabilitation committee of the American legion urges that publicity be given to the fact that this practice is aggravating an already serious condition. The committee has called upon the veterans' administration to issue a circular to its employes instructing them not to suggest this procedure to veterans. It is pointed out that while this sometimes tends to get one particular veteran in a hospital, it more often results in confusion and disappointment to the veteran who travels from his home to the hospital and then finds that he can not be admitted. Frequently this veteran becomes a burden on local welfare authorities and especially on some post of the legion which already has its hands full taking care of its own veterans.

At nearly all regional offices of the veterans' administration there are now extensive lists of veterans awaiting hospitalization. They are classified according to the urgency of the need for treatment. When a veteran goes to a hospital on his own initiative, without first taking the matter up with his regional office, and is lucky enough to land a bed, he may be taking some other person's space who may be in much greater need of treatment.

The doctor looked up, puzzled, and asked the boy what he meant.

Well, suggested the small patient, what'll you give me to go to school and scatter it among all the rest of the kids?
