TWINKLES

Just tomorrow and then not another Saturday for the Christmas shopping.

Can you think of anything that will be harder to find in Shelby tomorrow than parking space?

What a great fellow Santa Claus would be if he could bundle up that prosperity so widely talked in 1928 and bring it around the corner where all could get a look at it.

The Republicans are going to Chicago to nominate their candidate for president, and Ye Twinkler, an ardent Democrat, of course, can think of no better place for them to go and put some poor fellow "on the spot."

Just as her latest picture was to be released to the public a famous movie star in Hollywood fainted and became suddenly ill. It might not be charitable to say it, but wasn't it a very appropriate time to crash the front page?

A Georgia minister was recently convicted of murdering his son to collect $2,000 insurance with which to recoup market losses. The Greensboro News thinks it "will probably be a lesson to him never to try to beat another insurance company out of anything."

TWO TYPES OF SUICIDE

IN THE THE 30-DAY month of November 72 people were killed in automobile accidents in North Carolina and 32 others were listed as having committed suicide. How much does that lack of meaning that there were over 100 suicides in the State in November? More than two people were killed each day in auto wrecks and more than one took his or her own life each day.

Will the fatality total increase or decrease in December?

YULETIDE SUNDAY

PRACTICALLY ALL Shelby churches will give over some portion of their program Sunday to numbers and thoughts appropriate to the Christmas season. It is a Sunday that should see church attendance almost as large as it is on Easter—and prospects are that there will be record crowds at the various churches day after tomorrow.

In your other holiday plans leave an open date for attending at least one Christmas service.

REPUBLICAN NORTH CAROLINA

WHEN THE REPUBLICANS gather in Chicago next June to nominate a candidate for President, North Carolina will have eight more delegates than in 1928. The Tar Heel State, you remember, broke from the solid Democratic South in 1928 and entered the Republican column.

HUNGRY MOUTHS AND HARD HEARTS

STORIES OF ALMOST UNBELIEVABLE pathos are related each day in the charity campaign headquarters in the basement of the Lineberger building in Shelby. It is there that broken, crushed mothers, perplexed that life is as it is, plead for something for their children to eat.

time!

Think of it. Shelby's charity drive isn't over. Every little contribution will help. Think how many homes the $16 given by the little group of department store clerks will help. The individual gift of each of them was not much perhaps, for they make no big salary themselves, but it helped swell the total, and it sent cheer and hope somewhere.

MESSRS. MORRISON AND BAILEY

A NUMBER OF PEOPLE, always cynical and eternally skeptical, are of the opinion that all a United States Senator has to do in order to attain prominence is to sit still, sleep and snore at the right time. Yet a Raleigh writer, after a visit to Washington, states that the two Tar Heel Senators, Morrison and Bailey, are winning esteem in the opening weeks of the session by keeping their mouths shut except when they really have something to say.

The Raleigh writer, Wade Lucas, informs that Senator Bailey has very little to say and is as yet refusing to affiliate himself with cliques and factions. In doing so he is showing wisdom, according to the smart boys who write of Washington politics. Senator Bailey is, as the thousands who voted for him expected, using his head until he gets "the lay of the ground," but at the proper time Washington will find that the new senator is amply capable of taking care of himself in debate and that what he says, when in debate, comes from an unusual store of information and knowledge and is not merely hot air and so many words.

Lincolnton Man Killed In Mill

Employer's Clothing Becomes Entangled In Overhead Shafting At Plant.

Lincolnton, Dec. 18.—Richard Lackey, 25, assistant miller at the Lincoln Roller Mill, was killed instantly here Wednesday morning at 3:30 o'clock when his clothing became entangled in an overhead shafting, where he was putting a belt on a pulley.

His body was carried around the high speed counter shaft for 30 seconds with such velocity as to break the rafter with the impact of his body. A negro worker, 16 years of age, ran to the motor and stopped the machinery after one leg of Lackey's body had been torn away from his body.

He is survived by his wife and one small child, his parents, Mr and Mrs. Charlie Lackey, two brothers, Clyde and Roy, and two sisters, Misses Lena and Lona Lackey, all of Lincolnton.

Sweet Treasure In Swamps Of Onslow

Raleigh.—The swamp of Onslow county this year have yielded a sweet treasure.

The treasure, County Agent Neill M. Smith reports, was not deer, bear or other elusive wild game.

It was $10,928.80 worth of honey, produced by bees which harvested the nectar from swamp flowers, blossoming trees and shrubs.

This amount of honey was produced by seven bee-keepers in the county who placed hives on swamp edges and kept records of production. Each of the 820 hives averaged 133 pounds of honey with a value of $13.31.

Many other farmers of Onslow and other counties have harvested rich returns from the swamps through bees where no records have been kept. C. L. Sams, extension bee-keeper at N. C. State college, said today.

Man Of 24 Takes 48-Year-Old Bride

Ridgeland, S. C.—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Crosby were on their honeymoon this week. They were married at Walterboro. The bridegroom who came here from Texas, gave his age as 24. The bride who was Mrs. Nena Malphey listed her age at 48. She is the mother of eight children.

Before her first marriage, Mrs. Crosby was Miss Nena Flemings. She is a member of a prominent local family and is engaged in the mercantile business.

ey's constituency to worry about him, it was his reputed willingness to hop into a debate and say his say frankly. But those who know him best realize that he has the necessary qualities of restraint, qualities that blend well with his student-oratoric makeup.

Senator Morrison has never been of the type that could be classed among those afraid to enter a public argument. One of his chief assets is his fighting disposition and the loyalty and sincerity in the cause he fights. Overman's successor may have spoken too often or said too much during his first few weeks in the senate, as some of his critics have intimated, but the criticism developing therefrom may prove very valuable.

94 Millions For Relief In 33 Cities

New York.—The Evening Post says that a survey indicates that 33 cities have contributed approximately $94,500,000 for relief of the unemployed.

TENNESSEE WOULD GIVE DEFICIT AUTOMOBILE RIDE

Nashville, Tenn.—Tennessee would give its anticipated $12,000,000 deficit an automobile ride to a balanced budget under several plans submitted to the legislature.

One bill introduced proposes that the gasoline tax be increased to seven cents a gallon, proceeds of the additional cent to be used to pay interest and principal on a proposed $10,000,000 deficit bond issue.

Another would offer the $10,000,000 of securities to popular subscription and pay them off with the proceeds from a suggested $2 annual tax on each automobile.

Flood Waters Recede In Arkansas Valley

Little Rock, Ark.—Hundreds of families returned to their homes in the south Arkansas lowlands as flood waters from the Ouachita river receded after one of the heaviest rains on record in that section.

Thousands of acres of farm land in the lowlands were flooded with heavy livestock, crop and property damage. The river levels had dropped to 25 feet tonight, five feet below flood level. Rivermen said the flood damage had become negligible.

Public Improvements

"Why did Senator Frost get sore when the Morning Bugle announced he was retiring from politics?" "Well, the make-up man by mistake put the article under the heading 'Public Improvements'."
