The blanks were handed in and Troop No. 5 Shelby won having a total of 205 points the "efficiency award" was given them. Troop No. 2 Shelby won second place with 199 points. The largest court in almost two years was present Monday December 7. Troop No. 2 Shelby. Troop No. 2 Shelby did not have their regular meeting because of the court of honor. We hated to lose the "efficiency award" and hope to win it again next month. We want to see the Piedmont council the largest in the south and will do our part to make it be the largest as it ranks second largest now. Nothing has been done by the troop except some of the members putting up red cross stickers. We hope to be able to assist Mr. Smith in gathering clothes and food all we can. We will meet December 14, Mal Spangler, patrol leader of the Pine Tree patrol will be in charge of the program, we are looking forward to a good program. Fred M. Simmons

Livingstone, veteran craftsman at the trade and now supreme court librarian. It requires among other things, he said, powers of concentration which only a few can muster. "Of course," he added, "if you feel as the minister felt who said 'Woe is me if I preach not the Gospel, you will write anyhow.'" Instead of selecting a profession too early in life, the smiling scribe recommended that the students lay a broad and firm foundation, making an especial study of some cultural subject. "Take your English professor, for instance, and observe how he feels and acts, how his mind operates, and why he likes one thing and not another." When you have done this, he said, you will have a standard of values that will enable you to distinguish the real from the sham. If a man has any sense he can learn the mechanics of newspapering in six weeks. Some get this phase of it without attending school at all, he has observed. Mr. Livingstone, although not an alumnus of this institution, conformed to the standard of its speakers which he himself described as an ability to "stand up, speak up, and shut up."

It was accompanied to Wake Forest by Mr. H. F. Alford, of the Raleigh News and Observer, and was presented to the audience by a former pupil of his, Prof. J. L. Are These Our Children? Drama of 20th Century Youth Carolina Mon. - Tues. December 14-15 It Pays To Advertise

Parched or toasted? No, sir! CAMELS are FRESH!

THE bedrock of Camel popularity is the inherently fine quality of the tobaccos that go into our cigarette.

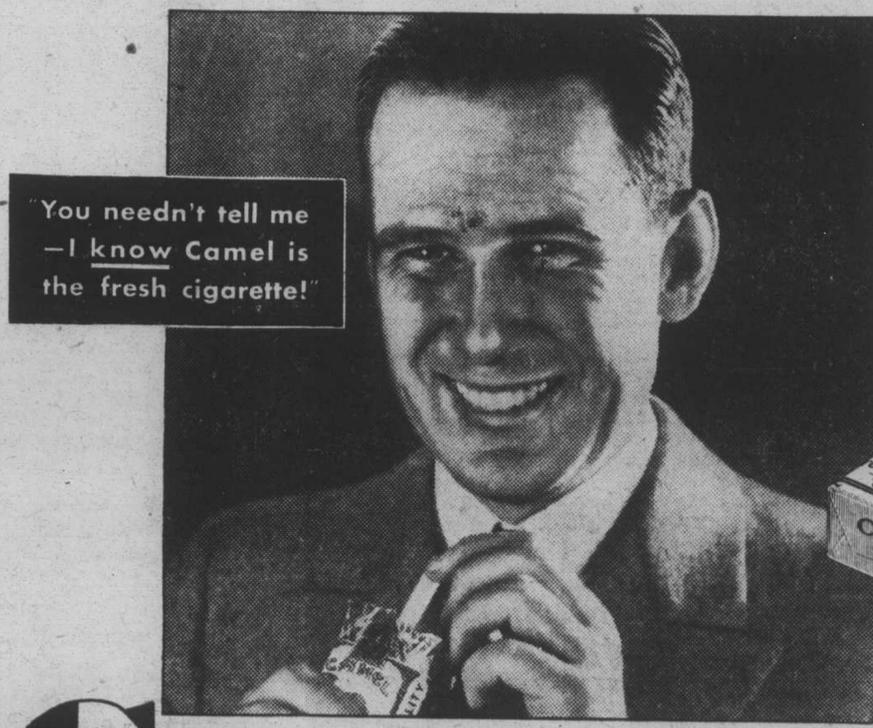

These tobaccos are notably mild, full-mellow, delicately flavored by nature—the finest Turkish and mild, sun-ripened Domestic tobaccos that money can buy.

To safeguard the essential goodness of these fine tobaccos we exercise every care to conserve their natural moisture and natural flavors.

They are never parched or toasted—the Reynolds method of, scientifically applying heat guarantees against that.

That's why we say Camels are made fresh to start with—and why the Camel Humidor Pack can bring them fresh to you, in prime smoking condition.

If you want to know what a blessing that means in unalloyed smoke-enjoyment, switch to Camels for just one day—then leave them—if you can.

You needn't tell me—I know Camel is the fresh cigarette!
